

Food Allergy Notice

Skidmore Dining Services makes every attempt to identify ingredients that may cause allergic reactions for those with food allergies. We instruct and train our culinary staff on the severity of food allergies and to safely prepare and serve food. However, despite our efforts, there is always a risk of cross-contact with food allergens or that manufacturers of the commercial foods we use could change their product formulation at any time, without notice.

Anyone concerned with food allergies should be aware of these risks and understand that Skidmore College cannot assume any liability for adverse reactions to foods consumed or items one may come in contact with while eating at any campus dining location.

We encourage anyone with a food allergy to contact a member of the Management Team for additional information and or support.
