PART ONE ~ PERSONNEL

I. Faculty Recruitment: Skidmore College: Faculty Search Process

This section outlines the major components in the academic search process for tenure-track faculty. These inclusive search practices will vary depending on the department, program, discipline, and nature of the position.

A. Tenure-Track Searches

Tenure-track faculty appointments are the most important resource the College possesses. Given that they represent long-term commitments (30 years or more), assigning tenure lines judiciously is of the utmost importance. If we automatically replace every person who leaves the College (because of retirement or other reasons) with someone who possesses similar expertise, we severely limit our ability to develop new curricular areas, react to developments in disciplines or enrollments, support interdisciplinary programs, deliver all-College requirements, etc. Doing so would mean that the College would have little flexibility in faculty staffing except to add new, tenure-track faculty lines as resources permitted.

To ensure that all requests for new or replacement faculty lines receive equal consideration, departments seeking to obtain a new line or to retain an existing line should submit a proposal as a new initiative request to the Dean of the Faculty and Vice President for Academic Affairs (DOF/VPAA). The proposal should provide a full and well-articulated rationale and will be due in December along with other New Initiative requests. Allocation of lines will occur by the following spring semester in order for recruitment to begin in the early summer.

B. Guidelines for Tenure-Track Line Search Proposals

We encourage departments to develop proposals that address the relevant objectives in the Strategic Plan and that explain how the tenure-track line will address broader cross-disciplinary or emerging areas in our liberal arts curriculum. In thinking strategically about ways to recruit new faculty, it is important to recognize that graduate programs are producing scholars who are increasingly cross-disciplinary and able to address a broad range of curricular areas and/or support disciplinary interests across departments and programs. The DOF/VPAA Office is interested in proposals for tenure-track lines that articulate structural ways to bridge appointments across disciplinary areas. Please note that Part One, Section VI, B and C of the Faculty Handbook provides guidelines for this type of appointment. At the same time, the DOF/VPAA Office recognizes that departments may wish to submit tenure-track proposals that focus on more specific disciplinary or programmatic needs. In all cases, proposals should provide the supporting rationale for a particular approach. Though enrollment projections and historical trends with respect to course enrollments and numbers of majors are not the sole criteria, they should be included in the justification for any tenure-track line request, together with a description of the ways in which the new line will contribute to interdisciplinary programs and all-College requirements.

All new tenure-track appointments are expected to contribute to the First-Year Experience program by teaching a Scribner Seminar on a cyclical basis based on departmental contributions to the program. Since the Scribner Seminars are mostly taught by tenure-track and tenured faculty, these contributions are part of the regular portfolio of courses that all tenure-track and tenured faculty are expected to fulfill and therefore do not constitute exceptional contributions.

Given these parameters, departments submitting proposals for tenure-track lines should clearly indicate which of the following two broad categories are applicable:

1) Positions that will contribute primarily to the programmatic and curricular needs of an individual department or program. These positions will be expected to contribute to the Scribner Seminar program and/or other all-College requirements.

2) Positions that will contribute substantively to the programmatic and curricular goals of more than one department or program. These positions will also be expected to contribute to the Scribner Seminar program and/or other all-College requirements. Proposals in this category should provide supporting documentation from the partnering department or program so that the nature of the cross-disciplinary interaction is evident.

The DOF/VPAA will issue a call for proposals in late September. The deadline for submitting proposals is on or around December 1. Departments will be notified in the spring semester as to whether they will receive permission to search for a tenure-track position.

The proposal should address:

- How the position will contribute to the program's goals and curricular needs of the departments/programs
- How the position will contribute to strategic planning initiatives, interdisciplinary programs, other departments, all-College requirements, etc.
- Records/projections of student enrollments, especially enrollments below 10 at all levels
- History of the number of majors

Exceptions to this policy are failed searches, in which case the approval to search for a new line will be streamlined. However, in non-renewal of third-year reappointment and tenure cases, justifications regarding the line's configuration need to be made and approved, according to the described criteria, by the DOF/VPAA.

1. Developing an Inclusive Search Plan and a Search Committee Process for Tenure-Track Appointments

   a. All tenure-track searches are expected to generate an inclusive pool of candidates such that the College can continue to enhance faculty diversity. Because this effort is an objective of the Strategic Plan, all search plans should address how departments anticipate creating a rich and diverse pool of candidates.

   b. The size and composition of the Search Committee will depend on whether the line is departmentally based or across departments and/or programs.

   c. In the case of departmentally-based tenure-track lines, the Chair of the search committee may be the Department Chair or a senior member of the department.

   - The Search Committee representation from within departments should include:
     o representation of diverse perspectives
     o representation from across the ranks
   - All Search Committees should include at least one member from another department or program, preferably with shared research or teaching interests.
   - All Search Committees will include a diversity advocate who will participate in all stages of the search.
   - Representation from other departments or programs which will broaden the search process also may occur at various stages of the search (review of applications, search committee meetings, off campus interviews, on campus interviews, etc.).

d. In the case of cross-department and/or program tenure-track lines, the Search Committee should include representation from both departments or department and interdisciplinary program involved. The Chair of the Search Committee will be agreed upon by the partnering units.

    - The Search Committee representation from the departments or programs should include:
        - a diversity advocate
        - representation of diverse perspectives
        - representation from across the ranks

e. The charge to the Search Committee should be established by the Department Chair and/or Program Director in consultation with the departmental faculty and the DOF/VPAA. The charge should include the following:

    - A position description
    - A search plan and the scope of the search including the process to ensure a diverse pool of candidates
    - The timeline for the search process
    - A statement of committee values and decision-making processes
    - If necessary, a statement of confidentiality practices for each stage of the search

f. What to include in the Search Plan:

    - The justification for the position (may be a summary of original position request)
    - Position description and candidates' desired qualifications
    - Search Committee membership and roles
    - An advertisement draft
    - Proposed advertisement placements: target location, deadlines, length of placement
    - Conference attendance plans
    - Anticipated start-up or scholarly support costs
    - The timeline should include due dates for applications, for review of CVs and other materials (scholarship, teaching evaluations, etc.), conference dates for off- and on-campus interviews, reference checking, request for additional funding with rationale and completion date of the search

g. Submit the Search Plan to the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs for approval.

h. Once the Search Plan has been approved, submit an Authorization to Employ (ATE). The ATE process is explained in Section G below.

i. Consult with the ADOF about funding of travel costs to conferences (or other expenses) associated with participants from both inside or outside the department or program.

2. Developing a Position Description, Profile and Advertisement

a. A position description should include: roles, responsibilities, functions, expectations, and minimum qualifications of candidates.

b. Position Profile Qualifications: qualities of an ideal candidate, degree requirements, teaching experience, area of specialization, research interests and record, and demonstrated experience that align with department and institutional priorities and goals.

c. The advertisement should be constructed in such a way as to attract a diverse pool of applicants, and submitted in conjunction with the ATE for review and approval by the ADOF and the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance and Workforce Diversity.

d. As part of the ATE process, the Chair submits the ad and its potential placement to the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance and Workforce Diversity for review and the addition of inclusive hiring language.

3. Recruiting an Inclusive Candidate Pool

a. In order to attract a diverse pool of candidates, the Chair is encouraged to target key graduate programs, professional publications, web sites, list serves and print media. The Chair should consider email, direct calls, and contact with professional colleagues or senior administrators at other institutions who may have the potential to assist with the identification of diverse candidates.

b. The DOF/VPAA, in consultation with the ADOF, or designee, and Human Resources, will review and approve the pool of candidates before phone or conference interviews are arranged. Should they determine that the pool is not sufficiently inclusive, they may ask for additional information. If phone interviews are to be conducted, HR recommends that the interview not be recorded.

c. The DOF/VPAA, in consultation with the ADOF, or designee, and Human Resources, will review and approve the final pool of candidates before campus interview invitations are extended. Should they determine that the pool is not sufficiently inclusive, they may ask for additional information and request that additional steps be taken. Please provide CVs of top candidates selected for on-campus interviews along with a summary of the finalists' pool including demographic data before scheduling campus visits.

4. Campus Visits

a. Campus visits may include any and all of the following: departmental seminars; teaching and/or research talks; meetings with students; meetings with other departments or program faculty, as appropriate; with an ambassador; a campus tour; and a community tour.

b. Ambassadors Program: Meetings with particular constituencies or individuals that offer candidates the opportunity to ask questions and explore cultural and social considerations outside the scope of the search are required for tenure-track candidates. Brooke Toma, in the DOF/VPAA office, will identify an Ambassador for each tenure-track candidate. While it is ideal to engage full-time contingent candidates with the Ambassador Program, limits on the number of Ambassadors serving in any given semester varies and such a meeting may not be feasible.

c. All finalists will meet with the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF, or designee, during their on-campus interview.

d. Before constructing the itinerary:

- Contact the DOF/VPAA Office to schedule appointments for interviews with the DOF/VPAA (x 5705), ADOF, and an Ambassador.
- PLEASE SECURE THE APPOINTMENTS WITH THE DOF/VPAA AND ADOF BEFORE DETERMINING THE CANDIDATES' ITINERARIES AS APPOINTMENT TIMES ARE LIMITED.
- NOTE: please be sure to follow recruitment expense guidelines. (See 5 below)
- Email the complete dossier to the DOF/VPAA Office including: cover letter, CV, supporting letters, and the itinerary.

e. It is essential that the candidates feel welcomed and comfortable while on campus.

f. Please review the travel and entertainment guidelines with respect to the recruiting process: https://www.skidmore.edu/financial_services/documents/SKIDMORECOLLEGETRAVELPOLICY.pdf

5. Guidelines for Recruitment

Prior to attending professional association recruiting/interviewing conferences or bringing tenure-track candidates to campus, please contact the DOF/VPAA office to discuss a department search plan. Include in the plan the position particulars, the number of faculty expected to participate at the conference, as well as an estimated budget and timeframe.

Generally no more than two faculty should plan to attend departmental association recruiting conferences to recruit for one position; a maximum of three for two positions. In instances where a conference interview has taken place, the number of candidates brought to campus should be kept to three for tenure-track positions.

For contingent positions in which candidates must travel, it is expected that the top choice be brought in for an interview. If this candidate is suitable, an offer can be made. If this candidate is not suitable, one more candidate can be brought to campus for an interview.

When either the DOF/VPAA and/or ADOF are expected to interview a candidate, an interview date/time must first be secured on the DOF/VPAA's or ADOF's calendar prior to extending an invitation to a candidate.

TRAVEL:
Air travel is appropriate for trips beyond a 200-mile radius from campus. Train transportation is encouraged when cost effective, especially to New York City. Personal automobile is suggested within a 200-mile radius of campus, with expected reimbursement at the current IRS rate per business mile.   Meals, tolls, parking, public transportation expenses including bus, subway and taxi are generally reimbursable (original receipts need to be provided). When possible, please use Skidmore's tax exemption certificate.

Candidates must arrange their own travel. Generally it is more cost-effective for the external constituent to make travel arrangements at their point of origin, and subsequently submit (ORIGINAL) receipts along with an Expense Report to the DOF office (provided by the department) to assure timely reimbursement.

Hiring departments are encouraged to arrange for personal pick up of applicants arriving by plane, train or bus. If this is not possible, contact a local car service, taxi (Saratoga Taxi 518-584-2700) – from Saratoga Springs; Capital Airport Taxi (from Albany International Airport) or rent a car to conclude their trip to Skidmore, whichever is most cost effective. The cost will be reimbursed to the constituent when applicable.

LOCAL LODGING: Departments will need to contact Purchasing Services for a current list of preferred local hotels and Skidmore rates for direct bill to the College. Please advise the candidates that personal entertainment (movies, games, etc.) will not be not reimbursed.

MEALS:
When a candidate is visiting campus, it is suggested that no more than two faculty lunch and/or dine off-campus with each candidate; three if it is on-campus (meal tickets can be used). In the case of students, four is acceptable for lunches with candidates. Please use area restaurants that bill the College directly listed below:

- Boca Bistro

Note that Skidmore College Travel and Entertainment Guidelines apply. Restaurant must be notified AT TIME OF ORDER that bill is direct-bill for Skidmore College. One party must be responsible and CLEARLY sign bill, with department name included.

For all other restaurants not previously established with tax-exemption procedures, the responsible faculty member must use a personal College-corporate credit card. When using the Skidmore College corporate credit card, it is important to show the College's tax exempt purchase certificate; sales tax reimbursement will not be considered under any circumstance.   Reasonable expenses, when interacting with external constituencies, will be reimbursed.

Alcoholic Beverages: Consuming alcohol during recruitment meals is discouraged and will not be reimbursed.

INTERNAL CHARGES:
When using the Dining Hall or Spa, the appropriate RECRUIT SCIP card must be used to assure that charges be applied to the proper account lines. On occasions when students are asked to take candidates to lunch/coffee, the same rule applies. Meal tickets can be purchased in advance using the SCIP Recruit; please contact the DOF/VPAA's office for more information.

MISCELLANEOUS EXPENSES:
Requests for reimbursing candidate and employee expenses must be submitted on either a travel Expense Report form or a Check Request form and SIGNED by the person claiming reimbursement. The paperwork should be forwarded to Sue Blair, in the Dean of Faculty/Vice President for Academic Affairs office for approval. Please make sure original, itemized receipts for all items are included.

6. Interview and Selection. Review legal and illegal questions cited below (page 17).

7. Checking References

    a.   The Search Committee should develop guidelines for phone references or review of reference letters:
        - Identify who makes the calls
        - Determine focus areas for questions
        - Develop questions to learn about past performance
        - Ask the candidate for additional references beyond the list they provide

    b.   Reference checks are completed before an offer is made.

    c.   Candidates should be informed that background checks will also be performed.

    d.   The College is required to comply with federal regulations regarding the employment status of faculty members and, to that end, all faculty members must be legally authorized to work at Skidmore College. The College will support employment-based visa petitions (typically H-1B visa petitions) for qualifying international faculty who are offered tenure-track positions. Please note that it is illegal to ask candidates questions about citizenship or birthplace; however, it is legal to ask candidates if they have a legal right to work in the United States (see table of "Lawful and Unlawful Pre-Employment Inquiries" below).

8. Skidmore Protocol/Guidelines for Making an Offer

    a. Although the DOF/VPAA provides the salary range, the Department Chair conducts the negotiations and makes a final offer. Information regarding financial support for relocation is provided by the DOF/VPAA Office. The timeline for confirmation of the offer by the candidate is determined by the Department Chair but is generally 10 working days. Once the candidate has accepted the offer, the Department Chair must contact Human Resources to initiate the background check and then complete a Contract Request Form, which will prompt the creation of the contract letter. The contract letter will then be prepared by the DOF/VPAA Office and will be sent by the DOF/VPAA (or the Associate Dean in case of non-tenure track lines) in consultation with the Department Chair.

b. Start-up and scholarly support should be negotiated with the DOF/VPAA and must be included in the department's Capital Budget request in the year of the search. Space needs should also be considered, including availability of office space. If there are any needs for facilities modification, those needs should be included in the Capital Budget request.

c. The workload for tenure-line faculty is 18 faculty workload credits per year or an average of 36 workload credits over two years. When faculty take a semester leave (i.e., sabbatical, directing seminar-length study abroad programs), the faculty member is expected to teach the bulk of their workload (i.e., three classes) in the semester of the academic year in which they are teaching on campus. Faculty workload is tracked through Digital Measures so Department Chairs/Program Directors should communicate with the DOF/VPAA office regarding any changes in workload credit for course offerings.

9. Guidelines for Use of Research Funds for New Tenure-Track Faculty

Start-up research funding for new tenure-track faculty is allocated through the Capital Budget process to support the development of research and scholarly activities. Generally, this funding is used to support scholarly and research activities so that junior faculty on tenure-track appointments are able to transition successfully from their graduate or postdoctoral homes to Skidmore.

This research support is to be used primarily to fund:

- equipment
- supplies
- laboratory set-up
- student research assistants
- research participant remuneration
- occasional travel associated with disciplinary research

Faculty allocated start-up funding should develop, in consultation with their Chair, a research plan for expending this support during the first three years of their appointment. It is important to note that these funds are part of the Capital Budget, and thus, they should be expended within the first three years of the initial appointment. In rare and extraordinary instances where institutional circumstances (lab renovation, etc.) may preclude a faculty member from expending her/his start-up funds in a timely manner, a written request with justification to extend the funds to the fourth year may be made to the DOF/VPAA through the Department Chair.

The processing of the start-up funds occurs under the supervision of the Department Chair. In instances when the faculty member is not directly making the purchases, the Department's administrative support person will work with the faculty member in securing the supplies and equipment. This ensures a rapid turn-around on orders by having expenses directly charged to the Department's budget. The Department's administrative support person has the capability of making the necessary changes on the PASS account to ensure that the proper account number is charged. A monthly spreadsheet should be submitted to Sue Blair in the DOF/VPAA Office so that the most current information can be shared with the Director of Financial Planning and Budgeting.

C. How to Request Hiring Faculty in Contingent Appointments

Non-tenure-track faculty, or faculty in contingent appointments, are an important teaching resource at the College, and a number of departments rely on them to adequately deliver their academic program. Regardless, every department, at one time or another, hires non-tenure-track faculty to replace faculty on leave, on phased employment or on personal leaves of absence, or to respond to enrollment pressures. Historically, non-tenure-track faculty hiring responds to departmental or programmatic need. Most faculty on full-time, one-year, non-renewable contracts replace tenured or tenure-track faculty on one-year leaves. It is often the case that departments or programs decide to hire in a contingent position in an area not otherwise represented by the specialization of their permanent faculty. Thus, faculty in contingent appointments open opportunities to broaden and enrich departmental and/or program course offerings.

1. Request for Faculty in Contingent Appointments:

   a. The Chair or Program Director should request approval from the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs as soon as the need arises. Such need may result from enrollment pressures, prospective leaves, or an unforeseen vacancy of an existing line.

   b. The Chair or Program Director will need to make a case for each instance including:

      - How the position will meet the needs of the program
      - How the position will contribute to the College priorities (e.g., interdisciplinary programs, goals of the Strategic Plan, delivery of Scribner Seminars by tenured and tenure-track faculty)
      - Enrollment data

   c. Request(s) for full- and part-time appointments should be discussed with the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs before submitting an Authorization to Employ (ATE). In the case of multiple renewals of part-time faculty, such consultation may be requested by the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs upon submission of the ATE.

2. Search Guidelines for Faculty in Contingent Appointments

   a. Depending upon the length of appointment, the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs may request that the Department Chair/Program Director submit a position description and a search plan (e.g., position description, advertisement copy, timeline for the search, and search process) before approving the ATE.

   b. The Department Chair/Program Director and delegated department/program members will interview all one-year hires. The Chair should consult with the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs before making an offer. It is not necessary for the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs to interview candidates for part-time or one-year positions.

   c. In the case of multiple-year contingent appointments where there are travel costs associated with the campus visit, Departments/Programs will bring their top choice to campus first. If this person is suitable, an offer can be made. If this person is not suitable, a second candidate may be brought in.

      - Contact the DOF/VPAA Office to schedule appointments for interviews with the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs (x 5705).

- PLEASE SECURE THE APPOINTMENTS BEFORE DETERMINING THE CANDIDATE'S ITINERARY - APPOINTMENT TIMES ARE LIMITED.
- Email the complete dossier to the DOF/VPAA Office including: cover letter, CVs, supporting letters, and the itinerary.
- Follow the Guidelines for Recruitment above.

d. The College is required to comply with federal regulations regarding the employment status of faculty members and, to that end, all faculty members must be legally authorized to work at Skidmore College. The College will support employment-based visa petitions (typically H-1B visa petitions) for qualifying international faculty who are offered multiple-year contingent appointments. However, the College does not support employment-based visa petitions for one-year or part-time appointments.. Please note that it is illegal to ask candidates questions about citizenship or birthplace; however, it is legal to ask candidates if they have a legal right to work in the United States (see table of "Lawful and Unlawful Pre-Employment Inquiries" below).

e. The Chair, after consulting with the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs, will make an offer and negotiate salary with the finalist. Once the candidate has accepted the offer, the Department Chair must then contact Human Resources to initiate the background check and then complete a Contract Request Form, which will prompt the creation of the contract letter. The contract letter will then be prepared by the DOF/VPAA Office and will be sent by the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs in consultation with the Department Chair.

D.   Diversity in Hiring: Strategic Considerations[1]

As outlined in our current and previous strategic plans, the College is committed to being a supportive community in which we demonstrate a genuine commitment to diversity and inclusion where our students can develop intercultural understanding and global awareness to thrive in an increasingly interconnected world. If we are to achieve this objective, we must, in the words of Gandhi, "be the change we wish to see in the world." That is, we must first develop within and across our community the knowledge and skills that we seek to impart to our students. As one necessary means to achieving this end, we must recreate Skidmore itself as a more diverse, globally conscious academic community – one that is ever more capable of supporting this crucial educational goal. Indeed, the College we envision is one that truly lives up to the commitment in our "Mission Statement" to educate "a diverse population of talented students who are eager to engage actively in the learning process."

