

NEW COURSE

FALL 2020

IG 251:

TAKING THE JOURNEY HOME

with Prof. Lisa Grady-Willis

Tuesdays/Thursdays,
11:10am-12:30pm

What does home mean to you?

This course examines the concept of home as it relates to the historical and contemporary realities of Black people in the United States. Using the work of scholars and writers such as bell hooks and Toni Morrison, students will explore notions of home as a catalyst for dialogue both within and between families and communities. Students will reflect on their own experiences of home as they grow as a community of writers and critical thinkers.

(IG 251) Intergroup Relations

Cross-listed with Black Studies

The journey includes:

- Examining work ranging from poetry to prose
- Gaining confidence and skill as writers
- Developing a foundational understanding of dialogue