INTRODUCTION

To encourage the professional development of faculty, Skidmore College provides support in a variety of ways, including money allocated through departments for equipment and travel; stipends for curricular and pedagogical workshops in the summer; and a sabbatical leave program for untenured and tenured faculty. The Faculty Development Committee (FDC) invites applications for development grants four times each year and for two faculty research initiative grants of up to $3,000 each in the spring as well as the Faculty Award for Major Project Completion, which provides a $5,000 stipend. It also reviews applications for the Summer Collaborative Research Program, which includes pedagogical, curricular, and performance activities, as well as research and the Summer Technological Initiative Grants and the Tang Museum Exhibits. In addition, the Dean of the Faculty receives requests for special needs of all kinds: research and travel, exhibitions and performances, curricular and pedagogical initiatives.

Because faculty development funds are not intended to support faculty traveling to conferences, the Faculty Development Committee will not normally fund the costs of reporting finished scholarship at conferences.

The Advanced Studies in England (ASE) Grant is also available to faculty who wish to pursue research in England. More information about the ASE opportunity is available from the Dean of Studies Office.

The Office of the Dean of the Faculty also provides funds for travel to present work at professional meetings and, under some circumstances, to chair sessions, to serve as panelists, or to attend conferences – the former supported by the Travel-to-Read Program, and the latter by the Travel-to-Represent Program.

FACULTY AWARD FOR MAJOR PROJECT COMPLETION

CLOSING DATES: Monday, November 14, 2005
Monday, March 6, 2006

PROGRAM

Faculty Awards for Major Project Completion are intended to support faculty members during the summer as they complete a critical phase of a major research project or artistic endeavor. Their function is to complement the Faculty Development Grants, which provide funding for the start-up level of scholarship, and the Faculty Research Initiative Grants, which support scholarship beyond the start-up level. The goal of the award is to encourage faculty to devote time during the summer to the completion of a major scholarly endeavor by making such efforts as financially rewarding as alternatives, including teaching, in which faculty members might otherwise engage. Recipients of the award are expected to complete a major project culminating in a discipline-appropriate outcome, such as a published manuscript, concert, or major exhibition. An abstract or conference paper or an in-house performance or exhibition would generally not be considered an appropriate objective.

AWARDS

The FDC will make up to six Major Project Completion Awards per year, each in the amount of $5,000. The award may be taken in its entirety as a stipend, or it may be divided between compensation and reimbursement for expenses including supplies, travel, or other project costs. The award is granted on a competitive basis, with preference given to tenured members of the faculty. Faculty may receive the award up to once every five years. During the grant period, faculty members may not participate in summer teaching, summer collaborative research, or other undertakings that might interfere with the pursuit of the major work intended by the award. The grant period will normally run from June 1 to September 1. Awardees must submit a report on the work accomplished during the grant period to the FDC by September 15. In addition, recipients are expected to notify the FDC when publication or exhibition plans become final, and they are asked to submit to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty a copy of the completed work or other documentation. Eligibility for subsequent awards is contingent upon demonstrating that the project has come to fruition.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. The applicant submits the following to the FDC:
 - a. a letter describing the scholarly project and its intended final outcome. The letter should provide details on the work that is already underway, and it must specify how the critical phase to be accomplished during the grant period fits into the ongoing scholarly project;
 - b. a current curriculum vitae;
 - c. the names of three to four external/internal disinterested referees who can judge this project for its worthiness. Applicants are responsible for providing correct addresses and for selecting reviewers who can perform their tasks in a timely manner. The FDC will contact the referees, send them copies of the application, and request their evaluations; an itemized budget describing how the grant amount will be divided between stipend and reimbursement.

TANG EXHIBIT GRANTS

CLOSING DATES: MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 2005
MONDAY, APRIL 10, 2006

PROGRAM

Tang Exhibit Grants are designed to support faculty work in the planning and development of interdisciplinary exhibits in the Frances Young Tang Teaching Museum and Art Gallery. These grants are aimed at exhibit development, not budgetary support for the exhibit per se. Exhibits under development should address issues of interest to the larger college and local community – for example, topics relevant to the College's curriculum, ideas of broad cultural concern, subjects which do not bear directly on curriculum but are issues of the "moment" that serve to enhance undergraduate education and perhaps relate indirectly to course work. Proposed exhibitions will need to complement the Tang exhibition schedule as a whole, by providing balance and variety in conjunction with other planned exhibitions. Exhibitions by their very nature should have a visual emphasis and use the museum space effectively; consequently, proposals should clearly explain why a particular exhibition "needs" to be in the Tang. For projects receiving awards, a one-page summary of the progress made should be submitted to the Associate Dean of the Faculty at the end of the term of support.

AWARDS

A grant of up to $3,000 or one course reduction for a semester depending upon the extent of work involved in developing the exhibition will be awarded. Ordinarily, the award will occur eighteen months to two years prior to the proposed exhibit opening, and it will provide funds to support development of the exhibition, such as travel to libraries and museums for purposes of reviewing potential material for the exhibition and enriching its conceptual development.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Prior to formal application, applicants must first discuss their exhibit plans with the Tang Museum Director, Curator and/or Museum educator to ascertain that:

1. the proposal does not duplicate another exhibition either recently shown or projected in the near future at the Tang or other regional institutions;
2. the proposed exhibit is doable within the projected time frame;
3. the proposed exhibit can be accommodated by available Tang exhibit spaces.

Formal applications should be submitted to the Faculty Development Committee for evaluation according to the committee's published review schedule. Each application should include:

1. a title and brief description;
2. an explanation of the intellectual theme or focus of the exhibit, including a description of its interdisciplinarity, curricular application, potential supplementary activities, and intended audiences;
3. a statement explaining estimated space and display needs in the Tang, and, if applicable, the exhibit's relation or complement to other exhibitions in the Tang schedule or exhibitions in other regional venues;
4. an explanation of how the exhibition will coincide with or complement other college events;
5. a brief timeline of the proposed exhibit's preparation schedule complemented by projection and description of need for released time. This should include a plan of procedure with deadlines for each stage;
6. a statement estimating need for staff and budgetary support within the projected time frame (during what dates will staff be needed, to do what, for how long, etc.);

7. an illustrative list of proposed objects and lenders, with location, availability, sizes, and estimated value of objects. Transportation costs and security requirements should also be included, if they are extraordinary;
8. a letter of support from applicant's department chair appraising the value of the project for the applicant's professional development, if applicable, and indicating that provisions can be made to cover the applicant's released time.

EVALUATION CRITERIA

Exhibition Proposals will be judged by the Faculty Development Committee (the Tang Director and/or Curator will participate as ex officio members in committee review of the proposals) on overall quality, completeness, and feasibility (including budget and staff support). Factors considered include intellectual merit, visual significance and/or effective use of museum space, degree of interdisciplinarity, relevance to college curricula, extent of interest to regional community, timeframe for development, value of proposed exhibition as a supplement/complement to Tang exhibitions, and other regional exhibitions within a two-year cycle of proposed date.

A final report must be submitted to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty at the conclusion of the project.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

ABSOLUTE DEADLINES

FALL ROUND CLOSING DATES: OCTOBER 3, 2005 & NOVEMBER 28, 2005
(for grant period of Jan.1 - Aug. 31)

SPRING ROUND CLOSING DATES: MARCH 6, 2006 & APRIL 24, 2006
(for grant period of June 1 - Dec. 31)

GUIDELINES & PROCEDURES

1. Funds may be used to defray project startup or completion costs or for seed money to finance application for external grants. Faculty members are strongly encouraged to seek support from private foundations and governmental sources for which assistance is available through the Office of the Dean of the Faculty.
2. Expenses should be requested at the completion of the project in the most economical way.
3. Requests for equipment and special materials not ordinarily covered by grants from the Committee should be directed to the appropriate academic chair, program director, and/or the Dean of the Faculty. Proposals for expensive scientific equipment, for example, are better directed to the chair of the department and the Dean of the Faculty for inclusion in operational and capital budgets for the department.
4. Travel reimbursement may cover the cost of transportation, lodging, and food.
5. Subsidy for production or publication shall carry no obligation for repayment. It is expected, however, that grantee(s) will acknowledge support of the College on exhibition or publication.
6. Aid cannot be applied toward reimbursement for work completed nor is aid to be used as honoraria for award recipients.
7. Any equipment purchased under the approved research grant will remain the property of the College after the grant period is completed.
8. Projects funded by the Faculty Development Committee are not intended for personal financial gain. Should financial gain (profit) be realized, faculty members are strongly encouraged to reimburse the College for the costs of the profitable enterprise it has supported.
9. The Faculty Development Committee will advise recipients of awards via US Mail or campus mail and will announce awards by posting the list of recipients and their project titles via email to the faculty-list and by requesting that this list be entered into the minutes of the faculty meeting immediately following announcement of the awards.
10. Deliberations of the Faculty Development Committee are strictly confidential and decisions on awards are not to be discussed with individual committee members. All inquiries regarding awards shall be addressed to the chairperson. Awards will be made for two overlapping periods, January 1 through August 31 and June 1 through December 31.
11. The final narrative report should be submitted to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty within three months of the end of the grant period (no later than December 1 for grants from January through August and April 1 for grants June through December). Failure to do so may result in advances being treated as taxable income and will disqualify the recipient from consideration for all future grants awarded by the Faculty Development Committee.