Liberal education itself requires the interplay of the broadest possible spectrum of ideas, viewpoints, and perspectives. We enhance the intellectual and cultural vitality of our community when persons of many different backgrounds and viewpoints draw upon distinct personal histories and engage in honest dialog. Diversity, likewise, links directly with creativity: interactions between disparate perspectives frequently strike the intellectual sparks that herald the emergence of a new idea. Attention to difference in background, cultural perspective, life experience, and worldview is, thus, an essential element within the larger framework of Skidmore's most fundamental and longstanding institutional commitments.

In light of these values, each new search and admissions cycle marks a moment of opportunity and possible transformation for the campus community. So, as we look to each pool of potential students, faculty members, or other employees, we must reaffirm our commitment to increasing representation from specific targeted populations, especially persons of color, those who bring international perspectives, and other members of under-represented groups. We have begun this work and to-date have achieved a measure of success, but we are not yet where we need to be. Accordingly, we must raise our expectations to increase not just our efforts but our achievements, aggressively employing both our creativity and the best practices we can identify, whether from inside or outside our boundaries.

As a matter of policy, Skidmore College will work actively to increase the diversity of our community. We will address imbalances in both student and employee populations and meet our diversity-related objectives by recruiting the best candidates from as broad a pool as possible. And, as always, we will continue to be guided by our fundamental educational values leading our students to develop robust cognitive abilities, enhanced critical and intercultural skills, and an appreciation of their individual and social responsibilities as citizens of the United States and the world. Meeting these objectives is crucial to our achieving new levels of excellence as one of the nation's premier liberal arts colleges.

E.	Legal and Illegal Pre-Employment Inquiries

GUIDE TO LEGAL AND ILLEGAL PRE-EMPLOYMENT INQUIRIES

Introduction
The job interview is an essential component of the hiring process. While the job interview provides the College with an opportunity to assess whether an applicant will be a good fit, asking the wrong question could result in legal liability. Conducting a proper interview is thus imperative to finding the right candidate while avoiding legal liability. This guide is intended to help interviewers avoid discriminatory inquiries during job interviews.

Preparing to interview:
Any interviewer represents the College, and job candidates will perceive any interview encounter as "acceptable college practice". Therefore, as you prepare your interview questions, ask yourself:
- Is the question legal?
- If it is legal, is it appropriate?
- When in doubt, don't ask. Focus on the job-related information.

Please note: Every interaction with the candidate constitutes part of the interview: phone conversations, transport to and from a hotel, meals, walking across campus, etc. Everyone who will have contact with candidates should therefore be made aware of areas of inquiry that are not appropriate or illegal questions that should not be asked.

If a person volunteers information that is not job related, direct the conversation back to job-related topics. Information volunteered by an applicant that is not job-related – especially information about a job applicant's protected status (see below) – should not affect your decision about the applicant's ability to do the job. Refer difficult questions and issues to Human Resources.

Pre-employment Inquiries:
Throughout the interviewing process, it is important for the person(s) conducting the interview to be aware of the anti-discrimination laws with regard to pre-employment inquiries. These laws apply not only to recruitment and hiring, but also to transfers and promotion of employees.

In general, one should avoid any questions that, either directly or indirectly, are likely to elicit information about an applicant's membership in a protected class, including the applicant's race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, marital status, military status, sexual orientation, genetic predisposition, domestic violence victim status or any other status protected by applicable law. Make sure to ask only questions that are bona fide occupational qualifications—BFOQs— questions directly related to a candidate's ability to do the job.

The table of "Lawful and Unlawful Pre-Employment Inquiries" includes questions compiled by the New York State Division of Human Rights and from The Complete Academic Search Manual (Vicker and Royer, 2006).

Note: This list is applicable to any job candidate. Subjects marked by an asterisk () refer to inquiries that are particularly relevant for searches for faculty and administrative professional positions.

After hiring, Human Resources can legally obtain the following:
- A birth certificate copy
- Marital status (married or single only)
- Proof of eligibility to work in the United States (as regulated by Federal Law)
- Photographs
- Physical examination and drug testing, if appropriate, or required by position, can be initiated once an offer is made with continuation of employment contingent upon a satisfactory result
- Social Security card
- Background check, if appropriate, or required by position, can be initiated once an offer is made with continuation of employment contingent upon a satisfactory result

G. Authorization to Employ (ATE) Process for Faculty Appointments

This process should be followed for ALL hires. (Contact the DOF/VPAA Office with any questions at x5705)

1. Authorization to Employ (ATE) and Advertisement

    All requests for tenure-track, multi-year, and one-year appointments MUST include a job description and position justification approved by the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs BEFORE the ATE process begins. An ATE must be completed for every new hire and every n e w contract.

    a. Log onto the PeopleAdmin system from the Human Resources webpage (https://careers.skidmore.edu/hr/sessions/new) and click on the Authorization to Employ (ATE) online link.

    b. Please be sure to complete and provide all necessary information. Once the ATE is completed, submit the completed ATE to the Academic Affairs Coordinator.

        i. Position Information:

        - A full-time teaching load is a minimum of 18 credit hours for the academic year.
        - All full-time, visiting appointments with terminal degrees are designated as "visiting" regardless of rank.
        - The title of "Lecturer" applies to faculty who have not yet completed their terminal degree.
        - Appointments to contingent positions with less than a full-time load will be at the Lecturer level regardless of the terminal degree.

        ii. Position Status:

        - Generally, all faculty appointments are for nine months.
        - Salaries for faculty who were full-time the previous year and will retain full-time status in their next contract will have their pay spread over the summer months in order to enable them to retain their benefits and receive salary over that period.
        - Salary payments during the summer are considered an advance of salary against the following academic year and will be subject to repayment if employment is terminated during the summer months.
        - The second and any subsequent years' salaries will be distributed over 26 pay periods (to include the summer months); thus, payroll checks will appear to be smaller.

        iii. Part-time/Temporary Appointments:

        - The specific courses must be indicated on the ATE. Credit and/or contact hours must be included.

    c. Request for Waiver of a Search. A waiver of a search request must be approved by the DOF/VPAA Office and the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance, and Workforce Diversity. Generally, the waiver may be used only for continuing contracts.

d. Advertising the Position

- Create the advertisement and attach it to the ATE for review.
- Include a diversity statement to attract a diverse pool.
- Indicate the list of publications that will carry the advertisement and indicate deadlines. Check with the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance, and Workforce Diversity to ascertain that the advertisement appears in the appropriate venues to attract a diverse pool of candidates.
- The advertisement will be reviewed by the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs and the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance, and Workforce Diversity to ascertain that it is in compliance with federal regulations.
- The Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance, and Workforce Diversity will add the inclusive hiring language to the ad.
- Please remember that, due to cost, the College prefers online to print advertisement. Consult the DOF/VPAA or the ADOF for Diversity and Faculty Affairs should you have questions.

e. Demographic Data Collection. Applicant pool information is necessary for the institution (please consult the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance, and Workforce Diversity if you have questions regarding this step of the process).

2. Contract Request

Once a candidate has accepted the offer, please notify Human Resources to initiate the background check process and complete the Contract Request Form (CRF). Detailed information concerning the background check policy can be found online at the following link: https://www.skidmore.edu/hr/documents/BackgroundChecksPolicyProcedure.pdf :

a. A Contract Request Form (CRF) MUST be submitted for EVERY Hire. The Link to CRF can be found on the VPAADOF webpage and is as follows: http://www.skidmore.edu/dof-vpaa/forms/faculty-contract-request/index.php

- Provide all requested information as accurately as possible.
- Indicate the appropriate rank of the new hire. If unsure, please contact the DOF/VPAA Office (x 5705) for assistance.
- Include the amounts agreed upon for any transition package and/or tenure-track start-up funds.
- Include any special arrangements in the appropriate text area.
- The DOF/VPAA Office will process the contract letter which will go out no later than 18 working days from the date of request. If an expedited letter is required, please request it on the contract request form.

b. The Contract Letter

a. The DOF/VPAA Office will email a draft of the contract letter to the Department Chair or Program Director. PLEASE READ IT CAREFULLY before giving final approval to ensure that all agreed-upon terms are included.

b. A return date is generally set for two weeks from the date of the contract letter. The DOF/VPAA Office will request the Department Chair or Program Director to follow-up with the candidate if the signed contract letter is not returned by the due date.

c. Academic Professionals. For positions which are hybrid administrative-teaching positions, a detailed job description (DOF PQ) is required.

d. Upon receipt of the signed contract letter, the DOF/VPAA office will forward a copy to the HR office. HR will send the new hire an employment packet via postal mail. To ensure that a Skidmore e-mail address and ID card can be provided prior to the beginning of the first semester, a new hire may request expedited assignment of a Skidmore ID number from the HRIS and Payroll Coordinator (Leslie Miakisz) by providing their date of birth. Once a Skidmore ID number has been issued, IT can set up a new e-mail account and the new faculty member will be able to obtain their Skidmore ID card from the Card Office in Starbuck as soon as they arrive on campus. The HR office can assist with this process.

II. Faculty Evaluation

A. Annual Faculty Evaluation Letters

Evaluation Letters for Tenure-Track Faculty and Faculty in Contingent Appointments are due to the DOF/VPAA office by August 31:

- "All faculty members have the right to receive from their Department Chairs written evaluations of their performance: annually if non-tenured; every three years if tenured, or if Library faculty in more than their sixth consecutive year of continuing service; or more frequently and informally at the individual's request." (Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VII(A)(2), p. 111)

- "Tenured members of the department at the rank of Associate Professor shall normally be evaluated every three years on a schedule determined by the Chair and coordinated with the individual's and the department's sabbatical cycle; tenured members of the department at the rank of Professor shall normally be evaluated every six years on a schedule determined by the Chair and coordinated with the individual's and the department's sabbatical cycle. The DOF/VPAA shall keep a record of tenured faculty members' evaluation cycles, and remind Department Chairs when evaluations are due. The annual letters of evaluation shall be transmitted to the individuals concerned and a copy will be sent to the DOF/VPAA's office no later than August 31 following that academic year. These evaluations are to be kept on file in the individual's department and in the DOF/VPAA's office. Only the individual, the Chair, and the DOF/VPAA may have access to these evaluations. (Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article XII(D)(3), p.143)

B. Guidelines for Individual Faculty Summary of Activities

Individual faculty summary of activities are due annually to the DOF/VPAA office by June 30. Annual Reports are collected in the DOF/VPAA Office and are read by the DOF/VPAA and ADOF over the summer.

In 2017, as part of an initiative of the Office of the DOF/VPAA, Skidmore College began using a web-based activity reporting system called Digital Measures. Digital Measures is designed to help faculty organize, track, and report on their accomplishments in teaching, scholarship/research and creative works, and service. The system can also help prepare materials for departmental reviews, identify cross-disciplinary partnerships among faculty and directing funding opportunities, and demonstrating institutional capacity in grant applications. Many Skidmore faculty are also actively involved in engaging students in a variety of exciting and meaningful ways. It is increasingly important for faculty to document this important work so that it is appropriately acknowledged in annual activity reports, tenure and promotion documents, and external reports to various constituencies and accrediting bodies.

C. Third Year Reappointment Cases for Tenure-Track Faculty

"An appointee will be evaluated in the third year according to departmental or program procedures." (Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VIII (D) (1) (a), p.119)

All materials shall be submitted electronically using the faculty member's academic portfolio on Blackboard (see Appendix H for further details on the creation and maintenance of faculty academic portfolios). The academic portfolio for third-year reappointment cases for tenure-track faculty should include:

1. Letters: Each clearly indicating support or lack thereof.

   - The Department or Program Personnel Committee (PPC) Chair must submit, at a minimum, a consensus letter signed by all faculty eligible to write on behalf of the candidate as indicated by department or program procedures that summarizes (1) the department's or program's overall recommendation, positive or negative, and (2) the evidence supporting the recommendation to the Associate Dean of the Faculty (faculty affairs) on or before January 15[2] of the appointee's third year.
   - If faculty members eligible to write on the candidate's behalf disagree with the consensus letter and therefore cannot sign it, faculty members may write an individual letter to the Associate Dean of the Faculty (faculty affairs) on or before January 15 with their recommendation and a summary of the supporting evidence for the recommendation.
   - The department or program must present clear and decisive evidence concerning the individual's professional quality and the department's or program's need for the candidate's particular abilities in its projected programs.
   - Program Directors, whenever pertinent, will also write letters.

2. Student evaluations: both quantitative evaluations and qualitative evaluations (please make sure that all copies of the long forms are legible).

3. Documentation of professional activity whether scholarly or creative, such as publications, conference papers, tapes, reviews (by or about candidate), slides, etc. The Chair's letter should explain the candidate's professional activity and how it should be or/has been evaluated (e.g., professional status of journals, conferences, galleries, etc.)

4. Teaching and research or scholarly statements from the candidate are desirable.

5. Copies of annual and semi-annual summary of activities and reports.

D. Stop Tenure Clock Policy. See Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VIII (E) (4) (d), p. 126.

[2] Specific dates determined by ATC and published in its annual Operating Code and Calendar.

E. Suggested Guidelines for Writing Letters in Reappointment and Tenure Cases

The Faculty Handbook mandates participation of certain faculty in reappointment and tenure cases. Moreover, other members of the faculty and administration are often invited to provide recommendations to the DOF/VPAA or to the Appointments and Tenure Committee (ATC). The following extracts from the Faculty Handbook make clear who is required/invited to participate in these personnel cases.

1. Third-Year Reappointment

   - The Department or Program Personnel Committee (PPC) must submit, at a minimum, a consensus letter signed by all faculty eligible to write on behalf of the candidate as indicated by department or program procedures that summarizes (1) the department or program's overall recommendation, positive or negative, (2) the evidence supporting the recommendation to the Associate Dean of the Faculty (faculty affairs) on or before January 15 of the appointee's third year, and (3) departmental or programmatic need. (Please consult the ATC calendar to be certain of all dates)
   - If faculty members eligible to write on the candidate's behalf disagree with the consensus letter and therefore cannot sign it, faculty members may write an individual letter to the Associate Dean of the Faculty (faculty affairs) on or before January 15 with their recommendation and a summary of the supporting evidence for the recommendation. (Please consult the ATC calendar to be certain of all dates.)
   - The department or program must present clear and decisive evidence concerning the individual's professional quality and the department's or program's need for the candidate's particular abilities in its projected programs.

2. Tenure

   The ATC has the responsibility of securing information with respect to the candidate's teaching competence, professional accomplishment, and service to the academic community. Sources of this information include letters from:

   a. Full-time faculty and those holding shared appointments in the department concerned (in the ranks defined in the Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VI, (A) [Tenure-Track Appointments] and (E) [Non-Tenure-Track Appointments], (2b) [Artist- or Writer-in- Residence] who are in at least their third year of full-time service at Skidmore.

   b. Department Chair.

   c. Program Directors (where appropriate).

   d. Sources suggested by the candidate under consideration, including Administrative Officers, the Coordinator or Director of a program, or Chair of a department in case the candidate has taught in an interdisciplinary program or department other than the one in which he or she holds an appointment.

3. Individuals writing letters of evaluation for the candidate shall clearly state whether they do or do not recommend tenure and why, according to the criteria for continued service (as found in Part One, Article VIII (A) of the Faculty Handbook).

4. The Chair, in the letter of evaluation for the candidate, shall clearly state whether the department does or does not recommend for tenure and why, according to the criteria for continued service. Furthermore, the Chair shall clearly state the extent to which a candidate's particular abilities will continue to be needed, as far as the department's future can be projected.

5. While reappointment letters are directed to the DOF/VPAA, and letters in tenure cases are addressed to the ATC, there are some general points to consider which may help faculty, and particularly Department Chairs, in writing effective letters.

6. Letters should help the DOF/VPAA and ATC to understand the case by explaining the nature of the candidate's teaching, research, and service. Every field has its idiosyncrasies as does every personnel case; moreover, while members of ATC and the DOF/VPAA have a great deal of experience in evaluating personnel cases, they are unlikely to have specific expertise in the candidate's field, especially since no member of ATC may deliberate about a case from his or her own department. Therefore, the most useful letters place the candidate's record in the context of his/her field as well as in the context of the work of the department and the college.

7. Nearly every candidate has both strong and weak points in his or her file. An effective letter offers an honest evaluation of both the candidate's strengths and weaknesses and shows how such an evaluation leads to either a positive or a negative recommendation.

8. The "Evaluative Criteria for Continued Service" (See Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VIII) provides the standards established by the faculty against which all faculty must be measured. But while the Faculty Handbook separates these criteria into the categories of teaching, scholarship, and community service, the work of some candidates may not be so tidily divided. Effective letters help the DOF/VPAA and ATC understand a candidate's case by demonstrating how a particular file should be read. The most valuable letters will achieve many of the following goals; and will address both the strengths and, equally importantly, the weaknesses of a candidates file.

   a. TEACHING. Effective letters will:

   • Characterize the candidate's teaching effectiveness. ATC must rely on departmental letters, student evaluations and material that candidates submit (e.g., syllabi, statement of teaching philosophy, etc.) to gain a sense of a candidate's teaching profile. An assessment of a candidate's teaching, above and beyond a reading of the student evaluations, is a necessary part of the file. Illustrations drawn from peer visits or other assessment tools are extremely important. While numerical summaries from the short forms and excerpted comments from the long forms are sometimes helpful, please bear in mind that each member of ATC reads every teaching evaluation and that, therefore, such summaries and excerpts should also be supported by interpretation from a departmental perspective.

   • Reflect on the role the faculty member has played in the department and the college. Characterize the kinds of courses a candidate has offered. If the candidate has taught mostly lower- or upper-level courses, explain why. Say whether the courses are required or electives, whether they serve the department, the college, or both. Show how the candidate's teaching contributes to the departmental and college curriculum. Has the candidate offered interdisciplinary courses or contributed to the FYE Program? (Where appropriate, the Faculty Handbook mandates that Program Directors and Department Chairs will consult with each other.) Has the candidate designed non-traditional approaches to teaching? Has the candidate made use of the web? What new courses has the candidate developed?

- Reflect on the faculty member's development as a teacher. ATC is most interested in the trajectory of the candidate's development. What is the long story that course evaluations and peer visits reveal? If the candidate has experienced difficulties in some course or courses, account for that. Indeed, account for anything that might strike a stranger's eye as odd or different.

b. SCHOLARSHIP. Effective letters will:

- Place the candidate's scholarly, creative, or professional work within the context of the candidate's field. How does the candidate's work contribute to the field? What is distinctive about the discipline that ATC might need to know in order to evaluate the candidate's work? What is unique to the candidate's professional work that ATC might not understand (for instance the role of patents, grants, performances, exhibitions etc.).

- Characterize the quality of the journals, presses, professional, or creative outlets where the candidate's work has appeared. Say how the discipline values books or juried articles, museum exhibits or regional concerts. Explain the role the candidate has had in jointly produced work. Explain the significance of being first, second, or nth author/investigator on a particular project or grant.

- Explain what aspects of the candidate's professional work, if any, might be difficult or impossible for the department to evaluate. To what sources in the file should ATC, the DOF/VPAA and/or ADOF look for an evaluation of this work?

- Place the candidate's scholarly, creative or professional profile within the context of the candidate's career at Skidmore. Reflect on the advantages and disadvantages of doing a particular kind of work in a small college setting and on the value of the candidate's work to Skidmore. Speak about collaborative research with students. Comment on financial support, facilities, time constraints, released time (including pre-tenure sabbatical), and interdisciplinary work or work with colleagues at other institutions.

c. SERVICE. Effective letters will:

- Place the candidate's service within the context of his/her career.

- Characterize the nature and importance of the candidate's service. Point to particular achievements in the department or college and to examples of leadership. Characterize the kinds of service the candidate has done: mostly curricular or mostly administrative; mostly with students or mostly with colleagues. Characterize the candidate's work as an advisor.

- Bring to light any as yet unacknowledged service to the profession, the department, or the college. Be particularly aware of the kind of service that does not appear on a CV: the ability to move a departmental discussion forward or even to stop it in its tracks; the mentoring of peers or younger colleagues. Be aware, too, that while service on committees is a very important aspect of citizenship, service should not be construed only as committee work.

