ED 100 - Foundations Of Early Childhood Education and Classroom Teaching

Credits: 3    Tuesday/Thursday 2:10pm – 3:30pm    Mary Ellen Towne

The study of child development and educational practice as it pertains to young children from birth through eight years of age. The course explores the history of early childhood programs and a consideration of different program models. The course will also explore four core elements of early childhood education: children, teachers, classrooms and curriculum. Students will engage in extensive observation and participate in the Early Childhood Center (ECC) classroom and visit off-campus environments to strengthen understanding of models of early education, and to reflect upon and interpret their experiences in journal writing and through classroom discussions and activities.

Note: Not for liberal arts credit.

ED 103 - Introduction to Teaching

Credits: 3    Monday/Wednesday 1:25pm – 2:45pm    Christine Dawson

Consideration of the role of the teacher, the nature of the learner, conceptions of teaching, factors affecting instructional decisions, philosophies of education that guide the practice of teaching, curriculum innovations and trends, and the school as an institution. Includes observation and field work in local schools, K–12.

ED 115 - School and Society

Credits: 4    Tuesday/Thursday 12:40pm – 2:00pm    Hope Casto

An introduction to the foundations of American education exploring the historical, philosophical, and social contexts of schooling. Students will explore the purposes of education within a democracy where the goals are influenced by politics, the law, global competitiveness, multiculturalism, and social justice, and examine the nineteenth-century Common School period, twentieth-century standardization and consolidation, and twenty-first-century plans for school choice. Students study the intersections of race, culture, immigration status, language, gender, sexual orientation, and ability with education.

Note(s): Required of majors. (Fulfills social science requirement.)
ED 200 - Child Development and Learning

Credits: 3, 4       Tuesday/Thursday 9:40am – 11:00am       Joan Swanson

A study of basic facts, issues, and methods of inquiry in human development from conception to adolescence. The course covers theory and research relating to the physical, cognitive, social, and emotional development of children and emphasizes the impact of child developmental knowledge on instruction. Students will have the opportunity to extend their knowledge through observations and service-learning opportunities.

ED 261A – 1000 Books

Credits 1    Tuesday 12:40pm – 2:00pm    Julie Lewis

The 1000 Books program promotes early literacy development through the enjoyment of hearing books read aloud, provides a basic familiarity with print, and fosters an appreciation of children’s literature with pre-school children in order to prevent reading problems in the primary grades. Skidmore students mentor children who are enrolled in the home-based Head Start program on a weekly basis in the child’s home for one hour. Skidmore mentors meet weekly with 1000 Books coordinator for a one and a half hour discussion and preparation for the morning mentoring sessions. Skidmore mentors keep weekly journals and assessments of the mentoring sessions and the child’s progress. Students also have weekly readings assigned and reflection assignments based on their readings.

ED 334 - Practicum in Integrated Curriculum and Instruction

Credits: 4    Wednesday 8:40am – 12:30pm    Christine Dawson

Prepares students to make informed decisions related to curriculum and instruction in elementary education. Topics include lesson planning, choosing resources to support student learning, applying various instructional strategies including the use of technology, using assessment data to strengthen the teaching and learning process, and learning to use self-evaluation and reflection. The social studies curriculum will be the focus for modeling integrated teaching.

Prerequisites: Open only to juniors admitted to the professional sequence. Taken concurrently with ED 335 and ED 336.