CRITERIA FOR EVALUATION OF GRANT APPLICATIONS/PROPOSALS

In making awards, the FDC will first consider the excellence of the faculty development proposals. When proposals are comparably meritorious, and when there are insufficient funds to support all meritorious proposals, the FDC will award grants on the basis of the following criteria:

1. proposals will be assessed on their merit. A proposal for scholarly research or creative work will be evaluated relative to the contribution that the project may make to its respective field. In certain instances consultants may be requested for expert advice;
2. untenured, full-time faculty holding tenure track positions will be given preference;
3. proposals from faculty who have not recently received research grants will be considered more favorably than faculty who have recently been granted faculty research money;
4. applications from faculty who have, in the past, used grant money effectively for the pursuit of scholarly or creative work will be considered in a more favorable light than applications from those who have received grants but who have not yet productively employed them;
5. applications from faculty who have not filed completed reports and expense forms on the use of previous grants awarded by the Faculty Development Committee will not be considered.

FORM: APPLICATION FOR SKIDMORE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT GRANT

ABSOLUTE DEADLINES

FALL ROUND CLOSING DATES: OCTOBER 3, 2005 & NOVEMBER 28, 2005
(for grant period of Jan.1 - Aug. 31)

(for grant period of June 1 - Dec. 31)

Faculty Development Grants are designed to help faculty begin new projects or help faculty enhance existing work in pedagogy and/or scholarship. Awards for proposals can range from very modest sums (less than $100) to support a highly specific limited need, to $1,500 to support a more comprehensive design of study and work. Faculty should understand that limits to resources and the wish of the Committee to provide funds for the largest possible number of deserving proposals make it unlikely that proposals requesting more than $1,500 will be supported beyond that limit. The decision to provide partial support (up to $1,500) of proposals requesting more than $1,500 will be influenced by evidence that such support will indeed help launch the related projects and that faculty can and will find the additional funds needed to finance the work they propose.

7. Expected date of completion: ____/____/____

Be sure you submit the following items:

1. a brief project description;
2. a statement of 750 words or less describing the proposed project;
3. an itemized budget of expenses and a report of funds from external sources if the proposed;
4. expenses for your project exceed the Faculty Development Grant award;
5. expected completion date.

Recipients must submit one report for each award.

The report will contain the following information:

1. an expense form and receipts for expenditures that supported the work of the project;
2. a brief written summary (maximum two-pages, double-spaced) for the non-specialist that describes your accomplishments in the project. Be sure to include the following:
 - a. original project objectives;
 - b. location, institution, people visited or consulted during scholarship;
 - c. tangible accomplishments;
 - d. publications;
 - e. next stage of scholarship or this project.

The report should be submitted to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty within three months (no later than December 1 for grants from January through August and no later than April 1 for grants from June through December) of the end of the grant period. Failure to do so may result in advances being treated as taxable income, and will disqualify the recipient from consideration for all future grants awarded by the Faculty Development Committee.

The final report can also be filled out electronically at

The Faculty Development Committee will once again welcome your participation in the selection of the Edwin M. Moseley Faculty Lecturer for 2005-06. The Committee does not provide a special form for submitting a nomination, but would appreciate receiving from you a letter identifying the faculty member and the reasons which lead you to make the nomination. The deadline for submitting nominations is Monday, October 24, 2005. Please send them to the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty.

SABBATICAL LEAVE

CLOSING DATE: JANUARY 16, 2006

The Faculty Development Committee has primary responsibility for evaluating applications for both pre- and post-tenure sabbatical leaves. The deadlines, eligibility requirements, and procedures follow.

DEADLINES

Applications for both pre- and other tenure sabbaticals must be submitted to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty by January 16, 2006.

ELIGIBILITY

1. Pre-tenure Sabbaticals: Non-tenured, tenure-track faculty who are either in their third or fourth years of service to Skidmore College and who have been reappointed are eligible to apply for the following year.
2. Other Sabbaticals: Full-time members of the faculty who are in their sixth year and are candidates for tenure (and full-time members of the Library faculty, and Artists-in-Residence who are in their sixth year and are candidates for reappointment) may apply for sabbatical leave. Tenured faculty who have completed at least six years of service since their last sabbatical leave at Skidmore may also apply. Note, however, that faculty who have received a pre-tenure sabbatical leave must complete six consecutive years of service after such a leave before becoming eligible for a post-tenure sabbatical.

PROCEDURES

The criteria and procedures for evaluating proposals are the same for pre- and post-tenure sabbaticals.

1. Applications are available through the Office of the Dean of the Faculty, or on-line at <http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/dof/fac-dev/fdc/internal/sabbatical/sabbatical.html>
2. A statement of purpose: a detailed plan of work to be pursued and an explanation of the prospective value of the project including plans for publication, exhibition, performance, innovation in pedagogy, preparation of new courses, or modification of existing courses.
3. A letter from the applicant's chair appraising the value of the project for the applicant's professional development and indicating what provisions have been made to cover the applicant's absence.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Other relevant information about sabbatical leaves appears in the Faculty Handbook. If you have questions, please feel free to contact the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty or the Chair of the Faculty Development Committee.

Applications which are funded may be placed in a file accessible to the public, foundations, media, and future applicants.

The faculty member must submit a final report to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty and the chair of the department not later than April 15 in the case of first-semester leaves and November 15 in the case of second-semester or full-year leaves.

Revised 07/06/05

THE RALPH A. CIANCIO AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING

CLOSING DATE: MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2006

The Ralph A. Ciancio Award was established in 2000 in honor of this distinguished faculty member in the English Department of Skidmore College. This annual award recognizes a faculty member at Skidmore College for excellence in teaching. The Faculty Development Committee welcomes nominations and will evaluate the qualifications of nominees on the basis of criteria such as teaching rigor, effectiveness, motivation, knowledge of subject matter and overall dynamism. Nominees must be tenured or be a writer-in-residence, artist-in-residence or a senior teaching associate with at least five years of teaching experience at Skidmore College. Past recipients include John Anzalone, Professor of French (2001-02); Carolyn Anderson, Professor of Theater (2002-03); Gregory Pfitzer, Professor of American Studies (2003-04); Tadahisa Kuroda, The David H. Porter Professor (2004-2005); Ronald P. Seyb, Associate Professor of Government (2005-06).

The Faculty Development Committee does not provide a special form for submitting a nomination but would appreciate receiving from you a letter identifying the faculty member and the reasons that led you to make your nomination. As you report the qualifications of the candidate, please speak to the following:

1. cite evidence that demonstrates the nominee's excellence in teaching according to the guidelines set forth in the Skidmore Faculty Handbook ("Evaluative Criteria for Continued Service");
2. report on the nominee's exemplary performance in areas such as:
 - a. developing lectures and facilitating discussion at levels, appropriate for the students' experience, knowledge, and ability to grasp material;
 - b. clarifying the context and goals for the proceeding of the course and the daily classroom;
 - c. stimulating and challenging students to learn, to interact with the substance of the course, and to move beyond the classroom in the acquisition of knowledge and the solution of problems;
 - d. interacting with students in the classroom and in the office, encouraging curiosity and enthusiasm for learning, inviting, between faculty and students, collaborative learning and scholarship;
 - e. providing teaching excellence at different levels of the curriculum (e.g. introductory classes, advanced classes, etc.);
3. in addition to the nominating letter and teaching evaluations, each nominee for the Ciancio Award should submit the following two items to the FDC, to help provide as full a picture as possible of the nominee's contributions as a teacher at Skidmore:
 - a. a written statement from the nominee;
 - b. a supporting letter from a second Skidmore faculty member (different from the faculty member who submitted the original nomination).