9. NOTE FOR CHAIRS: The Chair's letter plays an extremely important role in a reappointment or tenure case. This letter should not only respond to the points and questions raised above, but present the department's position on a case. If a department generally agrees about the evaluation of a candidate, the chair must still account for, and attempt to explain, the dissonant voice(s). If a recommendation is genuinely mixed, again, the Chair needs to offer ATC and the DOF/VPAA a context for understanding the difference in perspectives. Ignoring negative (or positive) voices only provokes more questions for those reading the file. Moreover, ignoring student complaints about teaching, or a thin publication record, or a service category that is all but empty suggests that the Chair thinks that ATC or the DOF/VPAA will not notice what the Chair does not point out. On the contrary, ATC will struggle all the more over a case that has not been comprehensively presented by the Department Chair.

F. Procedures for Evaluation of Program Directors and Faculty Assigned to Programs

1. If the candidate is tenure-track or tenured in a department, the Department Chair shall take into account the candidate's contributions to the program in writing the annual (or in the case of tenured faculty, triennial) letter of evaluation. (For tenure–track candidates in a program, see Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VI, Section B [Fully Dedicated Tenure-Track Lines in ID Programs].)

2. In all personnel decisions, the Department Chair shall consult in writing with the faculty who have been active in the program during the last two years to gather evidence on the performance of the candidate in the areas of teaching, scholarly, professional or creative activity, and community service.

3. In the case of programs with personnel committees, such as Gender Studies, the Department Chair shall consult the personnel committee. In the case of programs without personnel committees, the candidate's Department Chair shall solicit letters from faculty in the program.

4. The faculty referees shall in all cases indicate in writing clear support or lack of support for the candidate on the basis of his or her work in the program.

5. For all personnel decisions forwarded to the DOF/VPAA and to the ATC, the Department Chair will attach the written statements of those reviewing the candidate's contributions to the program. Chairs and referees shall ensure that all materials are forwarded to the DOF/VPAA and to the ATC by the announced deadlines.

6. With the exception of Interdisciplinary Programs which have tenure-track lines, it is the responsibility of the Department Chair to evaluate the candidate's contributions to the program and to refer to it in his/her letter to the DOF/VPAA and/or the ATC. It is the responsibility of the Director for the ID Program to provide reviews and evaluations to tenure-track faculty in the Program.

G. Overview of Faculty Evaluation

1. First-year evaluation is conducted according to established departmental procedures. The Chair/Program Director will write an annual review letter.

2. Second-year year: Annual evaluation letter.

3. Third-year review is completed at the end of the first semester of the third year, and includes thorough evaluation of:

   • teaching - student evaluations (long and short forms), and peer classroom visitation
   • professional work
   • community service

   Chairs or Program Directors forward their signed consensus letter to the DOF/VPAA in January. If the DOF/VPAA disagrees, the case goes to ATC.

4. Fourth year: Annual evaluation letter.

5. In the fifth year[3], tenure review begins and it includes thorough evaluation of:

   • teaching - same as third year
   • professional work
   • community service

6. In the sixth year, the tenure case is concluded and presented to the ATC in the fall semester.

7. Promotion: Guidelines for the evaluation of faculty for advancement in rank are contained in the Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VIII, (F). See also the Promotion Committee's Operating Procedures and the Model Personnel Policies (Part V and VI) in Appendix C of this handbook. It is important to note that promotions for non-tenure-track faculty are considered on the same calendar as promotions for tenure-track faculty (see PC Calendar).

III. Retirement Process

Faculty or department staff generally retire at the end of a semester. While most choose to retire at the end of the spring semester, you may have notification of a fall retirement also. Any non-faculty members in your department may, of course, choose any time of the year to retire.

In order to facilitate a successful transition to retirement, the following guidelines are recommended:

• Ask the faculty or staff member to submit her/his retirement notification in writing.
• Forward one copy to the DOF/VPAA Office and one copy to Human Resources.
• Encourage the faculty member or employee to discuss his/her benefits with Human Resources who will guide her/him through the process of requesting retirement payments, social security, and any other eligible benefits.

[3] Leaves for untenured faculty will require appropriate adjustment of the process

- You should be aware that if the faculty member is retiring at the end of the spring semester, his/her last paycheck could be either in May or June; if it is at the end of fall semester, his/her last paycheck may be at the end of November or beginning of December. Human Resources will be able to indicate the actual date.

IV. Phased Employment Guidelines

Based on a recommendation from the Department and with approval from the DOF/VPAA, a faculty member may participate in the phased employment program, which can be reviewed at https://www.skidmore.edu/hr/documents/PhasedEmploymentProgram.pdf for eligibility and benefit coverage information.

Although the Phased Employment Policy is intended for regular employees, full-time, temporary faculty are eligible to apply for one year of phased employment if they meet the eligibility criteria described in the Phased Employment Policy (with the exception of the criterion of being a regular employee). The process for applying for phased employment for temporary employees is the same as for regular employees. Department Chairs and Program Directors need to be aware that the courses that a temporary faculty member on phased employment will no longer be teaching will not be replaced.

Please note that there is no guarantee that a faculty line will return to a department following a retirement or a resignation. Remember that the position request is submitted to the DOF/VPAA and that a justification of need based on programmatic, curricular and institutional goals is necessary for all tenure-track and contingent position requests.

V. Exit Policy

Skidmore College standards for disposition of equipment, software, books, DVDs or other media, and management of research materials when a faculty member terminates employment at the College.

A. General

1. Offices should be vacated no later than the last day of employment specified in the employee's contract (typically May 31).

2. Keys should be returned to either the Administrative Assistant in the Department or the DOF/VPAA office no later than the last day of employment specified in the employee's contract.

3. For faculty in continuing appointments, salary received during the summer months are an advance toward the next year's contract. Therefore, if a faculty member with a continuing appointment leaves during the summer (after June 1), salary received as an advance must be paid back to the College.

4. Unspent startup funds go back to the College.

5. Syllabi that individual faculty produce while at the College are the intellectual property of that faculty member.

6. Prior to the last day of employment specified in the employee's contract: (1) all active IRB and IACUC protocols must be closed out and terminating reports reviewed and approved by the applicable compliance committee chair; (2) hazardous chemical, biological and radioactive materials held in the terminating employee's laboratory must be reported to the Office of Environmental Health and Safety for Academic Affairs and appropriate plans made for the transfer, reassignment or disposal of those materials; and (3) all required progress and technical closeout reporting on externally funded projects must be submitted to the Office of Sponsored Research and to the cognizant funding agency in accordance with the grantor's terms and conditions of award.

7. Human subject research records of active Skidmore IRB protocols containing direct or indirect identifiable subject information, including the study code key and demographic information that could reasonably identify a subject, must remain at Skidmore or at the institution/facility specified on the approved IRB research protocol. Requests to move the data must be approved by the Skidmore IRB via a formal amendment.

8. Human subject research records of closed Skidmore IRB protocols, including identifiable subject information, may be removed from the Skidmore premises without Skidmore IRB approval; however, they must be retained in a manner that will preserve the level of confidentiality promised to subjects.

B. Equipment

  1. Purchased from Appointment Initiation or other institutional funding

     Equipment purchased in whole or in part with College funds (such as start-up funds, FDC awards, capital budget appropriations, departmental general appropriations or departmental restricted funds) must remain at the College, unless the department chair certifies after general notice that it is of no use to anyone at the College. In that case, it may be considered for transfer to the terminating faculty member's new institution. In some cases, the new institution will be asked to pay a fair market value for the equipment purchased with the College funds.

  2. Purchased from grant sources

     In general, equipment purchased with funds from a sponsored project account becomes the property of the College when it is delivered. There are, however, some sponsored agreements under which the sponsor retains title to any equipment purchased with sponsor funds.

     When a principal investigator moves to another institution and requests transfer of equipment to that institution, the following standards will apply:

     - Equipment purchased with federal funds may not be transferred to a for-profit institution.
     - If an active grant is being transferred to another academic institution, equipment purchased on that grant may be transferred to the new institution in accordance with the terms and conditions of the grant.
     - If a transfer of equipment has been requested, a detailed list of such equipment (including laboratory equipment, office equipment, computing equipment, etc.) must be prepared and approved for transfer by the department chair. Once the department chair has determined there is no interest among other members of the College faculty, the departmentally approved list must then be submitted to the Purchasing Office and to the DOF/VPAA Office for approval. The list must show the source of funds used to purchase each item of equipment.

- Equipment funded by a grant which is no longer active will be released only if the department chair certifies that the equipment is not needed by other Skidmore investigators in any department in the conduct of research or instruction at the College.

C. Software

Software purchased by the departing Skidmore faculty member in whole or in part with College funds (such as start-up funds, FDC awards, departmental general appropriations or departmental restricted funds) may be transferred to the terminating Skidmore faculty member unless the faculty member's department elects to retain such materials.

Software licensed to the College may not be retained by or transferred to the terminating Skidmore faculty member. Software licensed to the College may not be used by a departing Skidmore faculty member subsequent to the termination of their contract.

D. Books, DVDs, Other Media

Books, DVDs or other media purchased by the terminating Skidmore faculty member in whole or in part with College funds (such as start-up funds, FDC awards, departmental general appropriations or departmental restricted funds) may be transferred to the terminating Skidmore faculty member unless the Library elects to add such items to the College collection or the faculty member's department elects to retain such materials.

Books, DVDs or other media purchased from grant sources may be transferred to the terminating Skidmore faculty member in accordance with the terms and conditions of the grant.

E. Research Materials

1. Data Sets

Data sets acquired from third parties under a transfer or other agreement must be identified in writing to the DOF/VPAA Office. Such data sets may be transferred to the departing Skidmore faculty member or to his/her new institution if allowed under the terms and conditions of the governing agreement. Typically, such agreements do not allow for the transfer of such data sets either to the terminating faculty member or his/her new institution.

2. Materials acquired under Transfer Agreements

Research materials acquired from third parties under a transfer or other agreement must be identified in writing to the DOF/VPAA Office. Typically, such agreements do not allow for the transfer of such research materials either to the terminating faculty member or his/her new institution. If transfers are allowed, a formal agreement for transfer will need to be executed. These documents may also require review and approval by the original supplier under the terms of the parent transfer agreement.

The faculty member bears the expense of shipping any research materials (e.g., books, samples, etc.) to the new institution.

For hazardous materials or other materials covered under Skidmore's biosafety policy, the Academic Safety Officer is available to assist with packing of such materials to promote safety and integrity of the materials.

3. Research Data on Externally Funded Projects

a. When a faculty member (other than the Principal Investigator) with senior personnel status is engaged in an externally funded research project on which a Skidmore faculty member is the PI and terminates employment at the College, s/he may take a copy of research data, laboratory notebooks, etc. on which s/he have worked and for which s/he was responsible, subject to relevant confidentiality restrictions. Original data, however, must be retained at Skidmore by the project's Principal Investigator.

b. When a faculty member (other than the Principal Investigator) with senior personnel status is engaged in an externally funded research project in a sub awardee/consortia partner capacity and terminates employment at the College, s/he may retain copies of the original research data, laboratory notebooks, etc. on which s/he have worked and for which s/he was responsible, subject to relevant confidentiality restrictions. A complete and exact copy of all research data must be left at the College. In addition, the faculty member must agree to retain the original data for the retention period specified by the parent grantee and awarding entity. The terminating faculty member further agrees to provide the College with access to the original data as well as other individuals or entities having a compelling need for access. A compelling need would primarily be related to the administrative adjudication of issues related to the research collaboration, lawsuits, intellectual property disputes, sponsor inquiries and audits, and cases of research misconduct.

c. When a faculty member who is a research PI on an externally funded grant terminates employment at the College, the institution and faculty member shall enter into an agreement over whether the faculty member may take the original data or a complete and exact copy of the data with them. If the faculty member takes the original data, a copy must be left at the College. In addition, the faculty member must agree to retain the original data for the required retention period (a period to be specified in the agreement) and to provide the College with access to the original data as well as other individuals or entities having a compelling need for access. A compelling need would primarily be related to the administrative adjudication of issues related to the research collaboration, lawsuits, intellectual property disputes, sponsor inquiries and audits, and cases of research misconduct in which access to the original data is not just preferred, but required. (See: https://ori.hhs.gov/education/products/rcradmin/topics/data/tutorial_11.shtml)

d. If the terminating faculty member's new institution claims an ownership interest in the original data, then the investigator shall obtain from his/her new institution an agreement that guarantees: 1) the acceptance of custodial responsibilities for the data, and 2) Skidmore's access to the data, should that become necessary.

e. Faculty members should note that many contractual and grant award agreements require the sponsor's consent before research data are transferred or removed from the College. Before transferring the original research data, the Principal Investigator is responsible for ensuring that any special conditions stated in the grant, contract, or agreement are met and for providing documentation that such special conditions have been met.

VI. Appointment and Review of Department Chairs

A. Criteria for Appointment

The Appointee:

- Shall normally hold the rank of Associate or Full Professor.
- Should have extensive and successful teaching experience.
- Should have qualities of personal and professional leadership and should have demonstrated evidence of administrative skill.

B. Procedures for Appointment

1. Appointments of Department Chair are made by the DOF/VPAA in consultation with the members of the department concerned.

2. Appointments to the Chair are for two years and are renewable; four to eight years is the normal length of service. A Chair (tenured or untenured) may not be removed as Chair during the course of an academic year except for cause.

C. Procedures for Review

1. Department Chairs shall be reviewed once every four years with an informal interim review in the second year. In the event of an intervening sabbatical or leave of absence, the review will take place in the fifth year. More frequent reviews may take place at the request of the Chair or the DOF/VPAA. Untenured faculty serving as Chairs at the time of review for reappointment or for tenure shall be reviewed separately as Department Chairs.

2. The review of a Department Chair shall be conducted by the DOF/VPAA. Each member of the department will be requested to write an evaluation to the DOF/VPAA. All such statements shall be confidential.

3. Student majors in the department may also be involved in the review of Chairs, and each department will determine the process of student involvement.

D. Obligations Pertaining to Department Chairs

1. LEADERSHIP: The Chair is responsible to the College, to the department, and to the administration for the effective leadership of the department. The Chair is responsible to the department for the effective and accurate representation of its interests and concerns to the administration. Chairs should strive to recruit and maintain faculty who demonstrate excellence both in teaching and professional accomplishment. They should coordinate and stimulate participation in departmental affairs by all faculty and, where appropriate, students, and strive to keep departmental morale high. They should, moreover, maintain sensitivity to the world outside their disciplines and the College, and continually attempt to keep their departments aware of, and responsive to, the larger educational and social contexts in which they function.

2. CURRICULUM: The Chair, in consultation with other department members, is responsible for the department's course offerings and major requirements. To the greatest extent possible, faculty should be permitted to teach the courses they prefer in the areas of their particular expertise, providing that student needs are met. Scheduling of courses and determination of examination policies should reflect the wishes of the department members teaching those courses. The Chair should take into account the needs of the students as well as the discipline in the shaping of the curriculum. The Chair has the primary responsibility for encouraging faculty to advise students conscientiously and carefully and also to keep library and resource materials current.

3. PERSONNEL: The Chair is responsible for seeking out highly qualified candidates for vacancies in the department. An important factor in their selection should be their competence and willingness to teach according to the specified needs of the department and the College. The Chair establishes search and selection procedures in consultation with the DOF/VPAA, ADOF, the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance, and Workforce Diversity, Program Directors (where appropriate), and members of the Department. The Chair makes recommendations on appointments (Part One, Article VI), reappointments (Part One, Article VIII), promotions (Part One, Article VIII), tenure (Part One, Article VIII), sabbaticals and leaves (Part One, Article IX), and salary increments to the DOF/VPAA, the Faculty Development Committee (where appropriate) and the ATC (where and when required).

   The Chair is responsible for coordinating and making equitable the teaching loads of the members of the department according to standards (including those governing course releases) administered by the DOF/VPAA. The Chair renders guidance and assistance to faculty in every way possible. The Chair keeps untenured faculty apprised of their progress through the tenure system through mentoring and annual letters of evaluation. Each year non-tenured faculty meet with their respective Chairs to discuss the content of their annual letters of evaluation. Tenured members of the department at the rank of Associate Professor shall normally be evaluated every three years on a schedule determined by the Chair; tenured members of the department at the rank of Professor shall normally be evaluated every six years. The DOF/VPAA's Office shall keep a record of tenured faculty members' evaluation cycles, and remind Department Chairs when evaluations are due. The annual letters of evaluation shall be transmitted to the individuals concerned and a copy sent to the DOF/VPAA office no later than August 31 following that academic year. These evaluations are to be kept on file in the individual's department and in the DOF/VPAA Office. Only the individual, the Chair, and the DOF/VPAA may have access to these evaluations.

4. COMMUNICATION: The Chair should foster effective intra- and inter-departmental communications among students, faculty and administrators, making clear to these constituencies the nature of all departmental policies and procedures. Department meetings should be held regularly, and department members should be informed of discussions at academic staff meetings. The Chair is responsible for keeping the catalogue description of the department current and accurate, and is responsible for the triennial departmental report to the DOF/VPAA.

5. SUPPORT: The Chair shall seek to provide faculty members with adequate office space and working facilities and, in consultation with the DOF/VPAA, shall make necessary budgetary provisions for necessary pedagogical tools, duplicating equipment, field trips, and proper administrative support and student assistance.

VII. Appointment, Review, and Evaluation of Program Directors

A. Criteria for Appointment.

The Appointee:

- Shall normally hold the rank of Associate, or Full Professor in a department.
- Should have extensive and successful teaching experience.
- Should have qualities of personal and professional leadership and should demonstrate evidence of administrative skill.

B. Procedures for Appointment

1. Appointment of a Program Director is made by the DOF/VPAA in consultation with the teaching faculty in the program and (when applicable) the appropriate Department Chair.

2. A Director (tenured or untenured) may not be removed as Director during the course of an academic year except for cause.

C. Procedures for Review

1. Program Directors shall be reviewed by the DOF/VPAA once every four years with an informal interim review in the second year. In the event of an intervening sabbatical or leave of absence, the review will take place in the fifth year. More frequent reviews may take place at the request of the DOF/VPAA. Untenured faculty serving as Directors at the time of review for reappointment or for tenure shall be reviewed separately as Program Directors.

2. The review of a Program Director shall be conducted by the DOF/VPAA. Each active member of the program will be requested to present a written evaluation to the DOF/VPAA. All such statements shall be confidential.

3. Student majors in the department may be also involved in the review of Chairs and Program Directors; each department or program will determine the process for student involvement.

D. Obligations Pertaining to Program Directors

1. LEADERSHIP: The Director is responsible to the College, to the program, and to the administration for the effective leadership of the program. The Director is responsible to the program for the effective and accurate representation of its interests and concerns to the administration. Directors should strive to promote, and coordinate faculty participation in the program. They should coordinate and stimulate participation in program affairs by all faculty and, where appropriate, students, and strive to keep program morale high. They should, moreover, maintain sensitivity to the world outside their programs and the College, and continually attempt to keep their programs aware of and responsive to the larger educational and social contexts in which they function. Directors should ensure that the interdisciplinary nature of the programs remain central to the mission of the College.

2. CURRICULUM: The Director, in consultation with other program members, is responsible for the program's course offerings and requirements. Directors, in consultation with teaching faculty and Department Chairs, will coordinate the scheduling of courses. The Director should take into account the needs of the students as well as the program in the shaping of the curriculum. The Director has the primary responsibility for advising students in the program and also keeping library and resource materials current.

3. PERSONNEL: The Director, in consultation with appropriate Department Chairs, is responsible for seeking out highly qualified candidates to teach in the program. The Director renders guidance and assistance to faculty in the program. The Director has access to teaching faculty's curriculum vitae, syllabi and teaching evaluations for courses in the program. The Director consults with the appropriate Department Chair when teaching faculty in the program are eligible for reappointment, tenure, and promotion.

4. COMMUNICATION: The Director should foster effective intra- and inter-program communications among all students, faculty, and administrators, making clear to these constituencies the nature of all program policies and procedures. The Director is responsible for keeping the catalogue description of the program current and accurate and for the annual program report to the DOF/VPAA.

5. SUPPORT: The Director, in consultation with the DOF/VPAA and the appropriate Department Chair(s), if relevant, shall make necessary budgetary provisions for teaching aids such as films, records, slides, videotapes, software, etc., for duplicating equipment, for field trips, and for proper secretarial and student assistance.

PART TWO ~THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

I. Guidelines for Department/Program Triennial Reports

Department/Program triennial reports are due to the DOF/VPAA Office by June 30. The report should contain a summary of:

- Opportunities and challenges facing the department or program
- Enrollment patterns and/or pressures and curricular concerns
- Efforts to support the Strategic Plan, as appropriate
- Curricular innovations - both proposed and those in progress
- Personnel changes and/or anticipated changes
- Collective professional accomplishments, service, and activities of faculty, including external grants awarded or submitted, if applicable
- Space innovations/challenges
- Major events, lectures, and/or workshops
- Brief overview of assessment work from the previous three years and plans for the upcoming year.

A reminder will be sent by the DOF/VPAA Office to Department Chairs and Program Directors in the beginning of May. Triennial Reports are collected in the DOF/VPAA Office and are read by the Dean/Associate Dean over the summer. Any questions or concerns will be addressed during the summer months.

