SEE-Beyond Award—Resources for Gender Studies Students

Gender studies is an interdisciplinary academic field that draws on feminist, gender, and queer theories and scholarship to analyze the experiences, perspectives, and contributions of women, men, and intersexed people and systems of gender relations in various cultural settings and time periods. The gender studies major is a multidisciplinary program that involves students in the exploration of topics such as the social construction and role of gender within various societies, women's historical and contemporary experiences, and multiple social identities. Completion of the major strengthens students' preparation for further work in fields including gender studies, women's studies, law, public and international affairs, social sciences, the humanities, communications, and the arts.

There are therefore a number of ways that Gender Studies students could construct a SEE-Beyond (Summer Experiential Experience-Learning Beyond the Campus) proposal to support and complement their academic goals. We encourage you to explore the resources (http://www.skidmore.edu/see-beyond/resources/index.php) in related departments and programs and also offer the following, local organizations as possible opportunities to explore. You can search for similar organizations in any region and consider approaching them regarding internship and/or research opportunities. Review the SEE-Beyond site for additional information including past awards, updated application and deadlines: http://www.skidmore.edu/see-beyond/about.php

Crisis Intervention Services: Crisis intervention is a short-term helping process to address the individual/family's emergency needs. The focus is on the resolution of the immediate problem through the use of personal, social, and environmental resources. An individual/family assessment is developed to determine the nature of the crisis and a formalized service plan is negotiated between the family and the crisis intervention worker.

Some common types of crisis situations we address include:
- Housing - pending evictions, landlord/tenant relations, pending utility shut off
- Financial - customers in financial crisis
- Domestic violence
- Drug and alcohol
- Mental Health

Family Development: Family Development is a strength-based, long term helping process in which the individual/family works with EOC on a weekly basis to address reaching their personal goals. The individualized service plan addresses goals such as affordable housing, education and training, financial stability, employment, health, and effective parenting.

Emergency Food Pantry: Every individual and family coming to the food pantry will complete an initial intake form and will be assessed for crisis intervention services. Customers receive a 3-day supply of food which is packed by volunteers. The order is appropriate to family size, dietary needs, and cooking facilities. Assistance is available to bring the groceries to the individual/family's car if needed.

Soup Kitchen: It is open to the general public and the only information collected is the number of meals served each day.

Shelters of Saratoga strives to ensure that every member of our community has safe and affordable housing. We provide shelter, advocacy and referral services for the homeless and those at risk of homelessness. We develop and maintain a range of affordable housing opportunities and resources for low to moderate income families and individuals.

Volunteer Opportunities:
Volunteers are crucial in the effort to fund and operate the shelter. Individual and group volunteers are utilized in a number of ways, including:
- Front desk management
- Office and receptionist duties
- Coordination of fundraisers
- Food drive facilitation
- Group projects (i.e. painting, yard work, meal preparation, maintenance projects)
- Research and data collection
- Qualified board members

Services:
Emergency Shelter:
SOS provides a safe, sober and structured environment where emergency houseguests can gain independence and stability during a maximum stay of 60 days due to high demand. Individuals seeking assistance from SOS have varying degrees of needs and circumstances. During case management meetings, houseguests are referred to appropriate programs and services (e.g. mental health or drug and alcohol services). Employment seeking assistance is provided.

Mobile outreach:
The goal of Mobile Outreach is to make contact and build relationships primarily with chronically homeless individuals. Through the outreach unit, we provide nourishment, basic survival items, respite from the cold. We also offer counseling and encouragement to utilize the shelter or other alternatives to living on the streets to gain stability.

Neighborhood preservation:
Since 1997 Shelters of Saratoga has been designated by the NYS Department of Housing and Community Renewal as an agency that can revitalize local neighborhoods by assisting low-income citizens of Saratoga Springs with housing rehabilitation and repairs which, if not resolved, might cause the homes to become unsafe or uninhabitable, resulting in homelessness. Each year, the Neighborhood Preservation Program (NPP) competes with similar organizations in other municipalities to secure the federal and state funds needed to undertake such work. More than 100 homeowners have been assisted by these programs to date.
A recent addition to the array of NPP services is the Home Safety Inspection Program. Essentially a "homelessness prevention" strategy, this affordable fee-for-service initiative offers homeowners a whole house inspection that seeks to identify structural, design and daily use practices which, if not corrected, could result in serious or even debilitating injury that might require the resident to abandon their home.

Affordable housing:
Shelters of Saratoga owns and manages two properties that contain a total of seven apartments which provide an affordable housing option in downtown Saratoga Springs. The properties, located at 112 Washington Street and 128 Grand Avenue, promote independent, permanent and safe housing. During a tenant’s occupancy, should they be in need of assistance with transportation, nutritional, medical or financial needs, SOS staff will gladly assist them in arranging for support services. As vacancies occur, transitional housing "graduates" will be offered the opportunity to occupy these apartments; however, a waiting list is maintained for income eligible individuals as apartments become available.