The statement and letter should address the criteria for the Ciancio Award as outlined in the description of the award with emphasis on information that might go unmentioned in teaching evaluations and on information that might more appropriately be addressed by one's peers than by one's students. For example, such information might include descriptions of contributions to teaching that may not be directly observable in the classroom, such as innovative teaching techniques, or the nominee's role in helping to shape the curriculum of one or more programs, or teaching and student mentoring other than in the traditional classroom setting.

The deadline for submitting nominations is February 6, 2006. Please send your nomination and supporting declaration to the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty.

FACULTY RESEARCH INITIATIVE GRANTS

CLOSING DATE: FEBRUARY 6, 2006 - ABSOLUTE DEADLINE

The Faculty Development Committee invites your proposals for the Faculty Research Initiative Grant Program. The deadline for applications is Monday, February 6, 2006.

PROGRAM

The Skidmore College Faculty Research Initiative Grant Program was established to encourage significant scholarly, curricular, and pedagogical efforts beyond the start-up levels funded through Faculty Development Grants. In the spring of 2005, the FDC will make two awards of up to $3,000. The grant period will be between four to twelve months from start to finish. A final report on the project describing the results and significance of the work accomplished, as well as an expense report, is due at the close of that period.

The Faculty Research Initiative is a competitive program open to full-time faculty eligible to return to Skidmore College for 2006-2007. Preference in assigning awards will be given to tenured faculty over non-tenured faculty and to tenure-track faculty over non tenure-track faculty.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Complete the Faculty Research Initiative Grant Form. You may download the form from: <http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/dof/fac-dev/fdc/internal/fdig/initform.doc>
2. Attach a typed statement of up to five pages, double-spaced describing the project in language understandable to the non-specialist. Include information concerning (a) the significance of the project, (b) the goals, (c) your background and previous research experience as it applies to the goals of this project, (d) a protocol/timetable describing how the project will be accomplished and setting the time period of the grant and (e) plans for publication of project results.
3. Supply a current curriculum vitae.
4. Attach one- to two-page budget which itemizes the expenses of the project including price quotations for major items such as equipment, travel, etc. The Faculty Development Initiative Grants may not be used for compensation or for honoraria. Provide information about other grant sources, both internal and external, that are being used in this project or have been requested for this project.
5. Project reviewers. Please submit the names of three to four internal disinterested referees who can judge this project for its worthiness. Applicants are responsible for providing correct addresses and for selecting reviewers who can perform their tasks in a timely manner. The FDC will contact the referees, send them copies of the application, and request their evaluations.
6. Failure to provide required materials will disqualify the candidate from consideration for a Faculty Research Initiative Grant.

FORM: FACULTY RESEARCH INITIATIVE GRANT APPLICATION

CLOSING DATE: MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2006
Recipients must submit one report for each award.

Name: _____

Dept.: _____

Title of Project: _____

Brief Description: Attach a statement of 250 words or less describing the proposed project in language understandable to the non-specialist. The members of the Faculty Development Committee consist of faculty from different disciplines. In your description, make clear the objectives of your project and the means you propose to attain your goals.

Grant Period: _____

Amount of Funds Requested: $_____

Be sure you submit:

1. a project summary of 250 words or less;
2. a typed statement of up to five, double-spaced pages describing the project in language accessible to the non-specialist;
3. a current curriculum vitae;
4. an itemized budget including funding from other grant sources, you will use to support your project;
5. the names and address of three to four internal referees.

The report will contain the following information:

1. an expense form and receipts for expenditures that supported the work of the project;
2. a summary (maximum two-pages, double-spaced) of accomplishments of the project written in language accessible to the non-specialist, including:
 - a. original project objectives;
 - b. location, institution, people visited or consulted during scholarship;
 - c. tangible accomplishments;
 - d. publications;
 - e. next stage of scholarship or this project.

The report should be submitted to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty within three months of the end of the grant period. Failure to do so may result in advances being treated as taxable income and will result in disqualification from future grant opportunities.

The final report can also be filled out electronically at <http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/dof/fac-dev/fdc/internal/fdig/finalrpt.htm>

The applications that are funded may be placed in a file accessible to the public, foundations, media, and future applicants. All materials purchased with the aid of grant funding become the property of Skidmore College when the funded project is completed.

FACULTY/STUDENT COLLABORATIVE RESEARCH

SUMMER 2006

CLOSING DATE: MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2006

PROGRAM

The Summer Collaborative Research Program, initially funded by the W. W. Keck Foundation, enables teams of Skidmore faculty and students to engage in significant projects over a ten-week period during the summer beginning at the end of May. The project should be closely related to the faculty member's curricular, pedagogical, scholarly, or creative interests and should be planned and executed by the student and faculty member working together. The relationship between team members is expected to be truly collaborative; the student is a junior colleague rather than a research assistant. The project should be defined in such a way as to permit completion of a substantial portion of the project by the end of the ten weeks. Each team will give an oral report on the planned project, explaining goals and methods, early in the period; participate in a discussion about the collaborative research program in early July; and submit a final report, demonstration, poster show, or other appropriate activity on progress and achievements at the close. A final written report is due from both the student and faculty member no later than September 15. The project should produce a finished work, such as a jointly-authored paper for publication or presentation at a professional meeting or an artistic work exhibited for public, critical review. The teams may also participate in periodic informal meetings to discuss the collaborative concept and share observations on the research process.

AWARDS

1. Each faculty participant will be given a stipend of $3000.
2. Each student participant will be paid $1550 and receive free room and board at the campus. Because the program emphasizes the sharing of ideas and experiences, students are strongly urged to live on campus. In exceptional circumstances, students may be granted permission by the Faculty Development Committee and/or the Associate Dean of the Faculty to live off campus (in such cases the students will have to provide for their own housing). Whether living on or off campus, students are expected to participate in all collaborative research group activities.
3. Faculty may apply for funds to purchase supplies and equipment of modest cost (not more than $750). Faculty may also request funds to pay for the costs of travel to conferences where they will report the results of their research or further costs of printed publication. The FDC budget for such costs is limited and faculty are urged to use departmental funds as well to help pay for their costs.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Faculty/Student teams wishing to participate in the Collaborative Research Program should submit an application to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty by FEBRUARY 20, 2006. The Faculty Development Committee will communicate its selection of funded proposals to all applicants prior to spring break. The application should consist of the following clearly marked components:

1. the names of the student and faculty team members. Indicate if either has participated in the Collaborative Research Program before, and if so, when they participated;
2. the title of the project;
3. a brief description or abstract of the project (125 words maximum) written in a fashion comprehensible to non specialists;
4. a statement of the goals, proposed activities, and type of the final outcome (e.g., journal article, exhibit, etc.);
5. a brief description of the roles of the student and faculty member in completing the project;
6. an itemized budget, listing the costs of equipment and supplies needed to complete the project;

7. a complete description of the project in languages accessible to the non-specialist;
8. a signed description of project responsibilities written by the student;
9. attach this information to a copy of the guidelines;
10. signatures of both the faculty and student applicants.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

1. Each proposal will be judged on the merits of the project, its feasibility, and the clarity of presentation.
2. Projects which have the potential for generating continuing work of an intellectually stimulating nature after the ten-week period has ended will be favored.
3. Projects which are truly collaborative in nature and in which the student member serves in a collegial relationship with the faculty member will be favored.
4. Where proposals are equivalent in merit, selection of proposals will favor distribution of proposals across the largest possible number of disciplines.
5. In general, proposals from faculty returning to the College for the 2006-07 year will be given priority over proposals from other faculty.
6. This program is available to only those teams that apply to the Faculty Development Committee and are funded through the Keck Collaborative Research Program.
7. Teams will be selected by the Associate Dean of the Faculty following recommendation by the Faculty Development Committee.