II. Academic Assessment at Skidmore College

Think of some of the real questions you have about your curriculum and about how well your students are doing: How strong are our students' research skills? Can our students apply what they are learning outside of class? How motivated are our students to learn on their own? If our students can choose from a wide variety of electives, are they leaving our program with the same skills and knowledge, or does what they learn vary greatly from student to student? By the time our students are seniors, are they ready for their final courses or do some seem to have gaps in what they have learned? Do our introductory courses attempt to cover too much? Should we revise the sequence of our courses to enable students to learn more effectively? A good many of our courses are now four credits instead of three—do our students learn more or in greater depth as a result? These questions – and others like them – reflect the real concerns that faculty have about the effectiveness of their curricula. Finding answers to such questions is one of the most important roles for assessment.

A. Annual Assessment Report

The annual assessment report is to be sent to the DOF/VPAA, the Faculty Director of Assessment . The components of the report include (1) the learning objectives or goals of the program, (2) the method or methods used to assess each learning objective, (3) how, when, and by whom the results will be analyzed and acted upon, and (4) the results of the most current assessments and curricular changes based upon those results. Assessment plans may evolve from year to year based upon the experiences of the faculty with assessments. For a format of the annual report, go to the Skidmore assessment website: https://www.skidmore.edu/assessment/programs/index.php.

B.   The Purpose

What do we really want to know about our students? The questions you ask will vary from program to program, whether they deal with students learning specific content, skills or attitudes, or perhaps with issues of student motivation and ability to monitor their own learning. Our assumption is that the key assessment questions are best known by the program faculty themselves, for they are the ones who encounter students on a daily basis, whether in their classes or outside. But finding ways to answer them is key to our success.

Academic assessment seeks to answer the broad question, "What and how well do our students learn what we are attempting to teach them?" As such, academic assessment is not designed to evaluate individual faculty or even individual courses. It is designed to evaluate programs as a whole, such as academic majors, and to determine where the programs might be strengthened in order to improve students' ability to learn. The primary audience for academic assessments is not administrators or accrediting agencies, but, rather, the program faculty themselves.

An assessment program is essentially a way of formalizing the informal discussions, concerns, and questions that faculty have always had about their classes and their students, whether in the hallways, their offices, department meetings, or social gatherings.

Academic assessments work best when they are designed and carried out by the academic faculty themselves, supported as appropriate by the Office of Institutional Research and the Faculty Director of Assessment. Therefore, it is essential that all faculty in our programs ask themselves such key questions as, "What should a graduate of our program know, be able to do, and/or value?" and "How do our courses provide students with opportunities to develop their knowledge, skills, and values?" The answers to such questions provide the basis for assessing the program.

In addition to assessments that become part of the fabric of each academic department, the institution assesses student learning in institution-wide contexts. For example, is the core curriculum accomplishing all that we want it to accomplish? Are residential life programs supportive of academic learning? What are the roles of extracurricular activities such as athletics, clubs, and guest speakers or performers? Clearly, the responsibility for assessing academic learning extends beyond the program faculty, for we all know that what students learn while in college results from an accumulation of learning experiences, both formal and informal.

An assessment plan involves more than determining what students should learn and assessing their learning. It requires time to share the results of the assessment with the faculty members and time to reflect upon what those results may imply for individual courses, course sequences, pedagogical practices, and/or student support. Faculty discussions of assessment results may even lead to recommendations for changes to student support structures, such as the library, technology, career placement, or counseling and can provide substantial documentation supporting requests for needed resources. The most important step in any assessment program is the serious discussion by the program's faculty of the results of the assessments and what can be done to improve those results.

C.   The Role of the Chair

What is the role of the Department Chair in fostering successful assessment efforts in each department? A list of responsibilities in helping the department develop an assessment plan includes the following:

- Ensuring that all syllabi in the department include the course's goals for student learning in the course. This is a requirement for accreditation. Ideally, these should relate to the department's goals for learning in courses at that level.
- Promoting faculty discussions of the characteristics of students (knowledge, skills, values) that graduates of the program should possess.
- Helping faculty determine how to assess those characteristics, such as deciding which samples of student work best indicate student abilities or how assessments can be built in to the normal work of teaching rather than added on.
- Supporting the work of faculty in conducting the actual assessments.
- Leading faculty discussions of the results of the assessments and the implications for the content and pedagogy of the curriculum.
- Supporting faculty efforts to improve student learning in the program, such as building the courses or assignments that are likely to help students develop those characteristics and meet our high expectations.
- Supporting the writing and dissemination of assessment reports as appropriate.
- Submitting the annual assessment report and any updates to the assessment plan to the DOF/VPAA, the Faculty Director of Assessment.

D.   Assessment Methods – A Short Overview

For assessment methods, models, examples from other institutions, and resources such as research reports and a bibliography of current articles and books on assessment, go to Skidmore's assessment website: http://www.skidmore.edu/assessment

Assessments may be carried out in many different ways, depending upon the depth of information and the nature of what is being assessed. The assessment methods may be categorized as either direct or indirect assessments.

1. Direct assessment methods. Direct assessment methods are "direct" because they look at actual student work to determine whether the students have learned what the faculty want them to learn. Among the direct methods most commonly used are the following:

    a. Portfolios: Student portfolios may be collected from the time that students enter a program until they graduate or may be collected for narrower time frames. Students are responsible for gathering the information that the faculty want them to gather. Among the types of materials contained in a portfolio may be research papers, essays, drafts of written material leading to a final product, laboratory research, videotapes of performances, exhibits of creative work, and examinations. A particularly valuable component of student portfolios is the reflective essay, in which the student reflects back upon his or her growth in scholarship or creative efforts and draws conclusions about his or her strengths and weaknesses at the time the portfolio is compiled. To save valuable space, many portfolios are now gathered electronically. The primary drawback of the portfolio is that it takes time for faculty to review. The primary advantage is that it can be designed to represent a broad view of student academic development, one that also contains some depth.

b. Embedded assessments: Embedded assessments make use of student work produced in specific classes. As a result, the students do not even need to know that their work is being used for assessment purposes. In addition, the material used for assessment is produced within the normal workload of both faculty and students.   As such, embedded assessments provide a realistic source of information about student work. In departments that use examinations to evaluate students, sometimes only a few of the examination items are actually designed for assessment purposes. The data provided by embedded assessments should be reviewed by faculty beyond the course instructor, perhaps using a rubric of key characteristics to guide the assessments. The instructor uses the student work to provide grades. The faculty examine the student work to understand what and how students are learning in the program.

c. Capstone experiences or senior projects: Capstone experiences most often occur in courses taken by students toward the end of their academic program, typically in the senior year. Capstone courses can be designed to require students to demonstrate their accumulated knowledge, skills, and/or values through major creative or research projects, as well as written and oral presentations. The major advantage to the capstone course or experience is that it provides a focused event upon which the assessment can be based. As with embedded assessments, capstone courses make use of data that students produce within the normal course of their work. One caution is that, while the faculty member teaching the course is responsible for giving grades to students, other program faculty should be involved in evaluating the work of the students from an assessment perspective. A drawback to the capstone course is that it cannot hope to encapsulate everything that a student has learned, but assignments can be designed to elicit student work that does include much of what they have learned.

d. Examinations or standardized tests external to the courses: Culminating examinations may be constructed by the faculty or purchased from national testing organizations (such as the ACT CAAP, ETS field exams, or the Missouri BASE). Constructing such examinations is time-consuming, and standardized national measures may not correlate with your academic program. They are costly to either the institution or the student. And, unless they are required for graduation, student motivation to do well in them may be low.

e. Internships and other field experiences: Internships and field experiences provide opportunities for students to apply their learning outside the classroom. Evaluations of student work in such experiences may provide valuable information on whether the students are able to use what they have learned in class when they are confronted with "real world" situations. They may, in fact, be the capstone experience for the students' program.

2. Indirect assessment methods. Indirect assessment methods require that faculty infer actual student abilities, knowledge, and values rather than observe direct evidence, and so they do not provide the best data for making curricular decisions. Among indirect methods are:

a. Surveys: Student surveys or surveys of employers and others provide impressions from survey respondents. These impressions may change over time (for example, will a senior value the same thing as an alumnus who has been working for several years?). Respondents may respond with what they think those conducting the survey want to hear, rather than what they truly believe. Surveys are easy to administer, but often do not result in responses from everyone surveyed. They may, however, provide clues to what should be assessed directly. And they may be the only way to gather information from alumni, employers, or graduate school faculty.

b. Exit interviews and focus groups: Exit interviews and focus groups allow faculty to ask specific questions face-to-face with students. Their limitations are that the students may not respond honestly or fully, while their answers may be, as with surveys, impressions that may change over time. Often, for more objectivity, it may be best to have someone outside the actual program faculty conduct the interviews. Interviews and focus groups may provide clues to what should be assessed directly.

c. Inventories of syllabi and assignments: Inventories of syllabi and assignments may turn up information about the curriculum that is not evident until the actual inventory is conducted. As an indirect technique, the inventory does not indicate what students have learned, but it does provide a quick way of knowing whether some courses are redundant in what they teach or whether some gap in the curriculum exists. It is a valuable tool within the total assessment assemblage of tools.

III.   Guidelines for Academic Program Reviews

A.   Goals and Process

1. Based on the academic program review schedule in this Handbook, each year the DOF/VPAA and/or ADOF will notify those departments scheduled for program review the following year. During the fall semester, the DOF/VPAA or ADOF will notify the chairs or directors of those programs and will request a list of suggested members of external review panels, and a set of issues and mutual concerns to be addressed in the review. In preparing the list of suggested reviewers, chairs and directors should seek well-qualified individuals, preferably from institutions or programs similar to our own and, where possible, from the northeastern United States. Teams will normally consist of three individuals with diverse specializations. Team members will receive a modest honorarium. Following approval of the reviewers by the DOF/VPAA Office, Department Chairs and Program Directors should promptly contact reviewers to invite them to participate and to set the dates for the visit; teams may visit at any convenient time during the year. Copies of the reviewers' CVs should be sent to the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF.

2. Programs will be asked to provide copies of the following materials to the DOF/VPAA Office for the external reviewers:

   • The departmental or program mission statement (which should include its relationship to all-college curricular and co-curricular programs), and its goals for student learning, both for majors and non-majors.

   • A roster of the department (including administrative assistants) and a curriculum vitae of each faculty member of the department or program.

   • The most recent department or program annual report, including recent enrollment data and information regarding assessment of student learning.

- Any special publications of the program, e.g., admissions brochures, newsletters, etc.

3. Programs will complete the self-study to be sent to the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF for review at least four weeks prior to forwarding it to the external evaluators. Reviewers should receive the self-study no later than two weeks prior to their visit. The self-study should address the following areas or questions:

- What are the program's current strengths?
- What are the program's current weaknesses?
- A description and analysis of the program's curricular changes in the last three to five years.
- What changes in the program's curriculum are being proposed for the next year and/or are under consideration for the next three to five years?
- Where might some savings in spending be realized, or what resources might be reallocated? What would be the justification for allocation of resources?
- How is student learning in the program being assessed? What has been the impact of assessment on the faculty's thinking about the program: curriculum, advising, events, facilities?
- How do the department's programs (majors, minors, curriculum in general) contribute to the College's Goals for Student Learning and Development? How are these outcomes assessed?
- What are the program's current and foreseeable needs in staff, equipment, or other support?
- If the program supports a major and/or a minor, what are the goals of that degree program and how are they met by the course requirements currently in effect?
- How does the program track its graduates after they leave the college?
- What are the career trajectories or educational attainment of majors and minors over the last ten years?
- What is the program's relationship to the various all-college programs (e.g., Asian Studies, Environmental Studies, First-Year Experience, and Gender Studies) and requirements (e.g. Cultural-Centered Inquiry, Writing, and Quantitative Reasoning)?
- What would you like to see happening in the program five years from now? Ten years?
- Other issues identified by the program and the administration in their preliminary discussions.

4. Departments and Programs will provide the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF with the arrival and departure schedules for visiting team members. They will set up their itineraries, which will include meetings with all program personnel, appropriate groups of students, and a tour of the facilities. The itinerary will include an initial meeting with the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF, meetings with department or program members, and at least one meeting with an academic leader (Chair, Program Director) from outside the department/program being reviewed. It will also include time for team members to discuss, by themselves, their preliminary reactions to what they have learned from their visit. Review teams will submit written reports to the DOF/VPAA and ADOF within 30 days of their campus visit. Skidmore will reimburse reviewers for travel, meals, and other incidental expenses incurred during their visit. If reviewers choose to drive, they must keep track of mileage. The College will pay an honorarium of $700 to each member of the team and an additional $300 for the team member writing the final report, who will be selected by the reviewing team. All honoraria will be paid promptly upon receipt of the final report.

5. After the report is submitted, the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF will forward a copy to the Department Chair or Program Director, who will share it with the members of the department or program. The Chair or Program Director will submit a written response to the report to the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF. The DOF/VPAA and the ADOF will also share the report with other members of the administration and will then meet with the Chair or Director of the program to discuss both the reviewers' report and the department's or program's response, to consider any recommendations for action.

B. Review Timeline and Details

1. Beginning of the semester of the review:

   • The DOF/VPAA approves the list of reviewers recommended by the department or program.
   • The Department Chair or Program Director contacts the DOF/VPAA Office to identify potential dates. Dates are determined by the availability of the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF.
   • Once the reviewers have accepted the Department Chair's or Program Director's invitation to serve and the dates of the visit are determined, the DOF/VPAA Office will issue a letter to the reviewers stating the date, honoraria, and other information concerning their visit to Skidmore. The Faculty Handbook, course catalog, and other pertinent institutional information are also included with the above letter to reviewers.
   • The support staff for the department or program under review makes all travel arrangements reimbursements and payment of honoraria to the reviewers.

2. Four to Six Weeks Before the Review:

   • The self-study is completed for review by the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF. The DOF/VPAA and the ADOF will work with the Department Chair or Program Director if any revisions are necessary.

3. Three to Four Weeks Before the Review:

   • The Department Chair/Program Director, creates an itinerary which requires approval by the DOF/VPAA Office.

4. Two Weeks Before the Review:

   • Self-study mailed to the reviewers by the Department Chair or Program Director.

   • The Department or Program submits one copy of the self-study to the DOF/VPAA.

5. One Week Before the Review:

   • The itinerary is sent via e-mail attachment to the reviewers. Subsequent changes after the itinerary is sent should be included in a revised itinerary and given to the DOF/VPAA Office and to the reviewers upon their arrival.

C. Draft Itinerary for Reviewer's Visit

Day 1	Breakfast & Morning • Reviewers have breakfast with the DOF/VPAA and the ADOF and discuss the itinerary, self-study and to review the major issues that will need to be addressed during their visit.. • Reviewers meet with full-time department members and staff (including faculty and administrative support staff). Each meeting should last at least half an hour. If there is a large list of faculty and/or staff that need to meet with the reviewers, the department should determine the best process to structure the meetings. Lunch • Reviewers meet with majors and/or minors, or appropriate student constituencies, in the department or program. Lunch is often a comfortable environment for students to meet with reviewers. Afternoon • Reviewers continue to meet with department members and staff. • If there are other faculty, staff and/or students that need to meet with the reviewers but do not necessarily have to have a one-on-one meeting, a reception can be planned for late in the afternoon. Reception costs must be approved by the DOF/VPAA. Dinner • Reviewers have dinner on their own to discuss their findings.
Day 2	Breakfast & morning • Reviewers have breakfast with the Department Chair or members of the faculty/staff with whom they could not meet during day 2. • The DOF/VPAA and the ADOF hold an exit interview with the reviewing team prior to its leaving campus. • Depending on travel arrangements, reviewers stay for lunch or leave for their home institutions.

* All expenses for the review are charged to an account in the DOF/VPAA Office.
Please consult with Sue Blair (ext. 5706 sblair@skidmore.edu) regarding expenses and payments.

V. The Curriculum

All departments proposing curricular changes must submit those proposals to the College Curriculum Committee for approval. An outline of considerations and procedures is listed below. If you have further questions, please consult with the ADOF and/or the Chair of the Committee.

The Committee Chair brings all proposals to the committee for appropriate action. The Chair is elected from the faculty members on the Committee and serves an academic year term.

A. Curriculum Changes requiring Committee Approval

All items contained in the Skidmore College Catalog fall within the purview of the committee, with the exception of staffing considerations, such as listings of departmental personnel, the professor assigned to teach a course, and the specific term in which the course is to be taught. The following changes must receive committee approval:

1. New course proposals or substantial revision to an existing course. New courses include courses that were previously taught as topics courses in a department or program and are now being proposed as permanent courses with course descriptions appearing in the catalog. New courses also include courses that were previously taught but have since been deleted from the catalog. New course proposals should acquaint the committee members with the topics and student learning objectives of the course. To aid committee members in their review of the course, you must submit a syllabus, a course prospectus, an outline of student learning objectives, and a thorough description of course topics, readings, and requirements.

2. Changes in the status of existing courses:

    a. Deletion of a course from the catalog. Chairs should note that except in unusual circumstances, courses that have not been taught in the last three years should be submitted for deletion from the catalog.

    b. Changes in:

        - Course description
        - Course level
        - Prerequisite(s)
        - Semester hours credit
        - Requirements met

3. Establishment and elimination of majors and minors. Even after approval by the committee, the Faculty, and the Trustees, such changes may not take effect until they have been registered by the New York State Education Department.

4. Changes in major and minor requirements.

5. Descriptive text of the Department including: mission, goals, descriptions of major and minor, and descriptions of requirements for honors.

6. All other proposed changes in Catalog copy.

B. General Considerations

Before initiating a curricular change, you may want to consider the following:

1. How does the proposed change affect the remainder of your program? How might it affect other departments and programs? How might the addition or deletion of a prerequisite affect current enrollment patterns in the course? Would the deletion of a course from your program prevent some students from completing a major or minor requirement?

2. In cases where there might be significant overlap in content between a proposed course and an existing course (whether in your department or in another department or program), chairs are requested to consult with the head of other departments and programs (where appropriate) and provide an explanation to the Committee indicating the nature of the differences and similarities.

3. How does the proposed course change affect staffing? For example: can new courses be adequately staffed in the future given the size of your department and current faculty loads? Will your proposal have an impact on staffing in another department (e.g., the deletion or addition of a prerequisite course outside your own department), or an impact on your department's staff involvement with all-college requirements? All such matters should be discussed with the ADOF.

4. The Committee is charged with reviewing the academic coherence of individual majors, minors, and concentrations, and their relationship to other programs within the College. This should be a central concern for departments and programs proposing course and program changes.

C. Procedures

1. The Committee has created several forms for processing curricular revisions using an online curriculum management tool called Curriculog. The following forms can be accessed at http://www.skidmore.edu/curriculum_committee/forms/index.php]:

   • Propose a New Course or Substantial Revision of an Existing Course
   • Propose a Scribner Seminar – either as a New Course or Revision of an existing course • Request Routine Revisions
   • Propose Revisions to Major/Minor/Programs (also use for new majors)
   • Establish or Eliminate a Major
   • Sample Syllabus with Learning Goals (http://www.skidmore.edu/academics/curric/BI360.pdf)

2. Depending on the Committee's workload, requests may take from one to three weeks to process. In the case of the important deadlines listed below, please submit proposals at least three weeks in advance of the deadline.

D. Deadlines

1. Although changes may be proposed at any time during the academic year, there are three very important deadlines:

   a. Any changes to appear in the Spring schedule of classes must reach the Committee no later than September 15 of the preceding academic term.

   b. Spring term new course proposals must also reach the Committee by September 15.

   c. All changes in the Catalog, including changes for the Fall schedule of classes, must reach the Committee no later than December of the preceding academic year.

   d. If the course is to contribute to an Interdisciplinary Program, then the proposal must be submitted to the Program Director for review before consideration by the ADOF. Consult the appropriate director for submission deadlines.

2. Major department changes should be submitted to the Committee as early as possible. Except in the most extraordinary of circumstances, the Committee cannot give immediate attention to proposals that are received after the deadline.

E. Supplemental Information

When converting a course with 3 semester hours of credit to one with 4 semester hours, the additional hour can be provided by a contact hour or by a flexible credit hour (which typically receives greater scrutiny from the committee). You should review the guidelines for the additional hours (http://www.skidmore.edu/academics/curric/flex4.htm). To clarify the nature of such curricular change, please submit a description of student learning objectives and how they will be assessed.

You should review guidelines for enrollment caps at: http://www.skidmore.edu/academics/curric/MaxCaps.htm. Only under extremely unusual circumstances will the committee approve an enrollment cap below those specified in the guidelines.

Please indicate the course level by lXX, 2XX, or 3XX. Specific numbers will be assigned by the Registrar. You can request a particular number, but the Registrar makes the final decision about numbering.

The catalog description should be carefully worded to reflect the actual content of the course. It is customary to begin the description with a sentence fragment. Please avoid passive voice, especially regarding student involvement. Also, avoid using such phrases as "in-depth" and "intense" or "this course will carefully analyze and extensively research" which add nothing substantive to the description. Please try to keep your description brief. Consult the Skidmore College Guide to Writing (https://www.skidmore.edu/writing_guide/) for stylistic clarification. Consult the current Catalog for examples.

Please take care with the abbreviated title. This is the course title that will appear on registration materials and on transcripts.

The course syllabus is an extremely useful document to the Curriculum Committee. It provides the committee with invaluable detail about the organizational structure of the course. To aid you in the preparation of your proposal, please consult the student learning objectives on the assessment webpage, which also includes a guide to writing student learning objectives.

These questions are all intended to elicit information that will allow the ADOF and the Curriculum Committee to assess the resource implications of the new course. For example, if the instructor is currently teaching a full load of courses and is proposing a new course, it is essential for the committee to know which course is being replaced by the new course. Will the replaced course no longer be offered? Will the deletion of the course, or a reduction in the frequency with which it will be offered, have an impact on majors or on a particular program area? If the new course will require, for example, the addition of resources to the Library, such information is also quite useful.

The Major/Minor/Program form is deceptively simple. However, the creation of a new major, minor, or program is a laborious process. The potential resource implications are significant, so the ADOF will need to work closely with the people proposing the new major, minor, or program. Revisions to existing majors, minors, and programs may also have resource implications, so they will also be reviewed carefully by the Associate Dean before bringing the proposal to the Curriculum Committee.

VI. Faculty Response to Student Integrity Problems

A. Establish your own integrity expectations clearly and positively as part of the intellectual process and content of each course. See the "The Ethics of Scholarship" for suggestions).

B. Explicitly address grade penalties for violations of the academic honor code on your syllabus, especially if these penalties lie outside the Definitions and Guidelines document and provided to students when they first enter Skidmore. For example, some faculty adhere to a "zero tolerance" policy on plagiarism that results in a failing grade regardless of the severity of the offense. Students should be alerted to the existence of such a policy before it is applied.

C. For help with suspected plagiarisms, consider using the Direct Submit option through Blackboard.

D. If you believe you are facing a case of student academic dishonesty, consult the Definitions and Guidelines document, gather the evidence carefully, and then consult with the Associate Dean of the Faculty for Academic Policy & Advising or with the Director of Academic Advising.

E. Talk privately with the student about your suspicions or certainty, trying to treat the issue in a relatively dispassionate and objective manner. Try not to be impressed or swayed by initial student anger, denial, tears, or special pleading; rather, address the evidence, the problem, and the expectations of the Honor Code. Keep a written record of your interactions with the student.

F. If you decide to respond directly to the infraction, please work within Skidmore's integrity definitions and penalty guidelines or adhere to the guidelines you establish on your syllabus when assigning a grade. Note that violations of the academic honor code may also impact the student's eligibility for academic honors and distinctions, study abroad, etc. and will be reported to external agencies as appropriate. These consequences of an infraction are described in the Sanctions and Further Impacts document and made available to students in the Academic Integrity Handbook.

G. Report in writing to the Associate Dean of Faculty, all demonstrable academic integrity infractions together with your response thereto. (Note that Skidmore faculty have committed themselves to full reporting in the Faculty Handbook and through subsequent faculty legislation of 1995 and 2000.) Also supply a copy of the academic materials in question and, for a case of plagiarism, a copy of the source or sources. Failure to report an infraction may help hide a recurrent pattern and also results in unequal justice.

H. Regardless of whether you continue to discuss the charges with the student, do not address the academic integrity violation with the student's parents. The infraction is protected under FERPA, and any discussion with the student's parents not only violates the student's FERPA rights, but risks complicating the case with incomplete or inaccurate information on the college's judicial process. Direct parents to the ADOF.

I. You may prefer to request an Integrity Board hearing. Consult with the Associate Dean on this process and refer to links provided below. Note that a student who denies his or her guilt may also request a formal hearing. No action of the Integrity Board may set aside or modify a grade that you have assigned. Further, if the integrity charge is sustained, the Integrity Board may not set aside the reporting and eligibility consequences of an infraction described in the Sanctions and Further Impacts document.

J. If the reported infraction turns out to be a second offense, the ADOF is likely to call for a formal hearing to consider the larger picture, in which case the faculty involved in each infraction will be asked to participate, in effect, as a "witness." Note that 95 percent of reported infractions are single offenses and are resolved as the individual faculty member intended and without a hearing being requested or required.

APPENDIX C – SKIDMORE COLLEGE TRAVEL AND ENTERTAINMENT POLICY

SKIDMORE COLLEGE TRAVEL AND ENTERTAINMENT POLICIES

PURPOSE

These policies are intended as a guide to reimburse individuals for College-related travel and entertainment expenses. The responsibility to observe the guidelines rests both with the traveler and the chairperson or administrator who certifies conformance to these guidelines by approving the expenditure(s). This policy applies to anyone who incurs travel or entertainment expenses paid by Skidmore College, regardless of the source of funds. The College will reimburse for reasonable travel, meals, lodging and out-of-pocket expenses incurred in the transaction of College business. This document outlines policies and procedures in general terms to allow reasonable discretion for travelers. Departments may implement more restrictive policies and procedures that departmental personnel should adhere to. The policy is not expected to cover every possible situation. Federally funded awards may have additional requirements.

RESPONSIBILITY

These policies and procedures are also necessary to comply with Federal tax law and third party sponsoring agency regulations. They will ensure consistent and fair treatment between departments throughout the College and the uniform reporting of financial results. In general, the quality of travel, accommodations, entertainment and related expenses should be governed by what is reasonable and appropriate to the purpose involved. The College respects the personal integrity and discretion of each member of its faculty and staff and conducts expense account affairs accordingly. Skidmore's travel meets the IRS definition of an "accountable plan." As a result, travel reimbursements do not have to be reported as income to the traveler. Under the accountable plan, travel advances and reimbursement of expenses must meet three requirements:

- They must have paid or incurred deductible expenses while performing services as your employees.
- Travelers must provide a statement substantiating the amount, time, use and business purpose of expenses within a reasonable amount of time (not to exceed 60 days) after the expenses are incurred. Original detailed receipts must be attached to the statement.
- Employees must return any advance amounts in excess of substantiated expenses within a reasonable period of time (not to exceed 60 days).

If an employee does not substantiate expenses and/or return any excess advance within a reasonable period of time (60 days), this amount must be treated as if it were paid under a non-accountable plan and must be treated as salary, subject to withholding, on the employee's Form W-2.

In order for business travel expense reimbursements to remain tax-free to the employee, the policies and procedures that follow must be adhered to.

SALES TAX AND BUSINESS VISA CARD

Skidmore College is a tax exempt organization. NYS requires vendors to allow for tax exempt purchases only when someone is paying with check, debit card or credit card from the tax exempt organization. If paying with a personal check or personal credit/debit card, vendors are instructed by NYS to charge sales tax. Skidmore offers a Business Visa Card to eligible employees that travel on behalf of the College and will not reimburse sales tax to employees for sales tax paid to local vendors. This includes restaurants, department stores and Enterprise Rental.

The Business Visa Card and the College tax exempt certificate should suffice for vendors to honor the College tax exempt status. Tax exempt certificates are available on the Financial Services web page or in the Accounts Payable office. Many departments also have a supply of the certificates as well.

For additional information about the Business Visa Card, please visit the Financial Services home page.

APPENDIX D – MODEL PERSONNEL POLICIES

MODEL PERSONNEL POLICIES

The following document has been prepared by the DOF/VPAA office in collaboration with chairs and program directors. It is based on extant departmental and program policies. The document is intended as a possible template for departments and programs to use when developing or revising their personnel policies and is advisory in nature.

These policies were developed through consultation of existing departmental policies, codifying longstanding departmental and program practices that were not in writing, and developing new practices (particularly around non-tenure track faculty) that were neither in writing nor informally adopted. The principles guiding the compilation of these policies include clarity, consistency, equity, and transparency.

I.   General College Policies
II.   Eligibility of Faculty to Participate in Personnel Processes
III.   Tenure and Promotion Process for Pre-Tenure Faculty
IV.   Selection of External Referees and Handling of External Letters for Tenure
V.   Promotion Process for Tenure-Track Faculty
VI.   Non-Tenure Track Faculty
        a.   Mentoring and Evaluation
        b.   Promotion
VII.   Search Committee Guidelines

I. General College Policies

A.   The Chair/Program Director/Program Personnel Committee Chair (C/PD/PPCC) is responsible for providing new faculty with a copy of department/program personnel procedures and for ensuring faculty have access to regular and consistent mentoring and professional support. C/PD/PPCCs may enlist other faculty to assist with mentoring and providing professional support for tenure track or non-tenure track faculty.

B.   The C/PD/PPCC keeps tenure-track faculty apprised of their progress through the tenure system through a yearly performance review meeting that is documented by an annual letter of evaluation.

C.   Each year, full-time continuing non-tenure track faculty meet with their respective C/PD/PPCCs to discuss their performance as teachers and members of the academic community and will receive a brief summary of this meeting in the form of an annual letter.

D.   Associate Professors shall normally be evaluated every three years on a schedule determined by the C/PD/PPCC and Full Professors every six years. This process is coordinated with the individual's and the department/program's sabbatical cycle.

E.   Faculty will engage in regular developmental and evaluative classroom observations.

F.   Under the guidance of the C/PD/PPCC, individual faculty are responsible for preparation of their portfolios for department/program and ATC (Appointments and Tenure Committee) and PC (Promotions Committee) review. They are responsible for being conversant with the Faculty Handbook (FHB) and departmental procedures for reappointment, tenure and promotion.

G. All faculty have access to the Committee on Academic Freedom and Rights (CAFR), which serves as guardian of the academic freedom and rights of all members of the academic community. Faculty also have access to the Assistant Director for Employment, Compliance and Workforce Diversity who is responsible for hearing or receiving grievances according to the procedures outlined in Part Six of the FHB.

H. Candidates who are denied tenure may appeal to the Tenure Review Board, following the procedures outlined in the FHB.

I. Obligations pertaining to all members of the faculty include: 1) continued professional improvement; 2) conscientious fulfillment of academic responsibilities; 3) concern for the College as a whole as well as for one's individual and departmental interests; and 4) encouragement of newly appointed members of the Faculty.

II. Eligibility of Faculty to Participate in Personnel Processes

A. Eligible faculty who are required to participate in personnel processes as mandated by the FHB include: full-time tenure-track faculty in at least their third year of full-time service at Skidmore, Artists-in-Residence (AiRs) and Writers-in-Residence (WiRs) who are at least in their third year of full-time service at Skidmore, including those with shared appointments or on phased employment. Eligible faculty shall participate in department meetings during which candidates' reappointment/tenure/promotion is being discussed, and will submit letters to the C/PD/PPCC for tenure and promotion.

B. Smaller departments (fewer than five tenure-track faculty, AiRs, and/or WiRs) may deem full-time non-tenure track faculty as eligible to participate in the personnel process and their letters will be solicited by ATC; otherwise, non-tenure track faculty (with the exception of AiRs/WiRs) are not mandated to write and are not required to participate in personnel discussions. If Departments/Programs do deem non-tenure track faculty as eligible to write on behalf of a candidate for tenure, a list of the faculty eligible to write will be provided to the ATC by the C/PD/PPCC prior to the solicitation of department/ program letters.

III. Tenure and Promotion Process for Pre-Tenure Faculty

A. Year 1

i. The C/PD/PPCC (or designee) will review evidence of teaching effectiveness with the candidate during the fall and spring semesters and provide feedback to the candidate over the course of the year. While this is not an exhaustive or prescriptive list, such evidence may include syllabi, assignments, student work, exams, examples of feedback on student work, quantitative and qualitative teaching evaluations. C/PD/PPCC will develop a mechanism whereby department/program faculty are kept informed about the candidate's work and progress over the year.

ii. In consultation with the C/PD/PPCC, candidates will develop a plan for developmental and evaluative teaching observations during year one.

iii. During the second semester of their first year, in consultation with the C/PD/PPCC, candidates will begin to develop their portfolio for tenure by organizing materials from their first year and posting them to Blackboard.

iv. The C/PD/PPCC will write a letter of evaluation at the end of the candidate's first year.

v. If the C/PD/PPCC, in consultation with the department/program/PPC and the DoF/VPAA, decides to terminate the contract in the first year, the C/PD/PPCC shall notify the Dean of the Faculty and the candidate on or before February 15 of the candidate's first year. The C/PD/PPCC shall then notify the department/program.

B. Year 2

i. In consultation with the C/PD/PPCC, candidates will develop a plan for developmental and evaluative teaching observations for years 2 and 3 at the beginning of their second year.

ii. C/PD/PPCCs will develop a mechanism whereby department/program faculty are kept informed about the candidate's work and progress over the year.

iii. Candidates will continue to develop their dossier for tenure by adding to their materials collected from their first year and posting them to Blackboard. iv. The C/PD/PPCC's annual letter at the end of the candidate's second year should focus on professional feedback to help the candidate prepare for reappointment in the third year.

C. Year 3: Reappointment

i. The C/PD/PPCC will discuss procedures for review with the candidate, and, by November 1, candidates will assemble one hard copy of their portfolios/files available for review by faculty in the department eligible to write on their behalf. Candidates will also post their materials to Blackboard.

ii. Candidates should consult the Guidelines for Assembling Materials for Tenure for directions in compiling their portfolios (on DOF/VPAA website).

iii. The candidate will continue to participate in teaching observations according to the plan developed in year 2.

iv. By December 1 of the third year of an initial three-year contract, the C/PD/PPCC will convene a department/program meeting with eligible faculty (see II above) to discuss and review the candidate's file. The candidate shall not be present at the meeting. During the meeting, faculty will thoroughly discuss the evidence presented in the file as it relates to the evaluative criteria for reappointment as set forth in the FHB. The purpose of the meeting is for information sharing and interrogation of the file. At the end of the meeting, the faculty will take a preliminary and anonymous vote to assess the department/program's potential recommendation for reappointment. The C/PD/PPCC may schedule additional meetings if they deem it necessary. Simple majority rules and a tie is considered a positive recommendation. Results of the voting will be shared by the C/PD/PPCC during the meeting.

v. The C/PD/PPCC will write a summary letter detailing the Department/Program's recommendations according to the guidelines presented in the FHB and share the letter with all eligible faculty. All eligible faculty are expected to sign the letter to acknowledge they have reviewed its content; if they have perspectives that are not adequately represented in the letter, they may write an individual letter that will be submitted to the Associate Dean of the Faculty (with responsibilities for personnel). The summary letter and any additional letters are due to the ADOF (with responsibilities for personnel) by the Friday during the first week of the semester in January.

vi. The ADOF (with responsibilities for personnel) will communicate the reappointment decision to the candidate by February 15.

vii. By February 15, the C/PD/PPCC will meet with the candidate to discuss the recommendation, feedback about performance, and if applicable, a plan for teaching, scholarship, service, peer observation, and mentoring for years 4-6. The C/PD/PPCC may choose to share the 3rd year letter with the candidate for mentoring purposes.

viii. Assuming successful reappointment, candidates will continue to develop their portfolio for tenure by adding to their materials collected from and posting them to Blackboard.

D. Years 4 and 5

i. At the end of the candidate's fourth and fifth year, the C/PD/PPCC annual letter of evaluation shall apprise the candidate of the chair's assessment of teaching, scholarly and professional activity, and service with regard to the tenure review.

ii. The C/PD/PPCC and the candidate shall discuss the procedures for tenure well in advance of tenure consideration and connect the candidate with resources to support a successful tenure review.

iii. C/PD/PPCCs will develop a mechanism whereby department/program faculty are kept informed about the candidate's work and progress over the year.

iv. Candidates will continue to participate in teaching observations according to the plan developed in year 3.

v. Candidates will continue to develop their portfolio for tenure by adding to their materials collected and posting them to Blackboard.

vi. The C/PD/PPCC will write a letter of evaluation at the end of the candidate's fourth year apprising the candidate of progress toward tenure.

vii. During the 5th year, C/PD/PPCC will provide candidates with the mentoring and support to help candidates assemble their materials for tenure consideration.

E. Tenure Review

i. A full-time, untenured member of the faculty who is at the rank of assistant professor or above shall become a candidate for tenure in the fall term of the faculty member's sixth year of service. Parental, medical, or other leaves, during which the tenure clock was suspended, shall not count toward the period of service. Faculty members who come to the institution with tenure at another institution may come up for tenure as soon as their second year.

ii.   With the C/PD/PPCC's assistance, the candidate will prepare a portfolio of materials relevant to evaluation of the candidate's teaching, scholarly and professional activity, and service to the College. This portfolio will include one hard copy as well as an electronic copy posted to Blackboard. Candidates should consult the Guidelines for Assembling Materials for Tenure for directions in compiling their portfolio and Procedures for Creation and Maintenance of Electronic Portfolios for managing their electronic sites. The candidate will make this file available for review by Department/Program members at least six weeks before faculty and chairs' letters are due to the ATC. Candidates should consult the ATC Calendar for specific dates.

iii.   The C/PD/PPCC will solicit letters from candidates' external (see IV. Selection of External Referees and Handling of External Letters for Tenure) and internal reviewers, and make those letters available to the eligible faculty for their review prior to the department/program meeting described below.

iv.   With sufficient time to allow for meeting the ATC deadline for submission of letters, the C/PD/PPCC shall convene a department/program meeting of all eligible faculty (defined in Section II above). The faculty shall consider whether the candidate has met the criteria, obligations, and responsibilities for tenure as listed in the FHB. The candidate shall not be present at the meeting. During the meeting, faculty will thoroughly discuss the evidence presented in the file as it relates to the evaluative criteria set forth in the FHB. The purpose of the meeting is for information sharing and interrogation of the file. At the end of the meeting, the faculty may take a preliminary and anonymous vote to assess the department/program's potential recommendation for tenure. Simple majority rules and a tie is considered a positive recommendation. Results of the voting will be shared by the C/PD/PPCC during the meeting.

v.   Eligible faculty shall submit individual letters according to the evaluative criteria for tenure as set forth in the FHB to the Chair at least ten days (weekends included) before such letters are due to the ATC. These letters form the basis of the Department/Program letter and each letter shall clearly state whether the individual recommends for or against tenure and the reasons for that recommendation. Department letter writers are encouraged to consult the Letter Writer Guidelines which are posted on the DOF/VPAA website.

vi.   Once the C/PD/PPCC's letter is produced, the C/PD/PPCC will share a draft with eligible faculty. Opportunities for feedback are provided, after which the letter is revised (if necessary). The C/PD/PPCC then submits a final version of the letter to the ATC along with letters from individual eligible faculty, external letter writers, internal letters, and any other Department solicited/unsolicited letters (e.g., letters from senior non-tenure track faculty with significant experience in the candidate's discipline). Prior to the deadline set forth in the ATC calendar, the candidate submits one hardcopy of the portfolio to ATC (via the DOF/VPAA Office) and finalizes the electronic version on Blackboard.

vii. The C/PD/PPCC may write their own letter recommending either for or against tenure and substantiating that recommendation with evidence. This letter may be incorporated into the department/program letter described in vi above.

viii. If the C/PD/PPCC is untenured and eligible for tenure the year they are in the C/PD/PPCC role, the ADOF (with responsibilities for personnel or designee) will lead the tenure review process and act in the role of the C/PD/PPCC.