CONDITIONS

1. Other summer commitments that either the student or the faculty member may have must not interfere with the demands of this program. Please note that during the grant period students may not enroll in summer school and may not be otherwise employed. Students may not stay on campus beyond the ten-week period for which they have been funded. Respectively, faculty members are discouraged from teaching in summer school or participating in any other grant program during the grant period.
2. Teams are expected to be present for the three group sessions unless prior arrangements have been made with the Associate Dean of the Faculty Development when the awards are accepted.
3. The applications which are funded may be placed in a file accessible to the public, foundations, media, and future applicants.
4. Teams may be asked to participate in programs where they can present reports of their work from the summer to the larger Skidmore community during the succeeding academic year.
5. Work submitted for publication or public presentation should acknowledge the role of the Skidmore College Collaborative Research Program funded in part by the W. M. Keck Foundation.

GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Dormitory assignments are made by the Office of the Dean of Special Programs, which supervises dormitory and facility usage during the summer. Please contact: Wendy LeBlanc, Assistant to the Dean of Special Programs and Coordinator of Summer Services, 4th floor of Palamountain, Ext.5594, email: wleblanc.
2. Similarly, the ODSP sets the dates for the ten-week period to coincide with other programs that it administers. You will be notified of those dates as soon as they are confirmed.

3. If your team requires special services during the summer from the Library (Ruth Copans, College Librarian), the Center for Information Technology Services (Beth DuPont, Director of Academic Technology & Consulting Services), Media Services (T. Hunt Conard, Senior Computing Consultant) or others, you should make appropriate arrangements for this support prior to the end of the spring term.
4. In order to have stipends paid promptly, students must complete W-4 forms in the Payroll Office in Barrett Center prior to their departure at the end of the spring term. Please contact: Joan Rivers, Senior Payroll Specialist, Financial Services, Barrett Center.
5. The names of all collaborative research team members are listed in a computer user group known as collab-res-list. All routine communications about the program will be conveyed to participants via this list, and all participants may reach all others in the group using this list.
6. Questions may be directed to the Associate Dean of the Faculty, 4th Floor Palamountain Hall, Ext. 5705.

FORM: FACULTY/STUDENT SUMMER COLLABORATIVE RESEARCH

APPLICATION FOR SUMMER 2006 - CLOSING DATE: FEBRUARY 20, 2006

If applying via the WEB, the student and faculty person must each submit a separate application.

STUDENT: _____ CLASS _____

TITLE OF THE PROJECT: _____

ABSTRACT/BRIEF DESCRIPTION (attach): written (125 words maximum) in a fashion comprehensible to non specialists.

Goals, proposed activities, and type of final outcome expected (e.g., journal article, presentation at conference, exhibit, performance):

Brief description of the roles of both the student and faculty member in completing the project. Describe how this experience will strengthen the research skills of the student.

ITEMIZED BUDGET (costs of equipment, supplies (not more than $750), travel or any other items needed to complete the project. Teams should not expect additional funding beyond what is proposed in the budget) Teams are awarded, on average, approximately for expenses:

MORE COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT (ATTACH TO APPLICATION):

Be sure you submit:

1. The names of team members
2. The project title
3. An abstract
4. A statement of goals and outcomes
5. A description of faculty and student roles
6. An itemized budget
7. A complete project description
8. A signed description of project responsibilities written by the student
9. Faculty and student signatures

The faculty member must submit one report for each award.

The report will consist of the following:

1. an itemized expense form and receipts for expenditures that supported the work of the project;
2. a brief written summary (maximum two-pages, double-spaced), accessible to the non-specialist, of accomplishments in the project. For projects that engage students in collaborative work, the reports should also highlight particularly valuable educational experiences in which the students were engaged and new abilities the students gained through those experiences.

The report must be submitted to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty by September 15. Failure to do so may result in advances being treated as taxable income and will disqualify the faculty member from future grant opportunities.

Final reports are required from both the faculty and student participants.

The final report can be filled out electronically at

SUMMER TECHNOLOGICAL INNOVATION GRANTS

CLOSING DATE: MONDAY, MARCH 27, 2006

Guidelines

The Summer Technological grants will support projects that elicit increased technological sophistication among the faculty – with results that can benefit students, other faculty, and the curriculum. These grants are awarded primarily to support projects that promise pedagogical innovation. The Faculty Development Committee is particularly interested in projects integrating pedagogy and scholarship, and promising benefits in both arenas. The Committee will consider projects that focus on scholarship alone, but will favor proposals addressing pedagogy and scholarship or pedagogy alone.

● Who should apply?

These grants will support faculty who plan to make increased use of technological/multimedia developments, such as those resources that have been added to several campus classrooms. The applicants will be expected to be able to work relatively independently toward completion of their projects. Typically these faculty members will have participated in the CITS-Scribner Summer Institute and will be reasonably knowledgeable in the topics and techniques covered by the Institute.

Applicants will be faculty who wish to develop additional capabilities essential for enriching pedagogy with the aid of information technology. Thus, developing skills in application of basic technological tools (e.g., elementary use of a word processor, spreadsheet, or database manager) would not qualify as reasons for funding a proposal. Rather, these grants would support a faculty member wishing to develop expertise in the use of a particular piece of equipment or software that will lead to clear and potentially valuable innovation in pedagogy.

For example, these grants might support faculty who wish to develop multimedia presentations (e.g., using Powerpoint, Macromedia Director, or Authorware) that enhance the content or delivery of a course. The grants might support innovative development of web pages that afford students new and imaginative access to information. The grants might support imaginative applications of sophisticated software (e.g. electronic spreadsheets, computer algebra systems, etc.) that guide students to highly interactive work with the content of particular classes or encourage systematic sharing of information that intensifies communications among students and faculty.

● What support will the grants provide?

Each year the Faculty Development Committee will grant a maximum of four Summer Technological Innovation Grants. These grants will provide the following resources:

1. A summer stipend of $1,000 with $500 provided at the beginning of the summer and $500 upon submission of a report that describes the application of the project's findings in the curriculum. All obligations must be completed by the end of the academic year in order to receive the balance of the stipend.
2. Funding (of approximately $500) for acquisition of equipment directly related to the project.
3. Consultation with knowledgeable people from CITS and/or the Library staff.

● What should the proposal include?

1. A one-page abstract of the project written in language that non-experts can understand and evaluate.

2. A clear typed description of the project (one to five pages, double-spaced) specifying the problem or issue to be explored, the gains anticipated from the use of information technology, and the specific course(s) that will employ the proposed innovations.
3. A current curriculum vitae that describes the applicant's qualifications to apply information technology in the ways that they propose. The c.v. should describe how the applicant currently uses technology to support teaching and learning.
4. An itemized budget that describes the costs of all requested equipment and services and justification of how the enumerated resources help accomplish the goals of the project.
5. A plan for dissemination of the information acquired in the project. For instance, we encourage the recipients of these grants to serve as peer mentors at the conclusion of the projects and to make presentations at a Pedagogy Workshop in the subsequent academic year.

● What are the criteria for evaluation?

1. The committee will evaluate proposals for their feasibility, for their evident capacity to attain the declared objectives within the constraints of available time and requested resources. Projects should attain results that afford application in the curriculum within one year of receiving the grant.
2. The Committee will favor proposals from faculty who have not recently received Faculty Development support as contrasted with those faculty who have been supported recently or frequently by the FDC.
3. Applications from faculty who have exhibited effective use of grant money in pursuit of pedagogical, scholarly, or creative work will be considered in a more favorable light than applications from those who have received grants but who have not yet productively employed them.
4. Applications will not be considered from faculty who have not filed complete reports and expense forms related to previous grants from the FDC.
5. Funded applications will be placed in a file accessible to the public, foundations, media, and future applicants.

● To whom should faculty apply?

Faculty should apply by March 27, 2006 to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty. Proposals will be reviewed by the FDC, supplemented by guidance from appropriate technical consultants.

OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF THE FACULTY

INTRODUCTION

Contacts for the Office of the Dean of the Faculty: Muriel Poston (Dean of the Faculty), Sarah W. Goodwin (Associate Dean of the Faculty), and Robert DeSieno (Program Development and Sponsored Research Officer for the Natural Sciences).

TRAVEL POLICY

TRAVEL-TO-READ & TRAVEL-TO-REPRESENT PROGRAMS

DEPARTMENT TRAVEL FUNDS

Skidmore College's support for professional travel is an invaluable component of its commitment to faculty development and one of which faculty should take advantage. Its resources are limited, however, and require responsible action. Reimbursement for travel to speak at another college or university should normally be provided by the host institution, just as Skidmore usually covers expenses of those who Skidmore hosts. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty will, of course, be attentive to rationales provided by applicants for aid.

Increased faculty requests (sometimes multiple requests) for support and the rising costs of travel and registration have placed heavy demands on the budgets for these programs. They require that we live within our means so that we can promote equity, control costs, and administer these funds efficiently, and insure funding for other kinds of faculty development programs. In addition, the College has instituted general guidelines for travel expenses. Please review the Skidmore College Travel Policy for important details.

The Office of the Dean of the Faculty office oversees both the Travel-to-Read and the Travel-to-Represent Programs. In addition to these funding sources, departments are budgeted $500 per full-time faculty member in the travel line of their own budgets, overseen by the chair. Full-time faculty members, whether on campus or on sabbatical leave, may receive reimbursements from the Travel-to-Read or the Travel-to-Represent Programs (up to a total of $1,000 combined) as well as from the departmental travel line as approved by the department chair. Part-time faculty members are eligible for proportional assistance if funds are available. On limited occasions, and at their discretion, chairs may authorize for department members' reimbursement from the departmental travel budget for professional support other than travel.

Temporary faculty serving as sabbatical replacements are not budgeted for departmental travel funds, but they may seek support from the Office of the Dean of the Faculty's Travel-to-Read or Travel-to-Represent Programs. Chairs are eligible for departmental travel funds up to $500; they may, when appropriate, apply for supplementary ad hoc funds.

It is essential to secure timely authorization from the Office of the Dean of the Faculty before making commitments to be reimbursed from Travel-to-Read and Travel-to-Represent Programs. Faculty need also to allow ample time for processing requests for advances. Requests can be made by contacting the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty, or by completing and submitting the travel request form that can be found on the web at:

<http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/dof/fac-dev/forms/travel.htm>

Faculty should observe the College's current travel policies available on-line

SKIDMORE COLLEGE TRAVEL AND ENTERTAINMENT POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004

GENERAL INFORMATION

PURPOSE

These policies are intended as a guide to reimburse individuals for College-related travel and entertainment expenses. The responsibility to observe the guidelines rests both with the traveler and the chairperson or administrator who certifies conformance to these guidelines by approving the expenditure(s). This policy applies to anyone who incurs travel or entertainment expenses paid by Skidmore College, regardless of the source of funds. The College will reimburse for reasonable travel, meals, lodging and out-of-pocket expenses incurred in the transaction of College business. This document outlines policies and procedures in general terms to allow reasonable discretion for travelers. Departments may implement more restrictive policies and procedures that departmental personnel should adhere to. The policy is not expected to cover every possible situation. Federally funded awards may have additional requirements.

RESPONSIBILITY

These policies and procedures are also necessary to comply with Federal tax law and third party sponsoring agency regulations. They will ensure consistent and fair treatment between departments throughout the College and the uniform reporting of financial results. In general, the quality of travel, accommodations, entertainment and related expenses should be governed by what is reasonable and appropriate to the purpose involved. The College respects the personal integrity and discretion of each member of its faculty and staff and conducts expense account affairs accordingly. Skidmore's travel meets the IRS definition of an "accountable plan." As a result, travel reimbursements do not have to be reported as income to the traveler. Under the accountable plan, travel advances and reimbursement of expenses must meet three requirements:

1. they must have paid or incurred deductible expenses while performing services as your employees;
2. travelers must provide a statement substantiating the amount, time, use and business purpose of expenses within a reasonable amount of time (not to exceed 60 days) after the expenses are incurred. Original receipts must be attached to the statement;
3. employees must return any advance amounts in excess of substantiated expenses within a reasonable period of time (not to exceed 60 days).

If an employee does not substantiate expenses and/or return any excess advance within a reasonable period of time (60 days), this amount must be treated as if it were paid under a non-accountable plan and must be treated as salary, subject to withholding, on the employee's Form W-2.

In order for business travel expense reimbursements to remain tax-free to the employee, the policies and procedures that follow must be adhered to.

SKIDMORE COLLEGE TRAVEL POLICY

MODES OF TRAVEL

The most cost effective mode of travel should be used based on itinerary.

● Air Travel

- Appropriate for travel beyond a 200-mile radius from campus
- Arrangements should be made through the Skidmore travel on-line website at (<http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/travel/>) by using a personal credit card or your corporate VISA card, not your departmental purchasing card. We encourage use of the corporate card because the College receives a rebate based on the total volume of the card usage.
- If you find a more economical flight outside of the College travel website, please book it.
- Coach travel only (otherwise individual covers incremental cost)
- Personal excess baggage charges, flight insurance, etc. are not reimbursed
- The College is not responsible for costs associated with lost luggage (in extenuating circumstances, please discuss with your Supervisor or Chair)
- Credit card bill is mandatory for airline ticket reimbursement prior to trip

● Personal Automobile

When employees use their own vehicle on authorized College business, it is their personal insurance policy that is primary coverage for liability and physical damage coverage. It is important that the individual have adequate coverage, as Skidmore's insurance provides non-ownership liability for exposure to the College only (this means the insurance covers only the College in the event of a lawsuit).

- Appropriate for travel within a 200-mile radius of campus
- Reimbursed at 40.5 cents per business mile (adjusted annually per IRS guidelines)
- Tolls and parking fees reimbursed at actual cost
- Gas, oil, repairs, maintenance, fines, etc. are not reimbursed
- The College will reimburse personal insurance deductible for damages sustained while on business when employee is not at fault (police report required)

● Automobile Rental

The College's insurance provides for both liability and physical damage for employees who rent vehicles while on authorized College business. The coverage extends for car rentals in the US, Canada, Puerto Rico and US territories (therefore please waive the rental agency's insurance coverage). For vehicles rented in a foreign country - the College's international policy covers liability only, and therefore, you must secure physical damage coverage from the rental agency. If any rental vehicle will be in your custody for a period in excess of 30 days, please notify Business Services. Employee's personal effects, while within the vehicle are not covered by College insurance unless the vehicle is no more than 1000 feet from campus (limit of $25,000). If a loss or damage occurs to your personal property outside of this radius, please submit the loss directly to your homeowners/renters insurance.

- Local rental appropriate only when cost effective
- Luxury vehicles not allowed
- Collision damage coverage is not reimbursed

- Return car with full gas tank. Refueling charges by the rental agency are not normally reimbursed

● Train Travel

- Encouraged when cost effective, especially to New York City
- Recommend arrangements to be made through the College travel website. Contact AAA if assistance is needed.
- Coach travel only (otherwise individual covers incremental cost)

LODGING, MEALS, AND INCIDENTALS

● Lodging

- Lodging costs should be kept to a minimum
- Cost reimbursed up to $130 per night
- Cost reimbursed up to $200 in High Cost Areas* (see list below). Conference rates are reimbursable
- Staying with friends or family is encouraged (appropriate gift is reimbursed, up to $50)

● Sales Tax Exemption (hotel rooms)

- Exempt from sales tax in New York, Florida, Massachusetts, and Connecticut
- Obtain appropriate forms from Accounts Payable or from Purchasing web page (NY only)
- Some states accept NYS exemption; check with vendor

● Meals and Incidentals

- Actual cost of meals and incidentals up to an average of $60 per full day is reimbursed
- For partial days, allowance is $10 breakfast, $15 lunch, $30 dinner, $5 incidentals
- For High Cost Areas* an additional $20 per day is reimbursable
- If conference fees include meals, daily allowance is reduced accordingly (see above)
- Entertainment expenses (meals for guests) should be reported separately

Note: if the cost exceeds the above guidelines - Director or Chair must approve.

- Reimbursable incidentals include such things as tips, brief phone calls home, and laundry
- Personal hygiene items, child care, etc. are not reimbursed
- Personal entertainment (movies, games, etc) are not reimbursed
- In an effort to promote a healthy lifestyle, we will reimburse health club fees if the hotel that you are staying at does not have a fitness room for use free of charge

SKIDMORE COLLEGE POLICY ON ENTERTAINMENT AND SPECIAL GESTURES

GENERAL PURPOSE

- Reasonable expenses when interacting with external constituencies are reimbursed (trustees, donors, alumni, parents, vendors, job candidates, professional guests, etc.).
- Interactions among faculty/staff/students are not generally reimbursed.

ENTERTAINMENT

● Meals

- Expenses for local dining involving non-College personnel are reimbursable when the purpose of the meeting is to conduct College business and when it is necessary or desirable to have the meeting in conjunction with, or during a meal. This includes our guests such as speakers, visiting artist, writers etc. Reimbursement up to $40 per person. Please use the Downtown Discount Business Cards whenever possible (available from Purchasing).