IV. Selection of External and Internal Referees and Handling of Referee Letters for Tenure and Promotion

A. External Letters: Tenure

i. In the third year and after a candidate is successfully reappointed, the C/PD/PPCC (or designee) will begin consultation with the candidate to choose external referees who will be asked to write letters on behalf of the candidate for tenure. This process requires mentoring and support from the C/PD/PPCC (or designee) to assist the candidate is choosing letter writers that are best situated to impartially evaluate the candidate's scholarship or creative works.

ii. While all cases have a unique context, it is suggested that the list of external referees include specialists in the candidate's area(s) of study. Reviewers should not stand to benefit in any direct or indirect way from the candidate's advancement in rank and, ideally, have achieved the rank or standing that the candidate wishes to obtain (although in some narrower fields, this may not be possible). It is desirable to have at least one reviewer from a liberal arts college.

iii. The candidate, in consultation with the C/PD/PPCC (or designee), will choose between 3-4 external letter writers. Under special circumstances, a candidate may solicit up to 5 external letters. While the C/PD/PPCC is consulting with the candidate on suitable referees, the final decision as to who will be asked to write will be the candidate's.

iv. C/PD/PPCCs are responsible to reach out to possible external letter writers to ascertain their willingness to write on behalf of a candidate well before the ATC deadline for submission of names of letter writers. C/PD/PPCC will furnish external letter writers with the instruction letter on the DOF/VPAA website. Once external letter writers are successfully identified and agree to write, the C/PD/PPCC will notify the DOF/VPAA Office of the external letter writers' names and contact information by the due date in the ATC calendar. C/PD/PPCC shall keep the candidate apprised of the status of invitations and of their final disposition.

v. Candidates are responsible for gathering hardcopies of their materials (or posting them online) and sending the materials (or link) to the external letter writers for review well in advance of the letter due date. Candidates may choose to also include the instruction letter for external referees and a copy of the FHB language for tenure and promotion.

vi. C/PD/PPCC will solicit a copy of the letters from the external referees for department/program review with a receipt date that will allow for department/program review before the department/program meeting at which the candidacy is discussed.

vii. C/PD/PPCC will make the external letters available to the eligible faculty who will write on candidates' behalf so as to inform their letters assessing the candidate's file for tenure.

viii. Approximately 2-3 internal letter writers are chosen by the candidate in consultation with the C/PD/PPCC that address the candidates' service and/or significant contributions to the college community. The C/PD/PPCC solicits the letters from the internal referees for departmental review. ix. The C/PD/PPCC collects all of the letters (departmental/program, internal, and external) and submits them to the DOF/VPAA Office who then forwards them to the ATC by the deadline indicated in the ATC calendar. These letters are then forwarded to the ATC.

B. External Letters: Promotion

i. While promotion cases have a unique context, it is suggested that the list of external referees include specialists in the candidate's area(s) of study. Reviewers should not stand to benefit in any direct or indirect way from the candidate's advancement in rank and, ideally, have achieved the rank or standing that the candidate wishes to obtain (although in some narrower fields, this may not be possible). It is desirable to have at least one reviewer from a liberal arts college.

ii. The candidate may choose external letter writers (3-4 generally suffices). Under special circumstances, a candidate may solicit up to 5 external letters.

iii. Once the candidate chooses the external letter writers, the C/PD/PPCC or the candidate may reach out to possible external letter writers to ascertain their willingness to write on behalf of a candidate. The C/PD/PPCC will furnish external letter writers with the instruction letter on the DOF/VPAA website and a copy of the FHB language for promotion.

iv. Once external letter writers are successfully identified and agree to write, the C/PD/PPCC will notify the DOF/VPAA Office of the external letter writers' names and contact information by the due date in the PC calendar. C/PD/PPCC shall keep the candidate apprised of the status of invitations and of their final disposition.

v. Candidates are responsible for gathering hardcopies of their materials (or posting them online) and sending the materials (or link) to the external letter writers for review well in advance of the letter due date. Candidates should confirm with the C/PD/PPCC that external referees have copies of the instruction letter on the DOF/VPAA website and the FHB language for promotion.

vi. C/PD/PPCC will solicit a copy of the letters from the external referees for department/program review with a receipt date that will allow for department/program review before the department/program meeting at which the candidacy is discussed.

vii. C/PD/PPCC will make the external letters available to the eligible faculty who will write on candidates' behalf so as to inform their letters assessing the candidate's file for promotion.

viii. The C/PD/PPCC collects all of the letters (departmental/program, internal, and external) and submits them to the DOF/VPAA Office by the deadline indicated in the PC calendar. These letters are then forwarded to the PC.

V. Promotion of Tenure-line Faculty

A. Consideration for promotion to Associate Professor prior to the award of tenure or Professor is not based on years of service. Faculty may stand for promotion at their own discretion, and such consideration may be initiated by the C/PD/PPCC, Dean of the Faculty/VPAA, or ADOF (with responsibility for personnel) in consultation with one another. The C/PD/PPCC shall present the department/program's recommendation to the PC. The ADOF (with responsibility for personnel) may initiate promotion consideration in the case of the promotion of a C/PD/PPCC, and acts as chair of the promotion review.

B. According to the FHB, the candidate shall prepare by the due date in the PC calendar a file that includes:

   i. An updated CV, which makes clear what has been achieved since the last promotion.

   ii. All scholarly, creative, or professional materials produced since the last promotion; candidates may add some earlier materials for purposes of context or to show continued growth. Candidates may wish to seek letters from Skidmore colleagues outside their department qualified to speak to their professional accomplishment. Candidates may also wish to include a statement about achievements and works in progress.

   iii. The ten most recent consecutive semesters of teaching evaluations. For purposes of context, the candidate may wish to include other evaluations. The candidate shall also add copies of syllabi, and may include assignments and handouts. The candidate may also wish to append a statement about teaching goals and philosophy. The file may include peer evaluations of teaching.

   iv. A cover sheet showing courses taught, sabbatical leaves, and any course releases over the previous six years.

   v. Service credentials presented within the context of the broad statements about service in Part One (Faculty Rights and Responsibilities), Article VIII (Evaluation of Faculty for Continued Service and Advancement in Rank), Section A (Tenure-Track Faculty, Community Service) of the FHB. The candidate may wish to provide relevant documents and seek letters from Committee Chairs or members who can speak about the quality and extent of service.

C. In addition to these documents, faculty may consider including:

   i. Annual reports of activities for the past five years.

   ii. Additional evidence of teaching effectiveness including but not limited to syllabi; reading lists; assignments; exams; audio, visual, and digital resources; examples of student work (these are examples and not an exhaustive or prescriptive list).

iii. A statement that contextualizes and makes a case for high quality teaching. For those courses that are included in the file (see V.b.iii above), a table that presents a summary of the enrollment and course caps (for example, 23/29), and the three summary numbers from student quantitative evaluations that address the course overall (item 2.1), instructor effectiveness overall (item 4.1) and learning overall (item 5.1).

iv. Other materials that the faculty member chooses to submit as evidence of teaching, scholarly and professional work, and service to the Department, College, Skidmore community, or the academic profession. For example, these materials may include a statement of teaching goals and philosophy, a statement discussing past and future scholarly activity, and peer evaluations of teaching.

v. Materials that provide evidence and context regarding activities during faculty appointments prior to the Skidmore appointment, if the faculty member has not completed five years of service at Skidmore.

D. The C/PD/PPCC will solicit external letters in accordance with the procedures as outlined in IV.b above to be included in the candidate's promotion file that is available to eligible faculty for departmental review. All letters regarding scholarship and community service that the candidate wishes to present to the PC shall also be made available to the department/program by a date that will allow for review before the department/program meeting in which the candidacy is discussed.

E. Before the last day of the fall semester, the C/PD/PPCC shall convene a department meeting/program meeting with all faculty eligible to write in personnel matters to discuss and review the candidate's file and to decide whether or not to recommend the candidate for promotion. The candidate shall not be present at the meeting. During the meeting, faculty will thoroughly discuss the evidence presented in the file as it relates to the evaluative criteria set forth in the FHB. The purpose of the meeting is for information sharing and interrogation of the file. At the end of the meeting, the faculty will take a preliminary and anonymous vote to assess the department/program's potential recommendation for promotion. Simple majority rules and a tie is considered a positive recommendation. Results of the voting will be shared by the C/PD/PPCC during the meeting.

F. After the meeting, C/PD/PPCCs will inform the candidate of the results of the initial vote. Depending on the outcome of the vote, candidates may choose to rescind their promotion application and should inform C/PD/PPCC as soon as possible if that is the case, ideally before department/program letters are written.

G. Letters from individual members of the Department and any outside evaluators that should be included in the promotion file should be submitted to the DOF/VPAA Office by the date indicated by the PC. The DOF/VPAA then submits the letters to the PC.

VI. Renewal, Reappointment, and Promotion of Non-Tenure Track Faculty

A. Renewal or Issuing of New Consecutive Contracts for Visiting Assistant Professors (VAP), Full-Time Lecturers (FTL), Teaching Professors (TP), and Instructors after their third contract (e.g., for those on three-year contracts, the 9th year and beyond)

    i.   VAPs, FTLs, and TPs must be evaluated and evidence of the evaluation sent to the ADOF (with responsibility for personnel) prior to any new contract or renewal of existing contract. VAPs, FLLs, and TPs will be evaluated at least once during each contract cycle if a new contract is to be issued or the current contract renewed. The timing of such evaluations are up to the C/PD/PPCCs but must be completed in a timely fashion (ideally by the beginning of the semester prior to the contract expiring).

    ii.   The evaluation is conducted by the C/PD/PPCC (or designee). If the candidate has an appointment in multiple programs/departments, each C/PD/PPCC (or designee) is responsible for reviewing the evaluations and course materials of those courses taught in that Department/Program during the time frame of the current contract. The evaluation consists of:

        a.   Teaching observation;

        b.   Review of the candidate's qualitative and quantitative teaching evaluations, syllabi, and other pertinent course materials by the C/PD/PPCC(s) (or designees). Candidates are responsible for providing these materials to the C/PD/PPCC(s) (or designees);

        c.   A meeting between the candidate and (each of) the C/PD/PPCC(s) (or designees) in which the C/PD/PPCC(s) provides feedback about candidate's teaching in that specific department/program. This discussion is informed by a review of the materials addressed in "B" above.

        d.   After the meeting(s), the candidate writes a brief summary of the meeting and a reflection on the feedback discussion(s) and submits the document to the C/PD/PPCC(s) for review. If further discussion is warranted about the content of the summary, the C/PD/PPCC may request an additional meeting.

        e.   The C/PD/PPCC writes a brief memo via e-mail to the ADOF (faculty affairs) summarizing the evaluation process. At that point, a new contract or a renewal can be issued.

B. Reappointment of AiRs and WiRs

    i.   AiRs and WiRs are reappointed according to the procedures outlined the FHB and in III.c above. For their third contract, the review must also include letters of reference from outside of the department/program including referee(s) external to the College. Such letters are solicited in the same manner outlined in section IV above. These letters will be made available to the department/program members eligible to participate in personnel processes prior to the meeting in which the candidate's reappointment is discussed.

    ii.   For the candidate's 4th contract and beyond, an abbreviated process is observed and described below:

        a.   Candidates for reappointment engage in teaching observations.

        b.   Candidates prepare a file for review by the department/program that includes:

            i.   Current CV.

ii. Annual reports of activities covering the years since the last reappointment.

iii. A professional statement that provides: the context for and evidence of sustained high-quality teaching including an analysis of and reflection on peer observations and one's qualitative student evaluations for the past three years; evidence of professional growth, development, and achievement as a scholar; a description of how the candidate has contributed to the institution beyond the classroom and served the department and college.

iv. A table that presents a listing of courses by semester in which they were taught; enrollment and course caps in those courses (for example, 23/29); and the three summary numbers from student quantitative evaluations that address the course overall (item 2.1), instructor effectiveness overall (item 4.1) and learning overall (item 5.1).

c. The C/PD/PPCC shall convene a department/program meeting with all faculty eligible to write in personnel matters to discuss and review the candidate's file and to decide whether or not to recommend the candidate for reappointment. An anonymous vote is taken and simple majority rules. The CPD shares the results of the vote during the meeting. In the case of a tie, the decision is positive.

d. During the meeting, faculty will also discuss feedback that the C/PD/PPCC will provide to candidates with the purpose of professional growth and development. This feedback and the department's recommendation will be written up by the C/PD/PPCC and presented to the candidate during a meeting with the C/PD/PPCC and candidate.

e. The C/PD/PPCC forwards the candidates file, a copy of the feedback provided to the candidate, and the recommendation regarding reappointment to the ADOF (with responsibilities for personnel) by January 15.

f. The ADOF (with responsibilities for personnel) will communicate the reappointment decision to the candidate by February 15.

g. By February 15, the C/PD/PPCC will meet with the candidate to discuss the recommendation and feedback about performance and professional development.

C. Reappointment of Full-Time Instructors

Full-time Instructors are reappointed according to the procedures outlined in the FHB and in III.c above for their first two contracts. After their 6th consecutive year (third contract), the process described in VI.a.ii.A-E (abbreviated reappointment process) is observed.

VII. Promotion of AiRs, WiRs, Instructors, Lecturers, and Teaching Professors

A. AiRs, WiRs, Instructors, Lecturers, and Teaching Professors are considered for promotion through a recommendation made by the C/PD/PPCC which can be informed by recommendations from faculty in the department/program. Promotions for non-tenure track faculty are considered on the same calendar as promotions for tenure-track faculty (see PC Calendar). If a full-time non-tenure track faculty member in a regular position is to be considered for promotion in the same academic year that coincides with reappointment, the department or program can choose to recommend reappointment and promotion as part of the reappointment process with the reappointment notification in the fall and promotion notification in the spring semester. If that is the case, the candidate shall prepare a promotion file that will serve as both the reappointment and promotion application documentation.

B. Criteria for promotion for each category of non-tenure track faculty:

    i. In accordance with the FHB, decisions to reappoint or promote AiRs and WiRs are based on their credentials in three areas: performance as teachers, achievement as artists/scholars, and contributions to the welfare of the college community beyond the classroom.

    ii. In accordance with the FHB, the criteria for promotion of Instructors are: high quality teaching; professional growth that maintains currency and enhances effectiveness in the classroom, studio, or laboratory; and service to the department/program and the College.

    iii. In accordance with the FHB, the criteria for promotion of Lecturers and Teaching Professors include high quality teaching and department/program/institutional need; and, where appropriate, effective service to the department, the College, and the profession; and, where appropriate, evidence of professional growth that maintains currency and enhances effectiveness in the classroom, studio, or laboratory.

C. Consideration for promotion is not based on years of service. If a non-tenure track faculty member is a C/PD/PPCC and is going to be considered for promotion, a senior faculty member in the Department may lead the promotion review process. This individual will be chosen in consultation with the ADOF (with responsibilities for personnel).

D. Process for Promotion

    i. By December 1, and in consultation with the C/PD/PPCC(s), the candidate shall prepare a file for departmental/program review that includes:

        a. Current CV;
        b. Annual reports of activities for the past six years;
        c. A teaching statement the provides the context for and evidence of sustained high quality teaching;
        d. Selected examples that provide evidence of teaching effectiveness which can include syllabi, reading lists, assignments, exams, digital resources (audio, visual, etc.), and examples of student work. These are examples and are not an exhaustive or prescriptive list.
        e. The last ten consecutive semesters of quantitative and qualitative student ratings and a table that presents a listing of courses by semester in which they were taught; enrollment and course caps in those courses (for example, 23/29); and the three summary numbers from student quantitative evaluations that address the course overall (item 2.1), instructor effectiveness overall (item 4.1) and learning overall (item 5.1).
        f. A professional statement that details evidence of professional growth, development, and achievement as an artist and/or scholar particularly over the past five years. Candidates may include publications, unpublished papers, presentations, videos, images, and other evidence of artistic and scholarly activity.
        g. A service statement that details how the candidate has contributed to the institution beyond the classroom and served the department and college particularly over the past five years.

ii. The C/PD/PPCC shall convene a department/program meeting with all faculty eligible to write in personnel matters to discuss and review the candidate's file and to decide whether or not to recommend the candidate for promotion. The candidate shall not be present at the meeting. During the meeting, faculty will thoroughly discuss the evidence presented in the file as it relates to the evaluative criteria set forth in the FHB. The purpose of the meeting is for information sharing and interrogation of the file. At the end of the meeting, the faculty will vote to determine the department/program recommendation for promotion. Simple majority rules and a tie is considered a positive recommendation. Results of the voting will be shared by the C/PD/PPCC during the meeting.

iii. The C/PD/PPCC forwards the candidate's file, a letter detailing the department/program recommendation and a summary the evidence as discussed in the promotion meeting to substantiate the recommendation for promotion to the ADOF (faculty affairs) by the due date for promotion files as listed in the PC calendar.

iv. Notification regarding promotion decision will occur in the same manner as for tenure-track faculty.

VIII. Search Committee Guidelines

A. All search committees (tenure-track and full- and part-time non-tenure track) are expected to adhere to the College's inclusive hiring principles and standard processes presented in the most current version of the Chairs and Program Directors Handbook. The following outlines the policy for forming departmental/program search committees.

B. Tenure-Track, AiRs, and WiRs Searches

i. Eligible faculty to serve on tenure-track, AiRs, and WiRs searches include tenure-track faculty, AiRs, and WiRs. While it is preferable for eligible faculty to be in at least their third year of service at Skidmore, these policies do not prohibit faculty in years 1 and 2 from serving on a search committee if needed and, under special circumstances (e.g. expertise or other factors), non-tenure track faculty may serve as well with the permission of the C/PD/PPCC.

ii. In smaller departments (fewer than five tenure-track faculty, AiRs, or WiRs), non-tenure track faculty are eligible to serve on tenure-track search committees.

iii. Search committees are chaired by the C/PD/PPCC (or designee, usually a senior member of the department/program) and should have four or five members (may be more or less depending on the department/program). They should include representation across rank and should be as diverse as possible. All search committees must include a diversity advocate (see Chairs and Program Directors Handbook) and at least one faculty colleague from another department or program.

iv. For cross-department and/or interdisciplinary program tenure-track lines, the search committee should include representation from both the Departments and/or Programs; the Chair of the committee will be agreed upon by the partnering units.

- 13 -

C.   Non-Tenure Track Searches (excludes searches for AiRs and WiRs)

    i.   For part-time non-tenure track searches offering contracts of one year or less, a formal search can be waived.

    ii.   For one-year full-time non-tenure track searches the search may be waived; but the successful candidate cannot serve more than one year without the department/program conducting a formal search process.

    iii.   Eligible faculty to serve on non-tenure track searches include tenure track faculty, AiRs, WiRs, and other full-time non-tenure track faculty.

    iv.   For cross-department and/or program full-time non-tenure track lines, the search committee should include representation from both the Departments and/or Programs; the Chair of the committee will be agreed upon by the partnering units.

    ii.   Search committees are chaired by the C/PD/PPCC (or designee) and should have between 2-4 members depending on the length of the contract associated with the open position (e.g. smaller committees for 1 year positions and larger committees for 2-3 year positions).
    vi.   To conserve college resources, departments may choose not to invite candidates for 1-year positions to campus, and instead rely on telephone/Skype interviews and reference checks. If a department does opt for a campus visit, the committee's top choice is brought to campus first. If the committee finds the candidate acceptable, no further candidates are brought to campus. If the candidate is unacceptable, the next candidate is brought to campus. For multiple year hires, no more than 2 candidates should be brought for campus interviews.

APPENDIX E –INDIVIDUAL FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PLAN

SKIDMORE COLLEGE: INDIVIDUAL FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PLAN
OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF THE FACULTY/VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Rationale:

The Dean of the Faculty's Office is firmly committed to the holistic development of our faculty. This includes the provision of resources and opportunities to enhance scholarly and creative endeavors, promote effective leadership and service, and nurture pedagogical competencies that result in high quality teaching and a first-rate educational experience for which Skidmore is known.

The deployment of faculty development resources is most effective and efficient when opportunities are driven by well-elucidated goals and objectives of individual faculty members in the context of institutional and departmental priorities. As faculty progress through their academic careers and the professorial ranks, development of an individual faculty professional development plan can assist in focusing one's work, illuminating needs for targeted faculty development resources, providing a specific context for evaluation, and meeting institutional priorities. Therefore, as part of a multi-faceted approach to faculty development and evaluation, the DOF Office proposes that faculty collaboratively engage in an individual faculty development planning process that will function as a guide for professional growth and development in teaching, scholarship/creative work, and service.

While the implementation of such a collaborative planning process can be beneficial for all faculty regardless or rank or tenure status, it can be especially valuable for pre-tenure faculty. In terms of teaching, newer faculty can better plan for new course preps and deploy specific and tailored strategies such as peer observation to enhance their classroom performance. Such a plan could facilitate a successful tenure process through helping faculty clarify their scholarship/creative goals in the context of departmental and institutional tenure expectations and illuminate what resources may be needed to support scholarship and creative work as one progresses toward assembling the tenure file. In terms of service, faculty can think about where their talents are best utilized in the governance and service system and target their efforts in those areas. Such mindful planning across the three areas of performance may allow for synergy in which teaching, scholarship/creative work, and service complement and energize each other allowing for better work/life balance and increased job satisfaction.

Finally, the development of individual faculty development plans can provide a context for more targeted and meaningful feedback and evaluation. The plan, developed by the individual faculty member in consultation with the department chair(s)/program director(s) (or designees), could provide a benchmark for feedback in annual letters, at third-year reappointment, and at tenure. The plan would be developed collaboratively in the context of the department clarifying expectations for pre-tenure faculty and those charged with shepherding these faculty through personnel processes. The plans could also allow for continuity in expectations under probable departmental leadership changes.

Such plans may be helpful for Associate Professors working towards promotion, as well as faculty in non-tenure track positions trying to advance in rank. These plans are not contracts, but are documents to help faculty focus their work within departmental and institutional priorities. Fulfilling such plans does not guarantee tenure or promotion, and not completing all aspects of a plan does not necessarily mean one will not be granted tenure. Again, they are planning documents only.