Note: if the cost exceeds the above guidelines - Director or Chair must approve.

- Entertainment expenses should be reasonable in relation to the nature of the function and the resulting business benefit expected to be derived from the expenditure. A list of names must be indicated on the expense report along with the purpose of the entertainment. Some examples of this type of entertainment would be for alumni functions and entertaining donors or prospective donors.
- Generally no more than two or three faculty/staff should dine off-campus with each guest
- Spouse/partner may be included if guest's spouse/partner is present

● Entertainment of Students

- Light refreshments for receptions, lectures, and other special events are reimbursable. (Food Service should cater such events if more economical)
- Occasional entertainment of student volunteers by Chairs/Directors as a "thank you" is reimbursable
- Occasional (at most once per semester) inexpensive entertainment (pizza, etc.) of paid student workers by Chairs/Directors as a "thank you" is reimbursable.

● Entertainment of Faculty/Staff Members

- Entertainment of fellow faculty/staff is not normally reimbursed.
- The College will not normally pay for meals (on or off campus) for faculty/staff meetings.
- Annual staff retreats are reimbursable; such events should be budgeted and charged to Account Number 7430.
- Individual Faculty/staff going away parties, retirement, or holiday celebrations are not reimbursed. (Campus wide parties must be catered by Food Service)

SPECIAL GESTURES

● Gifts

- Individual and /or departmental gifts for parting, retirement, thank you, holidays, etc. are not reimbursed.
- A gift for the non-faculty/staff host of a gathering is reimbursable up to $50.

● Illness, Birth and Condolence Gestures

- For employee inpatient hospital stays, please contact Human Resources and they will send an appropriate gift (approximately $35).
- For birth or adoption, the College will send a $50 savings bond and congratulatory card (contact Human Resources).
- In case of death of member of employee's immediate family, the College will send a memorial contribution of $25 (contact Human Resources).
- Further gestures made by individuals are not reimbursed.

REPORTING AND APPROVAL OF EXPENDITURES

- Entertainment expenses should be charged to Account Number 7420.
- Requests for reimbursement must be on Check Request Form indicating date, purpose, and names of those participating.
- Original receipts for all items $10 or over must be attached; receipts for all expenditures are encouraged.
- Check Request Form must be approved by supervisor, Director, or Chair.
- Reimbursement up to $250 paid in cash, otherwise by check.

EXCEPTIONS TO THE POLICY

- Exceptions must be recommended by the President or appropriate Dean or Vice President (in such cases please submit written explanation to Accounts Payable), but final disbursement authority rests with the Office of Financial Services.

SUMMER WORKSHOPS

Skidmore College has offered a variety of workshops each summer in response to faculty/student/administration needs. For more than ten years it has sponsored the Liberal Studies Workshop to help generate courses to deliver the Liberal Studies program. There have also been workshops that have promoted courses in writing, quantitative reasoning and workshops to encourage diversity and understanding of information technologies as well as assessment. There will be announcements in the spring to explain which workshops will be held and to provide information about the application process.

Those interested in giving a workshop should contact the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty by March 15, 2006.

PEDAGOGY WORKSHOPS

This is a series of programs offered throughout the academic year in which faculty gather to engage pedagogical issues, typically in a workshop format. Planned to address current campus initiatives, the programs involve faculty presenters who share their work in refining and expanding their teaching skills and strategies. Initiated in the spring of 1994, the programs have included presentations on the canon, connections between teaching and research, and writing in the disciplines. A schedule of programs will be issued early in each semester. You are cordially invited to attend.

NYU FACULTY RESOURCE NETWORK

The Faculty Resource Network is a faculty enrichment consortium of forty-one smaller liberal arts colleges and universities and New York University. The Network has been in existence since 1984 and serves all faculty members from member institutions and affiliated consortia. Programs are broad-based and wide-ranging, addressing topics in the humanities, natural sciences, social sciences, education, and new technology.

Member institutions include: Benedict College, Bennett College, Chaminade University, Chicago State University, Clark Atlanta University, College of New Rochelle, Dillard University, Fairfield University, Hampton University, Huston-tillotson College, Johnson C. Smith University, Manhattan College, Manhattanville College, Marymount College, Marymount Manhattan College, Morehouse College, New York University, Ramapo College, Richard Stockton College, Saint Peter's College, Spelman College, Talladega College, Tougaloo College, Union College, University of Hartford, University of the Sacred Heart, Wagner College, and Xavier University.

The Network offers lectures, performances, and special events throughout the year for faculty of member institutions. The Network provides other opportunities. First, the Network sponsors one-week long summer seminars on a variety of topics. There has been discussion about topics for the coming year such as new techniques for teaching foreign languages and another on the Sixties. Jordana Dym in History, Dan Curley in Classics, Viviana Rangil in Foreign Languages & Literatures, David Vella in Mathematics, Tom Denny in Music, Ruth Andrea Levinson in Education and Loretta Parsons in Biology, have been recent participants from Skidmore. Second, the Network invites applications for Associates, who will have library privileges and, depending on availability, a New York University faculty host to discuss topics of mutual interest. Although there is no stipend associated with this program, Skidmore faculty may seek financial assistance from Faculty Development grants or from the Ad Hoc funds administered by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty to help with travel costs. Third, the Network accepts a limited number of scholars in residence, usually for a term or summer (though a shorter time period may be arranged during a semester).

or one month in the summer, for whom housing and library privileges are provided. This program may fit neatly with sabbatical leaves of Skidmore faculty. Rob Linrothe of Art History, Michael Arnush of Classics, Linda Simon of English, Lary Opitz of Theater, Tom Denny of Music, and Joanna Zangrando of American Studies have enjoyed the privilege of being a Scholar-in-Residence. Fourth, faculty who may require short-term housing to pursue professional interests in New York City may request housing at NYU at a very moderate rate on an as-available basis.

There are other potentially useful ways to tap into the Network. Faculty who are working on grant proposals may benefit from a reading by NYU faculty members who have been successful applicants. Those who want to initiate a summer workshop or seminar may find colleagues at Network institutions to be supportive.

You may reach the Network by e-mail at frn@nyu.edu or on their web site at www.nyu.edu/frn.

Joanna Zangrando, Professor of American Studies and Director of Liberal Studies, is the Skidmore liaison officer for the Network.

HUDSON MOHAWK ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITIES

The Interdisciplinary Seminars

The Hudson Mohawk Association of Colleges and Universities is a consortium of twenty-one institutions of higher education in Upstate New York and Western Massachusetts. The focus of the Association is to enhance its member's activities through collaboration. Specifically, at the direction of the Board of Trustees, these efforts apply to professional development, resource sharing, diversity, and access. The Association acts as an organizational force to bring professionals on campus together with their colleagues at other institutions. In addition, the Association sponsors community events such as the College Fair, Parent's Information Night, the Caravan to local high schools and community connection with secondary education.

The consortium also offers a program of interdisciplinary seminars for eight to fifteen faculty members from member institutions. For more information on how to propose a seminar, please contact the Hudson Mohawk Association at mmail@hudsonmohawk.com.

NOTES ON PREPARING PROPOSALS FOR EXTERNAL FUNDING

At Skidmore College, faculty and academic departments often seek external funding to support innovation in the curriculum, modernization of departmental programs, or resources that aid personal scholarship. Getting and spending oblige faculty to know about sources of funds, the opportunities and constraints that accompany external funding, and the consequences of forming grant-based agreements with foundations. These notes explore issues and supply information that is helpful when faculty write proposals to seek external funding. We urge authors of proposals to communicate their plans and objectives to all appropriate officers and departments of the College, so these officers are aware of the educational, logistical, administrative, and financial consequences in the search for and receipt of external dollars. The web site: http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/dof/fac-dev/fdc/external/extproposal_fm.htm reports the offices and people to inform of your proposal before you submit the request to a funding agency.

A request for external funding to support curricular or scholarly endeavor begins with an individual or group of faculty who describe the methods and objectives of a project they plan to pursue. Early discussion by the principal investigator (PI) with a member of the Dean of the Faculty staff (Associate Dean and/or the Sponsored Research Officer [SRO]) alerts the Office of the Dean of the Faculty to objectives for the project and initiates support for proposal preparation.

Typically, the Director of Foundation and Corporate Relations assists with proposals that exhibit institutional emphases: projects that engage groups of faculty or entire departments, and initiatives that are likely to have broadly based impact on the campus. The Director usually does not assist with proposals directed to federal agencies, though that director will consult and offer guidance or information that might be helpful for faculty.

Conversation between the PI and the DoF staff will focus on the following issues:

1. educational and or scholarly objectives;
2. people who will participate;
3. communications with departmental chairs, and appropriate administrative offices;
4. methods that will achieve the objectives;
5. means of assessing the outcome;
6. plans for continuing the work after the external funding has been exhausted;
7. staffing implications;
8. space implications;
9. financial implications: support for direct and indirect costs sought from the foundation and from Skidmore College;
10. federal regulation implications

The PI, in cooperation with the appropriate Dean or with the SRO, then writes a two-page summary that expresses the goals of the project, the reasons it is important to attain these goals, why the faculty and Skidmore are the right people and institution to launch the project, the methods that will aid in attaining the goals, and a preliminary budget that reports costs and intervals of time required to complete the project. This summary will provide the appropriate Dean and/or the Foundation/Corporate Relations Officer with the fundamental issues that they can use to prepare a brief letter that describes the project and speaks to the interests of the foundation officer with whom they will communicate.

With the summary complete, faculty can search for foundations likely to be interested in the project. The Faculty Development web page offers a timely and diverse collection of information on foundations (private and public) and their funding interests. Conversation with the SRO and with the Director of Foundation and Corporate Relations will help reveal other funding agencies likely to consider support of the project.

Once the PI has identified appropriate foundations, he or she should request guidelines from the foundation to confirm that the foundation really is interested in the kind of initiative that the PI proposes. The PI or a DOF staff member, in a phone conversation with an officer of the foundation, explores the outline of the project to gain the reactions and recommendations of the program officer.

If the officer expresses interest, preparation of a complete proposal (narrative and budget) is the next step. Federal grant programs and private foundations frequently exhibit different expectations for proposals. Federal agencies insist upon comprehensive descriptions of projects that explore the problem the project will engage, the goals and objectives of the project, the plan for attaining those ends, and means of assessing the results of the project in addition to other issues summarized in the outline below. Private foundations also expect clear descriptions of the project, though the level of detail and degree of development may not be as great as that required by federal agencies. Discussion with the appropriate Dean, the SRO, and with the Foundation/Corporate Relations Officer will help the PI select the appropriate depth of proposal description.

Once a foundation has reflected upon the initial inquiry and invited submittal of a full proposal, the PI can work with the appropriate Dean, the SRO, or with the Foundation/Corporate Relations Officer to write a complete proposal. A complete proposal usually exhibits the following content:

1. Title page
 - a. the name of the foundation that will receive the proposal;
 - b. Skidmore College and its address; project title;
 - c. the principal investigator and his or her department;
 - d. the phone number, FAX number, and e-mail address of the PI;
 - e. the time interval for the project;
 - f. a signature line for the PI and for the officer representing the College.
2. An abstract: a brief typewritten summary of the significance of the project, how it will be achieved, and over what time interval.
3. Table of contents
4. Project description: a full and well-organized discussion of the problem to be addressed that includes the following information:
 - a. the goals (qualitative) of the project;
 - b. the influence of the project upon current circumstances in need of improvement, that is, what are the benefits of the proposed solution;
 - c. particular objectives and design for measuring how well the project gains on these objectives;
 - d. detail of how the project team will do what it promises to complete;
 - e. qualifications of the people who will operate the project;
 - f. identity of external reviewers for the project, people interested and qualified to assess the merits of the proposed project objectives and success in achieving those ends;
 - g. the means for disseminating the findings of the project on campus and to other colleges.
5. Description of essential travel for the project

6. Institutional profile: a brief description of Skidmore and its history and programs, particularly as these matters provide context for the proposed project.
7. Budget: the budget is a profile of the project described in dollars that will support attainment of the project objectives. Project costs divide into direct (those required to support the particular actions of the project) and indirect (those that supply assistance to and or management of the project, e.g., secretarial assistance, maintenance of information technology equipment, routine supplies). Indirect costs are usually negotiated with the funding agency, though in the case of federal funding, such costs, depending upon the federal agency may be defined by an agreement that Skidmore College (through the Director of Financial Services) has negotiated with the federal government. The SRO will assist faculty with these matters.

DIRECT COSTS FOR THE PROJECT

- Salaries, wages, stipends for faculty, students, and staff; the time committed to the project for each salary or wage should be reported in the budget plan.
 - Stipends for participants in the project from other institutions.
 - Room and board.
 - Benefits such as FICA and Medicare premiums or retirement contributions.
 - Consumable supplies.
 - Essential equipment (hardware and software).
 - Construction or renovation of space.
 - Directly related travel.
 - Consultants.
 - Publication.
 - Duplication.
 - Cost sharing (evidence of financial commitment by Skidmore College to the project).
8. Resumes: of the principal participants in the project
 9. Appendices: essential information for establishing the context of the project (financial, logistical, staffing, design)
 10. Submission of the proposal: proposals will be submitted to the funding agency either by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty or by the Office of Foundation and Corporate Relations. The PI, working with the Associate Dean(s) or with the SRO deliver the completed proposal to the Dean's Office at least ten days before the deadline for submitting the proposal to the selected foundation. If the research employs human subjects, the PI must acquire the endorsement of the Institutional Review Board before submitting the proposal to a foundation.

Once the proposal is complete, the PI must obtain endorsement of the College officers listed on the form at the following website:

http://www.skidmore.edu/administration/dof/fac-dev/fdc/external/extproposal_fm.htm

SKIDMORE COLLEGE ~ POLICY FOR EXTERNAL INSTITUTIONAL GRANTS

This information is meant to complement key material on sponsored research and faculty-originated institutional grants that may be found on the Office of the Dean of the Faculty web page. In particular, “Grant Preparation Assistance” contains specific information about idea development and proposal preparation. The focus here is more general, and pertains mainly to institutional grants that arise as a result of RFPs (requests for proposals) or of the initiative of the president or the deans, although it relates as well to faculty-originated grants with a departmental or institutional focus.

INTRODUCTION

The College seeks external funding, particularly from foundations, to advance key institutional priorities. Just as well, institutional grants can encourage, respond to, and reward faculty creativity and initiative. It is also true that, by virtue of their resources, both financial and scholarly, leading foundations are engaged in important conversations about the direction of higher education in America. Foundations seek partners in these conversations, and, consistent with our standing as a leading liberal arts institution, Skidmore would like to be seen as a valued partner.

The only way we can achieve this goal, however, is by demonstrating to foundations that we are an institution where creativity, innovation, and pedagogical and scholarly achievement thrive. We make educational leaders/foundation personnel sit up and take notice mainly by proposing creative, innovative funding ideas and by implementing funded programs effectively. This is also why, in addition to the important goal of advancing institutional goals, Skidmore must be active in the foundation grants arena.

If we are not demonstrating creativity and innovation, either through our implementation of grants or by not applying for certain grants in the first place, we lose in two key ways. We lose our place at the table, so to speak—the opportunity to be on the radar screen of leading foundations, to be on “A-lists” of colleges that receive important RFPs, and to be part of important national conversations about shaping the direction of higher education in America. Another consequence of not applying for, or not getting, grants is that, well, we don’t get the grants, and since many, or most, of our peer institutions are applying for and getting these grants, we fall behind them in terms of innovation, with the attendant drop in reputation.

To summarize, then, it is vitally important to the College’s academic standing that we continue to apply, both proactively and reactively (via RFPs), for key foundation (and to a lesser extent, corporate) grants, and that we implement them in a creative and innovative fashion. One implication of this conclusion is that faculty members, as the essential site of Skidmore’s pedagogical and scholarly creativity, must be willing to propose, help develop, and implement creative funding ideas.

FRAMEWORK

Funding ideas may come from within or foundations may invite proposals (RFPs) for particular projects. The appropriate Dean, in consultation with the President and others, makes the initial determination whether to pursue a funding idea or an RFP. Following this initial determination, an ad-hoc committee is formed, consisting of representatives from the appropriate administrative offices and faculty departments/programs, to develop the project (and the proposal). The Director of Financial Planning and Budgeting is always kept in the loop and has important input regarding budget considerations.