Individual Faculty Development Plan (IFDP): Timing And Structure

In consultation with the faculty member's department chair(s)/program director(s)/Program Personnel Committee Chair (C/PD/PPCCs), pre-tenure faculty can develop an IFDP by the end of their first academic year that will cover years 2 and 3, and upon reappointment, years 4-6. The candidate can keep a copy of the most current plan and share it with C/PD/PPCCs. Faculty in other ranks are also encouraged to develop an IFDP to guide professional development and assist in evaluation. To the extent that plans include needed faculty development resources, faculty and C/PD/PPCCs will communicate these resource needs to a representative from the Dean of the Faculty Office (CLTL Director or ADOF). Any changes to the plan would be discussed with C/PD/PPCCs. Plans can include but are not limited to the following components:

- Teaching
    - What courses will likely be offered by the faculty member over the time of the plan? (It is understood that departmental needs may result in a change to the plan due to staffing or enrollment pattern changes, etc.)
    - What is the plan for developmental peer observation that meets the needs of the faculty member vis-à-vis their current skills and competencies as teachers? (This should be as specific as possible.)
    - What is the plan for evaluative peer observation? (This could be in accordance with the College's Peer Observation Guidelines.) o What are faculty development needs (mentoring, pedagogical workshops, course development, etc.) related to teaching? What resources are needed to meet these needs? What is the plan for obtaining these resources?

- Scholarship/Creative Work o What are the faculty member's scholarship/creative work goals for this period? (These goals should be reasonable, attainable, and help move the candidate toward successful reappointment, tenure and/or promotion.)
    - What conferences or other professional development opportunities will the faculty member engage?
    - Will the faculty member seek internal or external funding to support scholarship/creative work? What is the plan to apply for these funds?
    - What sorts of support/mentoring (both internal/external to the institution) does the faculty member need to help realize these goals? What is the plan to obtain this support?

- Service o When does the faculty member plan to complete their governance cycle? When does this service best fit with the other components of the plan?
    - What sorts of service complements the faculty member's teaching and scholarship/creative work goals?
o   What leadership opportunities exist and what leadership aspirations do the faculty member have? If applicable, what kind of leadership training would be useful to the faculty member to help meet these goals?

APPENDIX F – PEER OBSERVATION GUIDELINES

SKIDMORE COLLEGE PEER OBSERVATION GUIDELINES

These guidelines were developed by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty/Vice President for Academic Affairs. Departments and programs are strongly encouraged to utilize these guidelines to guide peer observations in their units.

Developmental versus Evaluative Peer Observation

There are two goals of peer observations: developmental (intended to provide feedback for ongoing improvement, enhanced effectiveness, and innovation in classroom instruction) and evaluative (observations made for the purpose of personnel decisions). Developmental peer observation should be conducted in the context of a collaborative and trusting professional relationship whose primary goal is to assist with professional development. While each form of observation complements one another, developmental observation is ongoing, and evaluative assessment occurs during specific windows during the reappointment, tenure, and promotion processes.

Skidmore College faculty have a wide variety of skill levels and approaches to the craft of teaching. Therefore, an individualized approach to developmental peer observation to best meet the needs of individual faculty is warranted. While all faculty can gain from regular feedback about their teaching, pre-tenure and newer non-tenure track faculty could potentially benefit the most from a structured plan of developmental peer observation. Therefore, it is suggested that faculty propose, in consultation with their Chair/Program Directors/Program Personnel Committee Chair (C/PD/PPCC), a developmental peer observation plan that best meets their needs. Depending on what faculty may want to learn about their teaching, developmental peer observers can come from the faculty member's home department (content- and process-related issues) or outside of the department (process-related issues). A promising practice is to pair up with a faculty member and conduct reciprocal developmental or evaluative observations. Such a model may be less intimidating to the faculty member being observed, and provides both with opportunities to learn from one another.

Peer Observation Process:

Regardless of the purpose of the observation (developmental or evaluative), all peer observations should include a pre- and post-observation discussion between the teacher and the observer. The preobservation discussion can provide the opportunity to discuss the content of the sessions to be visited in the broader course context, any specific feedback needs, and any other issues that can set the stage for a productive observation. Observers should be given a syllabus and access to course materials well before the observed session. If possible, at least two contiguous class sessions should be observed to provide the most comprehensive data. During the observation, it can be productive to use a tool or rubric (available from the Office of the DOF/VPAA) to help focus and guide the observations. The data collected using the tool/rubric would then be the focus of the post-observation discussion. During this post-observation discussion, the faculty member who was observed would take notes and then write a reflection on the observation that summarizes the discussion. This reflection would be shared with the observer for any additional feedback.

Therefore, the peer observation process has the following steps:
1. Identification of an observer (can be done in consultation with the C/PD/PPCC) or a willing partner for reciprocal observation

2. Pre-observation meeting where the purpose of the observation is explored, and the faculty member provides the observer with the syllabus and other course materials needed for a meaningful observation
3. Ideally, two classes sessions are observed contiguously
4. Post-observation meeting occurs where observer shares feedback and session are discussed. The faculty member who was observed takes notes and writes a reflection on the session that is shared with the observer within two weeks of the post-observation meeting

Some may not be able to separate developmental from evaluative feedback if the candidate is in the same department. If this is the case, developmental peer observations should be conducted solely by faculty outside of the department. If a department feels it is necessary for all faculty in the department/program who are eligible to participate in the personnel process observe the candidate, the department could consider having more than one visitor at a time come observe or videotaping class sessions (capturing both professor and student contributions) that could be viewed by all faculty in the department. Ultimately, who conducts the developmental peer observations should be under the control of the faculty member being observed.

Promising Practice Guidelines:

The following are suggestions for pre-tenure faculty and AIRs and WIRs in their first six years:

- At least one evaluative observation process (i.e. pre-meeting, at least two sequential class visits if possible, post-meeting, write-up by the observed faculty member) could be conducted by the C/PD/PPCC during the fall semester of the year prior to reappointment, and either during the fall or spring semesters of the year prior to tenure.
- C/PD/PPCC should be sensitive to the number of evaluative visits in which candidates are asked to participate. While it is promising practice that no more than three evaluative observation processes are conducted in the year before reappointment or the year before tenure, departments and programs may work with the candidate to observe more often if they feel it is vital to support the candidate through the personnel process.
- If the candidate is contractually obligated to teach in two or more departments/ programs, the candidate could consult with the C/PD/PPCCs to develop a plan to meet the minimum number of observations, and if mutually agreed upon, a plan to engage in more evaluative observations depending on the professional development needs of the candidate and desires of the department(s) or program(s).
- These guidelines are suggested minimums and maximums, and an increase in a number of evaluative observations should not be seen as an indicator or poor teaching performance. It is possible that more observations are necessary to better inform the letters that must be written at 3rd year reappointment and tenure.
- At least two developmental peer observation processes (can be inter- intra-departmental or paired) could occur before reappointment and one developmental process post-reappointment and prior to tenure (or second reappointment in the case of AIRs and WIRs). These guidelines are suggested minimums only, and faculty are encouraged to engage in more developmental peer observations to promote innovation and high quality teaching.

Full-time non-tenure track faculty in their first 6 years at Skidmore (includes Lecturers, Visiting Assistant/Associate Professors, Instructors, and Teaching Professors):

- At least one evaluative observation process could occur at least a semester before an additional contract (or renewal) is awarded.
- If the contract period is two years or more, at least one developmental peer observation process could occur sometime during the contract period and ideally prior to the evaluative observation. Full-time non-tenure track faculty can develop a plan for observations in consultation with the C/PD(s).

Post-tenure faculty, full-time non-tenure track faculty in positions longer than 6 years, and part-time faculty:

- Full-time non-tenure track faculty who have been in their positions longer than six years and have never been formally observed could engage in at least one evaluative observation process before a new contract or renewal is issued. If the new contract period is two years or more, at least one developmental peer observation process could occur sometime during the contract period and ideally prior to the evaluative observation. Full-time non-tenure track faculty may develop a plan for observations in consultation with the C/PD.
- All part-time faculty are encouraged to participate in developmental peer observation and can develop a plan with their department chair(s) and/or program directors.
- Associate Professors should consider engaging in developmental observations in order to promote high-quality teaching, and evaluative observations if they will stand for promotion. Ideally, post-tenure faculty (including both Associate and Full Professors) could engage in at least one developmental observation every six years. All faculty are encouraged to develop an Individual Faculty Development Plan and incorporate observations into a holistic professional development plan.

APPENDIX G – PEER VISITATION FEEDBACK RUBRIC

Peer Visitation Feedback Rubric

Skidmore College

The rubric is not meant to be an evaluative instrument but a tool for providing feedback to peers for classroom visits. There are five teaching categories:

- Classroom climate
- Organization and pace of session
- Promoting student understanding and retention
- Providing student evaluation and feedback
- Promoting self-directed learning

Associated with each category are questions that address key components of each of the categories. These questions can help peer visitors anchor their observations and provide a focus for follow-up debriefing conversations. Not all sessions will address all key components, and not all questions will pertain to the observed teaching encounter. The tool is designed as a method to standardize and focus observations during peer visitation and provide a starting point for conversations regarding teaching quality during mentoring conversations before and after visitation.

Rubric adapted from Stanford Faculty Development Center's Educational Categories for Clinical Teaching (http://sfdc.stanford.edu/clinical_teaching.html)

Teaching Category: Classroom Climate
This category addresses overall climate in the classroom including the degree to which the environment is welcoming, there are opportunities for challenge, and adequate support for acknowledging and dealing with limitations.
To what extent does the teacher demonstrate enthusiasm (both verbally and nonverbally) for the topic and students?

How is respect for and inclusion of students demonstrated? (e.g., using student names, inviting all students to participate, providing adequate opportunities for participation)
How does the teacher demonstrate openness to divergent opinions/thoughts?
How are limitations acknowledged? Does the teacher admit one's own mistakes and limitations? Are students invited to bring up difficulties?
How does the teacher give students the opportunity to push themselves intellectually and behaviorally? Is the climate supportive of risk taking in response to challenge?
Other comments related to Classroom Climate:

Teaching Category: Organization of Session
This category addresses to the degree to which the teaching interaction is focused, goal directed, and well-paced.

To what extent are the session goals relevant to overall course learning objectives?
Was the teacher conscious of time in the context of the session's agenda and goals?
To what extent did the teacher assess student learning needs as they related to the pace of the session?
Were the session topics and goals adequately covered?
Other comments related to Organization of the Session:

Teaching Category: Promoting Student Understanding and Retention This category addresses the teacher's approach to explaining content, having students meaningfully interact with that content, and promote understanding and remembering of content.
What is the evidence that the teacher is appropriately prepared for the class session?
What type of pedagogical methods did the teacher use to introduce and reinforce the content? How effective were the chosen methods?
To what degree was the material clearly presented? (e.g., use of examples, provision of clear definitions, answering questions directly and effectively)
In what ways was integrative learning reinforced? (e.g., making explicit connections in material, asking students to make connections with other knowledge or experiences)
Other comments related to Promoting Student Understanding and Retention:
Teaching Category: Providing Student Evaluation and Feedback This category addresses the process by which the teacher assesses the acquisition of session material and provides feedback about performance.
Does the teacher effectively use various types of questions such as recall, synthesis, and/or application? Does the teacher wait an appropriate amount of time for response?
How does the teacher hold students accountable? (e.g., providing direct feedback about accuracy, explaining why answers are correct/incorrect, providing suggestions for improvement, encouraging feedback)
Other comments related to Providing Student Evaluation and Feedback:
Teaching Category: Promoting Self-Directed Learning This category addresses the degree to which the teacher motivates students to take charge of their own learning.
Does the teacher provide opportunities for students to pursue chosen topics?
To what extent are students encouraged to follow up with the teacher outside of class?

How does the teacher model the use of resources for lifelong learning? For example, discussion of one's own scholarship or creative work?
Other comments related to Promoting SelfDirected Learning:

APPENDIX H – GUIDELINES FOR ASSEMBLING MATERIALS FOR TENURE

GUIDELINES ON ASSEMBLING MATERIALS FOR TENURE

This document is not a policy statement that has been endorsed by the faculty at Skidmore College nor has it been officially endorsed by Appointments and Tenure Committee. It is a set of guidelines that has been developed by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty and Vice President for Academic Affairs that summarizes written and unwritten conventions regarding the assembling of one's materials for tenure in order to provide increased clarity regarding expectations. While the document has not been officially endorsed by ATC, it was vetted by the committee during spring of 2016, and their feedback has been incorporated.

The materials you present and the manner in which they are assembled conveys your professional narrative to various campus constituencies at the point of tenure. These constituencies include your department(s) or program, the members of ATC, the Office of the Dean of the Faculty and Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the President. While your department or program colleagues will likely be familiar with your discipline (although not always), ATC is comprised of colleagues outside of your department or program, so keeping all of these audiences in mind while assembling your materials is important. While this document provides guidelines for assembling your materials, the narrative you present is yours, and therefore, you are the ultimate authority as to how your documents are presented. Typically, materials are presented to demonstrate accomplishments related to teaching effectiveness, professional accomplishment (i.e. scholarship and/or creative work), and service. Please consult the Faculty Handbook (FHB) for elaboration on criteria for tenure for each of these categories.

Assembling Materials to Demonstrate Teaching Effectiveness

Evaluation of teaching effectiveness at Skidmore takes into account the following four features of successful teaching: motivation and mentoring, expertise, course design and delivery, and fostering student learning. Informed judgment about a colleague's teaching should be based on evidence relating to the preceding features of successful teaching that takes into consideration the arc of a candidate's career and development, and work done at the various levels of the curriculum. Such evidence can include reviews of syllabi, student work products, peer observations, discussions of one's pedagogy through a pedagogical statement, and qualitative and quantitative student evaluations. This does not exhaust the ways in which effective teaching can be demonstrated, and candidates may wish to present other evidence.

For candidates on a shortened tenure clock, inclusion of evidence from your previous institution(s) regarding teaching effectiveness is needed to demonstrate the quality of your teaching performance over time with the understanding that there will be an emphasis on the quality of teaching that was accomplished at Skidmore. It is helpful to include a brief narrative that explains how to read outside evaluations either as part of or separate from your pedagogical statement.

The follow provides suggestions as to how to assemble evidence of teaching effectiveness.

- Teaching/pedagogical statement: A summary teaching statement can be presented that discusses your overall pedagogical approach and explains any issues in your teaching record that may need clarification; for example, pedagogical innovations; unique contributions to one's department/program, all-college curriculum, or the College's strategic priorities; reasons for inconsistencies in student teaching evaluations, etc. While there is no suggested length for these statements, clarity and brevity are appreciated by those who read your materials.

- Summary table: A table that presents a listing of courses by semester in which they were taught; enrollment and course caps in those courses (for example, 23/29); the three summary numbers from student quantitative evaluations that address the course overall (item 2.1), instructor effectiveness overall (item 4.1) and learning overall (item 5.1); and any course releases and their rationale.

- Presentation of information on specific courses: For each course taught, include student evaluations (both quantitative and qualitative – these are required by the Faculty Handbook) in chronological order starting from the earliest course iteration; syllabus for the course (if the syllabus has changed considerably over iterations, you may want to include previous syllabus iterations, or a statement as to how and why the course has evolved and only include the most recent syllabus); other evidence which may include selected assignments, exams, examples of student work, outlines of innovative class presentations, or other relevant evidence. Presenting evidence of teaching effectiveness grouped by courses helps to give readers a sense of how specific courses evolve over time, and allows you to present other evidence (student work, assignments, etc.) in a manner that best complements the totality of student evaluations for that specific course.

Assembling Materials to Demonstrate Scholarship and Professional Accomplishment

Skidmore expects its faculty to cultivate, over the course of their careers, the scholarly or artistic maturity sufficient to define problems and issues in their areas of expertise, which they then engage in their work. Scholarship invites the critical scrutiny of peers. Similarly, recitals, performance, and exhibitions provide faculty in the performing and visual arts the opportunity to demonstrate their creativity and are equivalent to scholarly publications and research in other disciplines. Scholarly achievement includes but is not limited to peer-reviewed books, monographs, and articles; exhibitions; peer-reviewed, external research grant proposals; conference presentations and invited lectures; and unpublished manuscripts, drafts, and works in progress.

The follow provides suggestions as to how to assemble evidence of scholarship and professional accomplishment:

- Copies of Annual Reports: This is required by the FHB.
- Copy of Curriculum Vitae: This is required by the FHB.
- Research/scholarship/artistic statement: It can be helpful to include a statement that educates readers about your professional accomplishments in the context of your discipline. Remember that many readers of your file are from outside of your discipline, and this statement is critical in helping those individuals understand disciplinary norms and how your work conforms to or might converge from those conventions. What are the broad questions your work addresses? What methods do you utilize to interrogate these questions? What are your major findings or accomplishments? How does your record demonstrate a trajectory in which your work both advances the discipline and builds upon itself in increasingly sophisticated ways? Are there any issues related to infrastructure, facilities, and/or equipment that may have impacted your work? How do you see your professional work in the future? As with your pedagogical statement, there is no required length, but statements that are too lengthy can be hard to follow and readers may lose sight of the most important points. Strive for clarity and brevity.

- External letters: Typically, candidates request 3-4 external letters from scholars and/or artists that can speak to the following: publishing or exhibition conventions in the discipline (e.g. coauthorship, productivity rates), the quality of the candidate's work and dissemination outlets, the position of the candidate's work in the broader disciplinary context, and the candidate's promise in making important, meaningful contributions to the discipline in the future. It is important that you follow your department or program's personnel policies regarding external letters as this process may vary. The quality of the external letters is of the utmost importance, and a document that educates your letter writers about these expectations is available to you and will be sent to your letter writers by your Department Chair. We encourage you to choose expert reviewers who have the knowledge base and vantage point to critically evaluate your work fairly and objectively. While this does not preclude you from choosing reviewers that you know, please select a range of letter writers that have the expertise, stature in the field, knowledge of your research, and/or familiarity with the liberal arts setting so that the most effective letter possible can be written.

- Copies of scholarship/record of artistic accomplishment: Include copies of scholarship or evidence of artistic accomplishment completed during the time frame under review (that may vary depending on the case). The College is interested in understanding the trajectory of your work and your promise for continued productivity while being specifically interested in what you have or will accomplish while being affiliated with Skidmore. Therefore, depending on the context of your candidacy (e.g. shortened tenure clock), you may wish to include work that was completed previous to the review period.

Assembling Materials to Demonstrate Service

Service presupposes a sense of responsible citizenship, or collegiality, and is essential at our institution. The broad categories that follow encompass the range of professional activities that faculty members can undertake in order to fulfill their responsibilities in service. Faculty members are not expected to perform active service in all of these categories in any one review period or even across an entire career. However, they are expected to demonstrate that they are effectively performing their fair share of this important faculty work. These categories include: service to students, service to departments or academic programs, service to the college, and service to the academic profession.

Service is weighted differently depending on where you are in your career arc at Skidmore. For faculty who are pre-tenure, their service is expected to be relatively modest (the FHB states a proportion of 10%)

whereas Associate and Full Professors are expected to make increasing and substantive contributions to the college.

The following provides suggestions as to how to assemble evidence of service:

- Service statement: A statement that briefly describes your orientation toward service, your activities and accomplishments, and your plans for serving the college in the future may be included.

- Internal letters: Typically, candidates request 2-3 letters from colleagues outside the department but internal to the College to discuss your service contributions to the college. These letters may address other categories as well (teaching and/or professional accomplishments) but they do not have to include all three areas.

- Other letters: If you are on a shortened tenure clock, it can be helpful to request letters from one or two colleagues at your previous institution to discuss your service contributions and promise for continued citizenship.

SHORTENED TENURE CLOCK

For candidates who are standing for tenure on a shortened time frame, it is important that you demonstrate a trajectory of high-quality teaching, engaged and maturing scholarship, and commitment to service. It is advisable to seek guidance from the DOF/VPAA Office, the Chair of ATC, and other knowledgeable colleagues regarding the presentation of your file.

YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR PRESENTING YOUR OWN NARRATIVE

The previous sections have described the conventions for assembling materials for tenure. They are merely guidelines based on tradition and dictates of the FHB, and you will be well served to seek additional mentoring and guidance from members of your department or program, colleagues outside of your department, and the Office of the Dean of the Faculty and Vice President for Academic Affairs. As the person assembling the materials, you present your file in the way that best represents your work. Ultimately, it is a testament to your professional credentials in the context of your discipline, and is the best proxy for your work when it clearly illuminates your accomplishments as a teacher, scholar, and citizen situated the liberal arts at Skidmore College.