Grant projects will be announced to academic staff as part of the regular meeting agenda, and this group will be charged with keeping their colleagues informed as they would about any matter of institutional academic import. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty will inform/consult with faculty committees as appropriate, especially in the case of major institutional grants.

FACULTY RESPONSIBILITIES

1. People on project development committees are responsible for keeping their colleagues informed of their work.
2. People whose departments are involved in a funding opportunity, but who do not serve on the development committee, are responsible for keeping themselves abreast of proposal/project developments. "Keeping abreast" includes the responsibility to make one's voice heard if one is unhappy with the direction in which the proposal is moving.
3. Once a proposal has been funded, faculty members are responsible for supporting the work their colleagues have performed to develop/create the successful project

ADMINISTRATION RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Notify all members of involved departments/programs about grant opportunities.
2. Notify the community at large, at least via regular communication with Academic Staff, of grants the College is pursuing.
3. Involve representatives from appropriate departments/programs/offices in program/proposal development.
4. Notify/involve faculty committees of grant activities as appropriate.

NB: The administration also has a responsibility to the funding agency to execute a funded grant essentially as proposed. Program grants naturally undergo a certain evolution in the course of their lives. Nevertheless, a successful grant proposal is an agreement between the College and the funding agency whereby the agency agrees to fund a particular program and the College agrees to carry out that program essentially as proposed. Significant alterations to a successful proposal, at least in the short-term, are not normally possible.

ADDITIONAL FACULTY OPPORTUNITIES THROUGH THE DEAN'S OFFICE

INSTITUTE OF HISTORICAL RESEARCH - UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Skidmore College through the history department belongs to the Institute of Historical Research. Situated in the heart of Bloomsbury, close to the British Library and other specialist centers of research, the institute is an important resource and meeting place for scholars from all over the world. It contains an open-access library and a common room, publishes works of reference, administers a number of research projects, and runs courses and conferences.

ACADEMIC CAREER NETWORK - ACN

The Academic Career Network comprises several overlapping clusters of academic institutions in western New England and eastern, upstate New York. Through their participation in the Network, member institutions can provide faculty partners and spouses with the following:

1. the ability to post a c.v. and/or resume in a searchable database accessible to prospective employers at member schools;
2. access to members' employment pages, as well as those of other regional colleges and universities, through a password-protected Web site;
3. notification via e-mail should a position that matches one's qualifications become available (in some cases, such notification would come in advance of a more public posting);
4. career development seminars and/or events designed to facilitate networking with peers and prospective employers.

More information can be obtained at the Network's Web site:

<http://acn.fivecolleges.edu>

or by contacting the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty

ADDITIONAL FACULTY OPPORTUNITIES THROUGH THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF STUDIES OR INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

DIRECTOR OF THE SKIDMORE IN LONDON PROGRAMS

Faculty interested in serving as on-site director of the Skidmore in London Program for freshmen during the fall semester or the Skidmore in London Program for juniors during the spring semester should notify the Director of the Office of International Programs. This office typically makes announcements of available London Program opportunities a year or two in advance of the program dates (the post is currently filled through spring 2006). Appointments are made after consultation and review by the OIP Director, the Dean of Studies, the appropriate department chair, and the Office of the Dean of the Faculty.

INSTITUTE FOR THE INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION OF STUDENTS

IES, one of Skidmore's central study abroad affiliations, periodically sponsors "familiarization trips" to program sites abroad, faculty seminars on cultural and academic topics, and foreign language seminars for language instructors. IES also organizes an "Associate" program" designed for faculty on sabbatical who would like to spend one or two months at the location of an IES Center abroad. Faculty Associates are expected to participate in the academic life of a Center--for example, by giving a series of lectures open to the community, by team teaching for part of a term with one of the IES faculty members, by offering a special seminar for IES and/or host country students, or by serving as a consultant on one of the languages programs. The Center will assist the Associate in making local research contacts at the Center site and help locate housing.

The Director of the Office of International Programs will alert appropriate faculty to the site visit opportunities. Faculty who might be interested in the Associate Program should contact the Director of OIP for details.

ASE RESEARCH GRANTS - SUMMER AND FALL 2006

CLOSING DATE: FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2006

Through Skidmore's affiliation with Advanced Studies in England (ASE), two or three grants up to $1,000 each are available to Skidmore faculty who wish to pursue research in England during the summer or fall 2006. Funds may be applied toward expenses for travel, lodging, meals, and research costs incurred during the time spent abroad.

Applications for the ASE grants will be judged by their potential benefit both to the ongoing work of the individual faculty member and the College (for example, course development, enhancement of programs for study abroad, etc.). Preference will be given to applications that demonstrate the most specific need for work on site in England, particularly (but not exclusively) at the two ASE locations of Bath and Oxford.

The ASE Grants are awarded through the offices of the Dean of the Faculty and the Dean of Studies in consultation with the Skidmore faculty liaison for ASE and the Faculty Development Committee. Letters of application outlining anticipated expenses and the nature and duration of the proposed research should be sent to the Associate Dean of the Faculty in the Office of the Dean of the Faculty by Friday, February 24, 2006. Faculty members are welcome to explore their possible interest in the ASE opportunities the Associate Dean of the Faculty or with the Associate Director of the Dean of Studies Office.

OPPORTUNITY TO TEACH IN BATH, ENGLAND - SUMMER 2007

CLOSING DATE: JANUARY 27, 2006

Skidmore has the opportunity to propose to the Director of Advanced Studies in England, our affiliate study abroad program, a faculty member to teach in Bath, England, for summer 2007. The disciplines most likely to “fit” the ASE curriculum include Art and Art History, Classical Studies, Education, English, Government, History, International Affairs, Philosophy, and Women’s Studies. (Faculty from all disciplines are welcome to apply, however.) The interested faculty member must propose a course focused on some aspect of British life and culture and be prepared to advertise the summer study opportunity to Skidmore students (and to secure the participation of at least seven students). Previous faculty who have taught at ASE and their course titles include Catherine Golden, “In Search of the Brontes: Text on Location;” Michael Arnush and Leslie Mechem, “Roman Britain;” and Susannah Mintz, “Personal Essay: Beyond the Boundaries of Form.” Courses run five weeks. The summer 2007 schedule has not yet been published, but, as an approximation, Summer 2004 ran from June 5-July 11. Faculty members who have previously taught in Bath will be happy to advise other faculty interested in the program. Students enroll in the course sponsored by their home institution and one other course for a total of eight credits. The faculty member receives roundtrip airfare, housing in Bath, and a small honorarium.

Course proposals and statements of interest and background must be submitted no later than Friday, January 27, 2006. In reviewing proposals, we will consider the course’s relationship to Bath or Britain, the course’s potential appeal for students, the likelihood that the faculty member will recruit at least seven students for summer study, the international experience of the faculty member, and his or her ability to work flexibly and creatively with the academic as well as personal transition problems that some students experience when they study abroad. We are unable to consider any courses related to Jane Austen or 18th century Bath architecture as both of these topics are taught in summer term core courses by ASE staff.

The academic and administrative quality of the ASE program in Bath is of the highest caliber, as attested to by Skidmore’s decision eleven years ago to affiliate with the program. The faculty and students in Bath are very well supported by ASE staff, are hosted with great generosity, and the camaraderie among the faculty and students has proved to be another reward of the program. Bath is a delightful, architecturally “planned” eighteenth-century city with Roman roots and its own diverse range of cultural and culinary pleasures. It is also centrally located for travel to other cities such as London (1 hour 20 minutes), Oxford, and Stratford. Please indicate your interest by January 27, 2006.

The selection committee will include the Associate Dean of the Faculty; the Faculty Liaison to ASE (TBA); and Tina Levith, Associate Director in the Dean of Studies Office. The successful course proposal will be submitted to ASE in Bath along with other affiliate proposals. The final selection of summer 2007 courses is expected by the end of March 2006.

OPPORTUNITIES THROUGH NON-AFFILIATED PROGRAMS

Throughout the year, the Office of International Programs receives information regarding overseas faculty development opportunities that are sponsored by non-affiliated programs. These opportunities include site visits in which faculty are asked to evaluate a particular non-affiliated program or international education conferences that are specific to a particular discipline and are held overseas. The Director of the Office of International Programs will communicate with the Dean of the Faculty or with the appropriate department chair as these opportunities arise. Occasionally, the Office of International Programs is able to provide a small subsidy to support faculty involvement in one of these programs.