APPENDIX I – GUIDELINES FOR ASSEMBLING MATERIALS FOR PROMOTION

GUIDELINES ON ASSEMBLING MATERIALS FOR PROMOTION

This document was prepared by the Promotions Committee (PC) in consultation with the Associate Dean of the Faculty with responsibilities for tenure-track personnel and the Dean of the Faculty/Vice President for Academic Affairs. Modeled on the DOF/VPAA's guidelines on assembling materials for tenure, it includes two sections:

- Section I reproduces Faculty Handbook specifications regarding the content of promotion files. Detailed information regarding promotion criteria, eligibility, and mandatory procedures is in the Faculty Handbook, Part One, Article VIII, Sections A and F. You are encouraged to review these sections thoroughly and to keep them in mind while assembling your file.
- Section II provides additional guidance intended to help candidates assemble files that are as informative as possible. These are not requirements, but rather suggestions from PC based on its prior experience reviewing promotion files.

Detailed information regarding PC's deadlines and procedures is in the PC Operating Code and Calendar (distributed via the faculty email list and on the PC webpage). The handbook of your department/program may also include relevant information. Guidelines regarding the management of electronic promotion files are in the document "Procedures for the Creation and Maintenance of Faculty Academic Portfolios" (on the DOF/VPAA webpage and in the Department Chairs/Program Directors Handbook; see www.skidmore.edu/dof-vpaa).

The materials that you present and the way in which they are organized convey a professional narrative to multiple constituencies. These include members of your department(s)/program(s), members of PC, the ADOF with responsibilities for tenure-track personnel, the DOF/VPAA, and the President. While department/program colleagues may (or may not) be familiar with your discipline and professional practices, it is likely that most members of PC and the administration will have little knowledge of them. The external, internal, and department/program letters submitted on your behalf are expected to address various aspects of your work. Ultimately, however, it is your responsibility to document, explain, and contextualize your accomplishments in the categories of teaching, scholarship/creative work, and service as these categories are defined in the Faculty Handbook.

SECTION I: Faculty Handbook specifications regarding the content of promotion files

The Faculty Handbook states, "Promotion files shall include the following" (Part One, Article VII, Section F, number 2, a, viii):

(1) "An updated CV, which makes clear what has been achieved since the last promotion."

(2) "All scholarly, creative, or professional materials produced since the last promotion; candidates may add some earlier materials for purposes of context or to show continued growth. Candidates may wish to seek letters from Skidmore colleagues outside their department qualified to speak to their professional accomplishment. Candidates may also wish to include a statement about achievements and works in progress."

(3) "The ten most recent consecutive semesters of teaching evaluations. For purposes of context, the candidate may wish to include other evaluations. The candidate shall also add copies of syllabi, and may include assignments and handouts. The candidate may also wish to append a statement about teaching goals and philosophy. The file may include peer evaluations of teaching."

(4) "A cover sheet showing courses taught, sabbatical leaves, and any course releases over the previous six years."

(5) "Service credentials presented within the context of the broad statements about service" in the Faculty Handbook (Part One, Article VIII, Section A). "The candidate may wish to provide relevant documents and seek letters from Committee Chairs or members who can speak about the quality and extent of service."

SECTION II: Additional suggestions from PC

(1) CV and Annual Reports

- It is helpful to format all sections of your CV to distinguish achievements before and after receiving tenure, and/or before and after the start of your appointment at Skidmore.

- Copies of Skidmore Annual Reports (or, if relevant and available, similar documents from a prior institution) may help to document aspects of teaching, scholarly/creative work, and/or service that may not be detailed in your CV.

(2) External and internal letters

- It is important to follow your department's/program's personnel policies regarding the solicitation of external and internal letters, as this process may vary.

- A model letter for requesting external letters (including information about Skidmore's evaluative criteria and procedures) is in the Department Chairs/Program Directors Handbook.

- In many cases, external letters (from individuals in the candidate's field) address scholarship/creative work, while internal letters (from Skidmore colleagues outside the candidate's department/program) address service. However, these letters may address any aspects of your professional practice that the authors are well positioned to evaluate.

- If your file includes teaching and/or service credentials from another institution, it may be beneficial for one or more external letters to address them.

- External letters that address scholarship/creative work should be solicited from reviewers who have the knowledge base and vantage point to critically evaluate your work fairly and objectively. While this does not preclude the selection of reviewers whom you know, it is beneficial to include a range of letter writers who have expertise and stature in the field, knowledge of your work, and/or familiarity with the liberal arts setting.

- There is no expected number of letters. Most promotion cases are supported by 3-4 external ones and 2-3 internal ones.

(3) Presentation of teaching

- You may wish to provide a teaching statement that discusses your pedagogical approach and explains any issues in your teaching that may need clarification. The statement may address pedagogical innovations; classroom challenges and how you addressed them; distinctive contributions to your department/program, the all-college curriculum, or Skidmore's strategic priorities; possible reasons for inconsistencies in student course evaluations; and/or other topics that you consider relevant. Clarity and brevity are appreciated by those who read your materials.

- If your file includes teaching credentials from another institution, the teaching statement may address whether/how the teaching expectations and circumstances of your prior position differed from those at Skidmore.

- Notable changes in a course over time may be documented by multiple iterations of the syllabus and/or addressed in the teaching statement. Other evidence of teaching effectiveness may include, but is not limited to, selected assignments, exams, examples of student work, example of feedback to students, and/or other items that you consider relevant.

- It is helpful to provide a chronological list of the ten most recent semesters of teaching that includes course titles; enrollments/caps (e.g., 14/28); and, for courses taught at Skidmore, the three summary numbers from student quantitative evaluations that address the course overall (item 2.1), instructor effectiveness overall (item 4.1), and learning overall (item 5.1). Information about other work with students (advising, independent studies, theses, lab supervision, etc.) may be included as well. This list may be separate from or part of the "cover sheet" required by the Faculty Handbook.

- If your file includes student course evaluations from another institution, it is helpful to indicate whether they are complete sets or selections; explain the rating scale; and note how they were administered and used (required or voluntary, developmental or evaluative, etc.). This information may be included in the teaching statement or provided separately.

- Quantitative course evaluations in which data are reported in color should be provided in color. If possible, department/program course evaluation forms with faint handwriting or cut-off sections should be annotated to clarify any illegible or missing portions.

(4) Presentation of scholarly/creative work

- You may wish to provide a statement that educates readers about your professional accomplishments in the context of your discipline. Since many readers of your file are from outside your discipline, this statement is critical in helping them understand how your work may conform to and/or converge from disciplinary conventions. What questions or themes does your work address and what methods do you use? How does your work demonstrate a trajectory that both builds upon itself and advances the discipline? How is your work disseminated and what factors shape its audience and reception? Have any resource-related issues impacted your work? Clarity and brevity are appreciated by those who read your materials.

- External letters from individuals in your field may speak to professional conventions (e.g., co-authorship/collaboration, productivity rates, etc.); the quality of your work and dissemination outlets; and the position and impact of your work within a broader disciplinary context. See above for additional comments about external letters.

(5) Presentation of service

- It is helpful to provide a list of service activities if such information is not already included in your CV and/or Annual Reports.

- Especially if you are a candidate for promotion to Full Professor, you may wish to provide a statement that situates your service interests and accomplishments in relation to students, your department/program, the college, and/or the profession. Clarity and brevity are appreciated by those who read your materials.

- If your file includes service credentials from another institution, the statement may address whether/how the service expectations and circumstances of your prior position differed from those at Skidmore.

APPENDIX J - PROCEDURES FOR CREATION AND MAINTENANCE OF FACULTY ACADEMIC PORTFOLIOS

Procedures for Creation and Maintenance of Electronic Faculty Academic Portfolios

Beginning the academic year 2017-2018, all pre-tenure faculty will be provided a Blackboard site for the building of an electronic academic portfolio for third-year review, and tenure and promotion reviews. First-year faculty will be informed of this at their first meeting with the Appointments and Tenure Committee (ATC).

Third Year Review Process:

1. All pre-tenure faculty who are being reviewed in their third year will have an electronic portfolio created in Blackboard.
2. The department chair/program director/program personnel committee chair (C/PD/PPCC) will provide the candidate with a deadline for submission of their materials to the department/program.
3. The candidate will have full control over their third year electronic academic portfolio, including the ability to add and remove Skidmore users who are entitled to access to the portfolio from the department, program, or College. It is the candidate's responsibility to add users in the department, program, and College who should have access to the materials.
4. Effective at the close of business day (i.e., 4:30 p.m.) on the date that recommendations for reappointment are due from departments to the Associate Dean of the Faculty in accordance with the ATC calendar, Academic Technologies will create a mirrored (i.e., duplicate) portfolio and give access to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. The candidate will retain access and full control over their original electronic portfolio.

Promotion and Tenure Review Process (ATC/PC):

1. An electronic academic portfolio will be created for all pre-tenure faculty.
2. When the candidate is approaching tenure or promotion review, the ATC/PC will provide them with a deadline for submission of their materials.
3. The candidate will have full control over their tenure/promotion electronic academic portfolio, including the ability to add and remove Skidmore users who are entitled to access to the portfolio from the department, program, or College. It is the candidate's responsibility to add users in the department, program, and College who should have access to the materials.
4. External reviewers, i.e., those not affiliated with Skidmore College, are to be granted access to tenure/promotion-related documents via Box.
5. Effective at the close of business day (i.e., 4:30 p.m.) on the ATC/PC deadline for submission of materials, Academic Technologies will create a mirrored (i.e., duplicate) portfolio and give access to the ATC/PC, Associate Dean of the Faculty, and Dean of the Faculty/VPAA.
6. Under unusual circumstances, the candidate may be given permission by the ATC/PC to upload additional materials for consideration after the deadline. To do so, the candidate will be given temporary access to the mirrored site to upload such documents. It will be the candidate's responsibility to update their original site as well.
7. An archive of the academic portfolio submitted to ATC/PC will be stored on Datastor after the final Board of Trustees vote.
8. The candidate will retain access and full control over their original electronic academic portfolio.

Note: Under the unusual circumstance that Blackboard cannot accommodate the size and format of files necessary to fully present the candidate's case, the candidate will be responsible for making arrangements with ATC/PC and the office of the DOF/VPAA regarding access and archiving. Otherwise, all candidates are expected to use Blackboard to archive their file and disseminate their materials to internal constituencies.

APPENDIX K – ATC INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXTERNAL REVIEWERS

May X, 2018

Dear NAME OF THE COLLEAGUE TO WHOM YOU'RE WRITING,

Thank you for agreeing to serve as an external reviewer for _____'s application for tenure. This is a labor-intensive task, and your willingness to assist us in this review is deeply appreciated.

As each institution's process differs with respect to the tenure, this letter provides some insight into Skidmore's process. Skidmore College is a selective, private liberal arts institution where teaching is paramount; on average, our faculty teach five courses or the equivalent each academic year. Tenure and promotion files are evaluated according to three areas: teaching, scholarship, and service, and we are asking you to address the candidate's scholarship.

Skidmore candidates for tenure typically select their own external reviewers with few departmental exceptions. We encourage candidates to choose expert reviewers who have the knowledge base and vantage point to critically evaluate their work fairly and objectively. While this does not preclude candidates from choosing reviewers that they know, we recommend candidates select a range of letter writers that have the expertise, stature in the field, knowledge of the candidate's research, and familiarity with the liberal arts setting to write the most effective letters. It is helpful if you would contextualize your relationship to the candidate in your letter and briefly describe your credentials.

The tenure process at Skidmore has three stages. During the first stage, the applicant's file is reviewed by the home department or program, and a recommendation regarding tenure is made to the College's Appointments and Tenure Committee (ATC). ATC is a multidisciplinary committee of seven faculty representing various college divisions (i.e., humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, arts, and pre-professional programs). The ATC reviews the file along with the letters written by the candidate's colleagues in their home departments/programs, other colleagues within the College, and the external reviewers. In terms of your letter, it will be read by members of the ATC, the Associate Dean of the Faculty, the Dean of the Faculty, and in some cases depending on the individual department or program policies and procedures, by colleagues in the candidate's department or program. The candidate will not have access to your letter unless the individual is denied tenure.

It is likely that ATC members are not familiar with the candidate's disciplinary conventions, so external letters are of the utmost importance in helping them understand the importance and relevance of the candidate's work in the discipline. The ATC depends heavily on the external reviews in its assessments. Once the file, including all letters, is reviewed, the ATC makes a recommendation to the President regarding promotion and tenure. The President then makes his recommendation to the Board of Trustees for final approval.

Letters that are most useful to the ATC do the following:

- Provide a perspective on publishing or exhibition conventions in the discipline; for example:

- o Co-authorship
- o Rate of publication or completion of works
- Speak to the quality of candidate's work; for example:
    - o Rigorous and appropriate methodology
    - o Conceptual sophistication
    - o Aesthetic value
- Position the candidate's work in the broader disciplinary context, for example:
    - o How does the work push the disciplinary discourse forward?
    - o In what ways does it build on extant knowledge?
    - o Are the candidates' professional contributions creative and useful to the broader discipline?
- Address the quality of the candidate's dissemination outlet, for example:
    - o Journal rankings
    - o Quality of book presses
    - o Prestige of artistic venues
- Illuminate the nature of the scholarly or artistic process, for example:
    - o What sort of intellectual, scholarly, or artistic effort was necessary to produce the work?
- Evaluate the candidate's promise in making important, meaningful contributions to the discipline in the future

In sum, we hope to receive evaluative letters that help illuminate the strengths and/or weaknesses of the candidate's work in appropriate disciplinary contexts. These kinds of letters are valued and most welcome.

Again, we understand that reviewing a colleague's body of work takes time and considerable effort. Thank you for your assistance in this review.

In gratitude,

Chair of NAME OF DEPARTMENT

Dear Colleague,

Thank you for agreeing to serve as an external reviewer for Professor _____'s application for promotion to Professor. This is a labor-intensive task, and your willingness to lend your expertise to assist us in this review is deeply appreciated. As each institution's process differs with respect to promotion, this e-mail seeks to provide some insight into Skidmore's process. Skidmore College is a selective, private liberal arts institution where teaching is paramount; on average, our faculty teach 5 courses or the equivalent each academic year. Promotion files are evaluated according to three areas: teaching, scholarship/creative work, and service, and we are asking you to specifically address the candidate's scholarship/creative work.

Candidates for promotion select their own external reviewers. We encourage candidates to choose expert reviewers who have the knowledge base and vantage point to critically evaluate their work fairly and objectively. While this does not preclude candidates from choosing reviewers that they know, we recommend candidates select a range of letter writers that have the expertise, stature in the field, knowledge of the candidate's research, and familiarity with the liberal arts setting to write the most effective letters. It is helpful if you would contextualize your relationship to the candidate in your letter and briefly describe your credentials.

The promotion process at Skidmore has three stages. During the first stage, the applicant's file is reviewed by the home department, and a recommendation regarding promotion is made to the Promotions Committee (PC). The PC is a multidisciplinary committee of five faculty representing various college divisions (i.e. humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, arts, pre-professional programs). The PC reviews the file along with the letters written by the candidates' colleagues in their home departments/programs, other colleagues within the College, and the external reviewers. In terms of your letter, it will be read by members of the PC, the Associate Dean of the Faculty, and the Dean of the Faculty, and colleagues in the candidate's department. The candidate will not have access to your letter.

It is likely that the PC members are not familiar with the candidate's disciplinary conventions, so external letters are of the utmost importance in helping them understand the importance and relevance of the candidate's work in the discipline. The PC depends heavily on the external reviews in their assessments. Once the file including all letters is reviewed, the PC makes a recommendation to the President regarding promotion. The President then makes his recommendation to the Board of Trustees for final approval.

Letters that are most useful to the PC do the following:

- Provide a perspective on publishing or exhibition conventions in the discipline;
- Speak to the quality of candidates' work;
- Position candidates' work in the broader disciplinary context;
- Address the quality of candidates' dissemination outlets;
- Illuminate the nature of the scholarly or artistic process, for example:
    - What sort of intellectual, scholarly, or artistic effort was necessary to produce the work?

In addition, I have included language from our Faculty Handbook that specifies the criteria for scholarship that merits advancement in rank from Associate to Full Professor:

"[A] record of sustained and significant engagement with the candidate's discipline(s), continued development as a scholar or artist, and evidence of success in completing some substantial aspect(s) of research or artistic agenda beyond the candidate's accomplishments at the time of promotion to Associate Professor. Through their research or creative work, Full Professors are expected to have developed a mature perspective on their field(s) that enables them to situate both their own work and the work of their students in the landscape of their discipline(s). Full Professors are also expected to continue their engagement with their scholarly or artistic discipline(s)."

Again, we understand that reviewing a colleague's body of work takes time and considerable effort. Thank you for your assistance with Professor _____'s review.

Please let _____ know, how you would like to receive the materials for review: either electronically in a shared file or hard copy. We will follow up with you.

Please address your letter to the Promotion Committee, and send it to the following address to the attention of _____. You may also scan the letter and e-mail it. The letter is due on December 1, 2018.

APPENDIX M – SPACE POLICY

Skidmore College Academic Affairs Office Space Policy

In assigning space usage to Departments, Academic Affairs faculty, staff, and administrators will follow these guidelines:

1. When possible, each full-time faculty member should have exclusive use of a faculty office.

2. When possible, part-time faculty, including Research Associates/Fellows, should have the use of offices, but need not have exclusive use of offices. Emeritus faculty may have use of shared offices.

3. When possible, Departments should have adequate space for common areas that can be used for interaction, both structured and unstructured, and for use by faculty, staff, and students.

4. Exclusive use of an office to a faculty member or administrator who already has exclusive use of an office somewhere else on campus is prohibited.

5. Departments/Programs should periodically undertake comprehensive reassessments of the use of all space assigned to them. Refinements and adjustments should occur on an annual basis within the context of ongoing departmental/program discussions. Department Chairs/Program Directors oversee both the allocation of space and the discussions about the allocation of space in their assigned areas. Departments/Programs may propose changes in space utilization through consultation with the Space Planning Working Group (SPWG).

6. The offices of faculty or administrators who are currently on full-year leaves will be assigned to other faculty/staff while the occupant is on leave. Faculty/administrators on leave do not need to move out of their office, but will need to make room on the desk/shelves for incoming faculty/staff. Any books or other possessions that need to be packed in boxes can be stored in the office or in the faculty/administrator's home. There is no available space on campus to store such belongings.

7. The offices of faculty who are currently on phased employment who teach only one semester can be utilized by contingent faculty during the semester in which the faculty member is not teaching. Administrators who are currently on phased employment may be expected to share their office with other staff. Faculty/administrators on phased employment do not need to move out of their offices, but they do need to make room on the desk/shelves for incoming faculty/staff. Any books or other possessions that need to be packed in boxes can be stored in the office or in the faculty/administrator's home. There is no available space on campus to store such belongings.

8. Faculty and academic staff not occupying their office during the summer are strongly encouraged to make their space available for use by the Office of the Dean of Special Programs, ODSP, for its summer faculty and staff, as needed. Departments should coordinate with ODSP each spring when summer office plans are known.

APPENDIX N – FULBRIGHT AWARD POLICY

Policy Regarding Academic year Fulbright awards and other Fellowships (hereinafter Fellowship) that are payable directly to the faculty member. (Note: This does not apply to fellowships awarded for the summer.)

1. The applying faculty member must provide the DOF/VPAA with a copy of the Fellowship application at the time of submission.
2. At the time of award, the faculty member must provide to the DOF/VPAA a copy of the notice of award and the terms and conditions of the award including, but not limited to, the stipend, housing allowance, travel allowance, dependent allowance, and health insurance that is being provided.
3. Faculty receiving Fellowships during a regularly scheduled sabbatical year, or rescheduled year approved by the DOF/VPAA, shall be entitled to receive the benefits normally provided to faculty under the terms of the Faculty Handbook, Part One, Section IX, Subparts A and B. However, faculty receiving a Fellowship shall be ineligible for receipt of a sabbatical enhancement award. Faculty who have submitted the Fellowship application and award documentation in a timely manner may be eligible for "top up" funds from the DOF/VPAA in an amount not to exceed the faculty member's full-time regular base salary for the period of the Fellowship. If "top up" funds are requested, that request must be submitted in writing. Requests will not be considered unless all required application and award documentation has been provided to the DOF/VPAA in a timely fashion. Decisions regarding eligibility for "top up" funds will be based on the availability of funds and other factors defined by the DOF/VPAA.
4. Faculty receiving a Fellowship during non-scheduled sabbatical years require approval for that leave from their Chair and the DOF/VPAA before accepting the Fellowship. If approved, these leaves will be considered "Leaves of Absence Without Pay." A Leave of Absence Without Pay is not eligible to receive "top up" funds. Other rights defined in Part One, Section IX, Subpart C of the Faculty Handbook apply.
